THIS page of the Petosegan is devoted to our faculty as a means of expressing the gratitude and commendation of the school board, school officials, student body and the parents of the students attending Petoskey High School, for the fine work that the teaching staff has accomplished this year towards the advancement of education.

The Faculty, performing the seemingly easy duties of fitting us for further preparation for our life's work, has one of the most difficult of tasks. Instructing young people in the ways of general knowledge and teaching them the advantages and means of acquiring sufficient education to insure them successful careers requires much time, knowledge and devotion on the part of the teachers to make possible for the youth of today and tomorrow the open road to success in life.

To those who have undertaken this step and to those who have come to Petoskey to perform these duties, nothing but the highest praise is given. They have given their best for us and we appreciate and enjoy our association with them.

Petoskey High School, ranking foremost among the schools of Michigan as an educational institution of the finest type, can boast of one of the best faculties in the State. The members of our teaching staff are among the best and have most ably conducted themselves as such.

To our staff of teachers, we, the students of Petoskey High School, extend our most sincere gratitude and appreciation of the efforts that they have put forth to make possible the opportunities that are now before us to utilize in future years.

Class Prophecy

This queer prophecy was discovered while the editor was looking through a futuristic design book, trying to find some ideas to further enliven the annual. It was dated 1938, but how the date became affixed to the manuscript we must leave to the future to decide. At the very least we find it worthy of space in the Petosegan as a document of rare and interesting qualities.

When I stepped aboard the Petoskey-London Airline limited, I cannot say that I expected to find Lyle Henry, but there he was, and immediately, as a man wondering where old friends had disappeared to, I asked: "Where are all of our old classmates of '28 and what do you suppose they are doing?" We both knew of some of the more sensational careers of former students, such as Howard Parks, who had designed a new method of playing the saxophone by blowing into the larger end of it, and had become a millionaire; and of Les Niles, who had become editor of College Humor; of Newell Saigeon, whose splendid government services in New Zealand had merited rich rewards; and of Bain, Densmore and Salisbury, who had recently placed their names in the twinkling show lights on Broadway. We had constantly brought before our eyes, by television, the exploits of Robert Miller, the Republican candidate for President, and of Dalon Ely, the senator from Michigan. Radio had informed us of the winning of the national pie-eating title by Ray March, our former athlete. O'Donnell had succeeded "One-Eye" Connaly, the famous bum and gate crasher. Irv Menzel had established himself as an international figure in the architectural world by designing the new Union Depot in Hongkong. Olivia Burnett had been crowned "Miss America," and "Orne" Neuman and the Du Chaine sisters had established a new film company in Hollywood. Ray Ellis had stepped into his father's shoes and as a successful real estate agent had sold the Statue of Liberty to France for five million dollars. Upton, by now a famous hockey player, had signed up for two years with the Chicago Bears. Kenneth Rehkopf had earned fame as an astronomer, and Bud Tanner had become Editor of the Chicago Daily Tribune, having as his assistant Roy McMullen.

"And what has become of good old Bob Woodruff?" I queried. "Why, haven't you heard?" said Lyle. "He has succeeded Flo Ziegfield and made the Follies a bigger success than ever, with Mildred Craw and Mary Coleman as his leading ladies. Anne Moore is his traveling secretary." Locke and Wells, I had read in the sports records, had won the handball championship of Bermuda, Rigg, their manager, having won the name of "Cash and Carry." Ray Johnston, after taking a course in shorthand, discovered that he could write longhand and lefthand better and startled the world with his discovery. Andrew Foley had been elected National Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Wilfred Shanley, we learned, had made his fortune in butter and eggs. Ivolene Winans had become a world renowned speaker and was, at the present time, fighting for the woman's vote in South Africa.

Many others of our famous old class of '28 had achieved fame, fortune and happiness in various ways: among them, Dale Chapman and Carlton Carter, who circumnavigated the globe in a ten-foot rowboat. Cecil McKeachie had won the world's championship in flagpole sitting, having endured a sixty-eight-hour storm and a flock of wild mosquitoes. Jane Case, President of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, had invented a device whereby one could listen in on private conversations without being detected. I told Lyle that I had received a letter a short time before from Kenneth King, national supervisor of janitors and school employes. Kenneth had told me in his interesting letter that Frank Nellist had bought out the United Drug Company and a large part of the Wrigley Gum Company.

It would almost be an impossibility to enumerate the activities of all our class members, but those that have been mentioned I thought would be of especial interest. The big surprise of my talk with Lyle came when he told me that Hugh Burnett had been elected commissioner of streets and railways in Venice for a four-year term.

I discussed many topics with my fellow passengers on the big airship and following a brief sojourn after dinner, retired to my room, where I wrote a few lines to my relatives, who were touring Iceland at that time. After doing this I went out on the promenade deck and viewed the picturesque panorama below me. A slight dip forward warned me to go inside and prepare for our landing at the London Airport.

Walking down the gangplank, I again encountered Lyle. "By the way, Lyle," I asked, "what is your profession?" "I am chief sales manager of the Nellist Drug and Chewing Gum Company, offices in Petoskey, Michigan. Yep! I'm a married man and have settled down to hard work and short vacations." That was the last that I saw of Lyle for quite a long time.

Myself, you ask? Oh, I struck it rich down at the Clarion oil fields and am taking it easy, enjoying the world as I go along.

Senior Class History

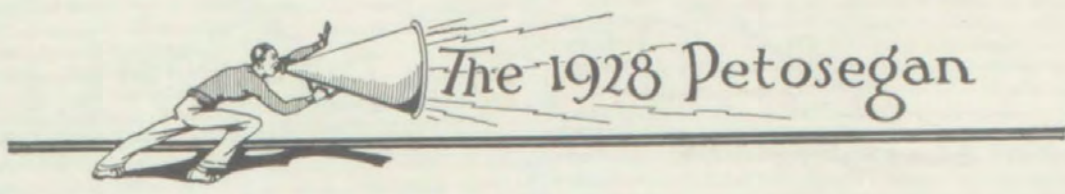

Many classes take the proverbial trip through High School in cars, airplanes, ships, and the like. We, the members of the class of '28, believing that the first shall be last and the last shall be first, decided to start walking. One hundred and twenty students started plodding their weary way through the Freshman year in 1924. Howard Parks was elected president; Robert Woodruff, vice-president, and Mildred Crow, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Hirschy assisted us as class advisor. Our first social venture, the Freshman party in December, was an enjoyable event. A debating team, consisting of Robert Miller, Stuart McIntyre, and Esther Miller, was organized, and after much careful work defeated the rushing Sophs. Menzel and Pearson as athletes helped to place our name down in history as on-coming Freshmen.

September, 1925, found us refreshed but reduced in number to 102 students. We continued our trip, this time with Stuart McIntyre, president; Lester Locke, vice-president, and Mildred Crow, secretary and treasurer. We had several distinctions that year. Our debating team, composed of Robert Miller, Stuart McIntyre, and Newell Saigeon, defeated the expectant Frosh. We had a successful Sophomore party and formed a track team that defeated the upper-classmen winning the inter-class track meet. This year the athletes of our class supplied much material to all the Varsity teams. We left school in June looking forward to the J-Hop that we would give as Juniors.

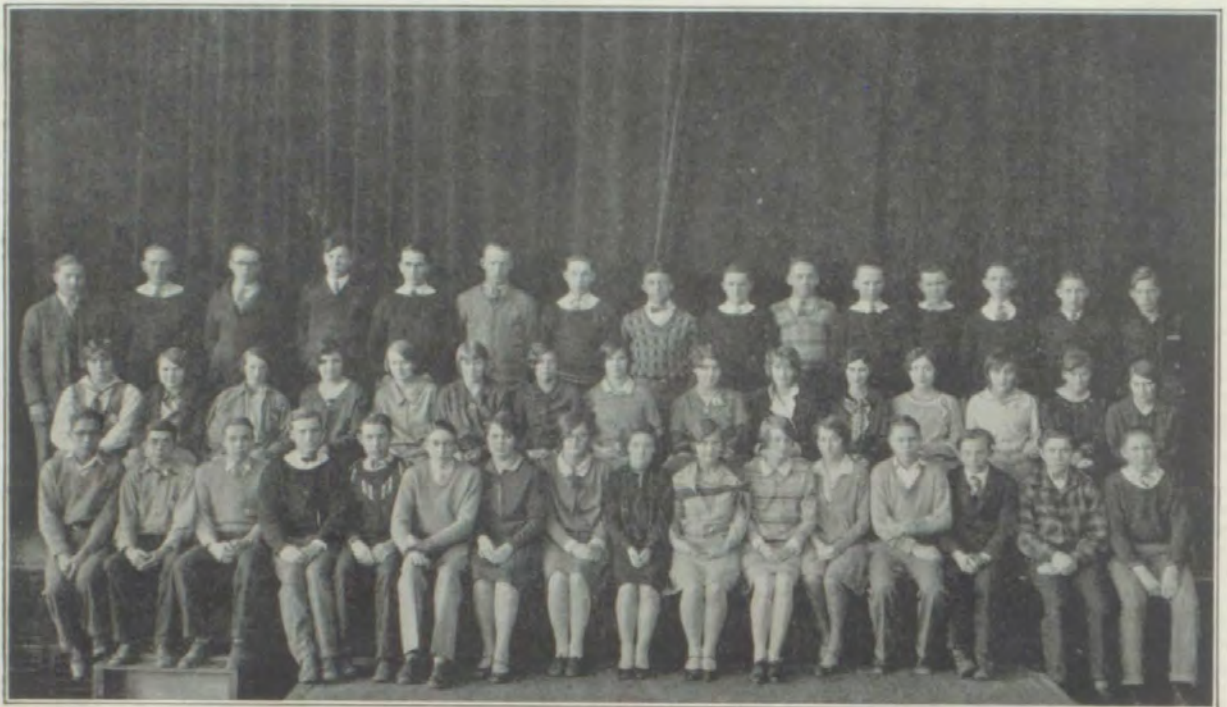

We entered school in September, 1927, proud that the name upper-classmen would be given to us. This year our number had dwindled to 98. Looking forward to a great J-Hop we carefully deliberated on the election of officers. Robert Miller was finally chosen as president; Leslie Niles, vice-president; Mildred Crow, secretary, and Richard Densmore, treasurer. We then set about to earn money for the J-Hop, having several benefit performances, including the delightful play "The Whole Town's Talking." This year our class was well represented in forensics under all branches of athletics. After much hard work we finished our Junior year with a J-Hop at Ramona Park Hotel.

This year we began our school year, at last having realized our goal, for now we are first. This year Cecil McKeachie was elected president; Roy McMullen, vice-president; Leila Robinson, secretary and treasurer. This year many of our class members have been very active in athletics. We have been working hard this year, as shown by the numerous activities, to publish an annual that will be a reminder to our happy days in good old Petoskey High.

Junior Class

Class History of '29

On September 12, 1925, we, one hundred and thirty verdant Freshmen, began our cruise on the scholastic seas of Petoskey High School.

For our first voyage on the good ship "Freshman," Martin Guleserian was elected captain; Malcolm Taylor, first mate; Carlton Saunders, super-cargo man, and Miss Anderson, class advisor.

On December 12, we held our first class party, and on December 17 we allowed the Sophomores to wrest a 2-1 decision from us in debate. Our class displayed marked interest in athletics, debate, and other school activities.

In September, 1926, we again embarked. This time we chose the new ship "Sophomore" to carry us on our journey. Isabel Steen was elected captain; Catherine Behan, first mate; Glenn Snyder and Charles Moore, super-cargo men, and Mr. Cortright, faculty advisor.

Tiring of our mental ration of navy beans and hardtack, we stopped our voyage long enough to give our class party.

In the larger maneuverings of the school, Frederick Curtis and Lawrence Hinds received letters for their good work on the basketball court. Frederick Curtis and Martin Guleserian earned recommendation as football players. Charles Moore and Jean Monteith established themselves as debaters.

After taking a few weeks' shore leave during the summer, we embarked on the new ship "Junior," having to pilot us Frederick Curtis, captain; Esther Jarman, first mate, and Lucille Germond as super-cargo. So far this year our good ship has weathered all storms. Many have been figures of prominence in athletics and other activities.

The Junior debate team won the inter-class championship and the Girls' inter-class basketball team won the school championship, as did the boys' team.

In February we put on the Junior play, "The Brat," being ably assisted by Mrs. Stech, to whom we owe our gratitude. This play was the means of reimbursing our treasury, and along in June we are planning to buy an extra supply of pork and beans and invite the Seniors to a regular feed, which we are sure will live up to our class motto, and go down in history as a "second to none" J-Hop.

Class History of '30

As part of the Freshman class was blown in on the tail-end of a Northern Michigan blizzard in the early part of 1926, the result was much confusion. This confusion was still noticeable when our class of '29-'30 was organized October 15 as Freshman. The officers were: President, Catherine Edyvean; vice-president, Bert Hager; secretary, Arthur Mosier; treasurer, Marian Feather. Student Council representatives: Regina O'Donnell, Esther Christopher, Robert Truesdell, and Sheridan Dashner; and class advisor, Mr. Jacobs.

The social activities of our first year were not very extensive, the class sponsoring only one party in the gymnasium. We were, however, well represented in athletics.

A few months' vacation from duty allowed the "blizzard" to subside and we entered the Sophomore class in the fall of 1927, calm, and with no sign of the confusion that marked our advent when Freshmen.

This time we chose Robert Mitchell as president; Robert Truesdell, vice-president; Asahel Tillotson, secretary-treasurer. Student Council representatives: Gertrude Lyons, Mary Gilbert, Edward Soblesky, and Thurlow Stone; and Miss Furman as class advisor.

The movie, "The Haunted Ship," proved a successful boost for the class finances. This together with a basketball concession and class dues, will leave a substantial balance with which to start our Junior year.

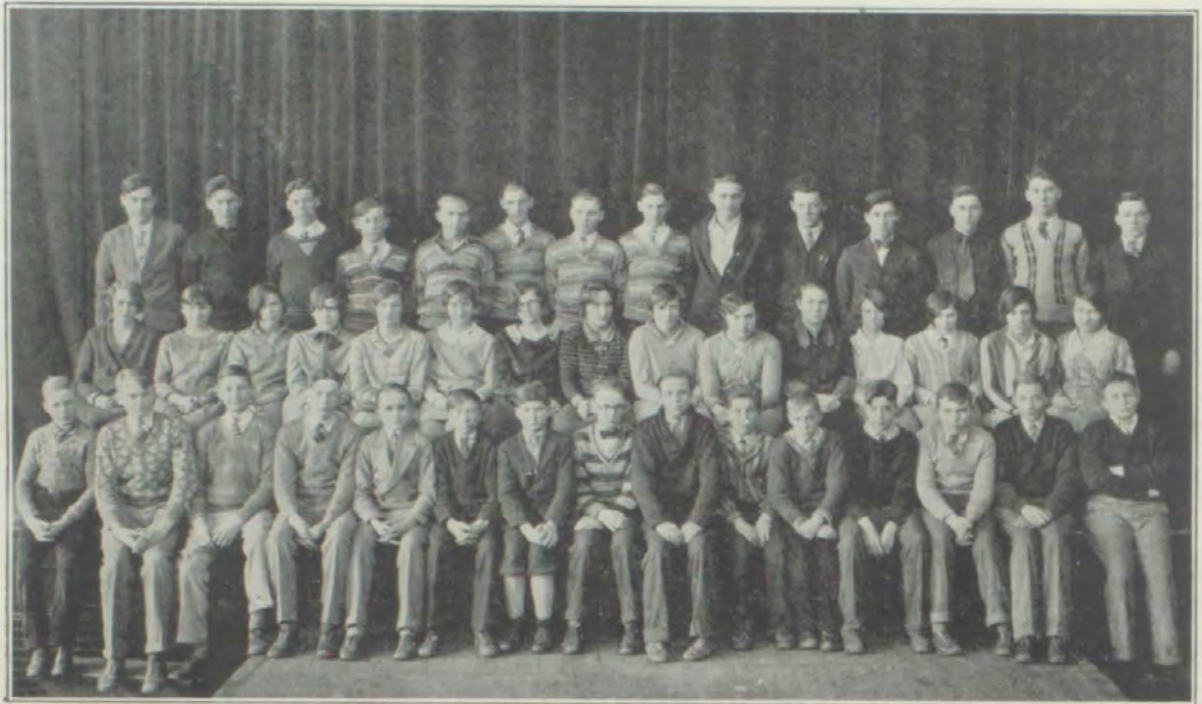

Our school activities have been more numerous this year, the class being well represented in football by Asahel Tillotson and Edward Soblesky, and in basketball by Vincent Ball, Robert Truesdell, and Asahel Tillotson. Although the girls' team has earned no laurels as yet, it promises well for the future. In debate we were represented by Robert Phelps, Marian Feather, and Thurlow Stone. Robert Mitchell proved an asset to the school team.

The class party, a roast, was decided upon, and went over successfully to the enjoyment of all present.

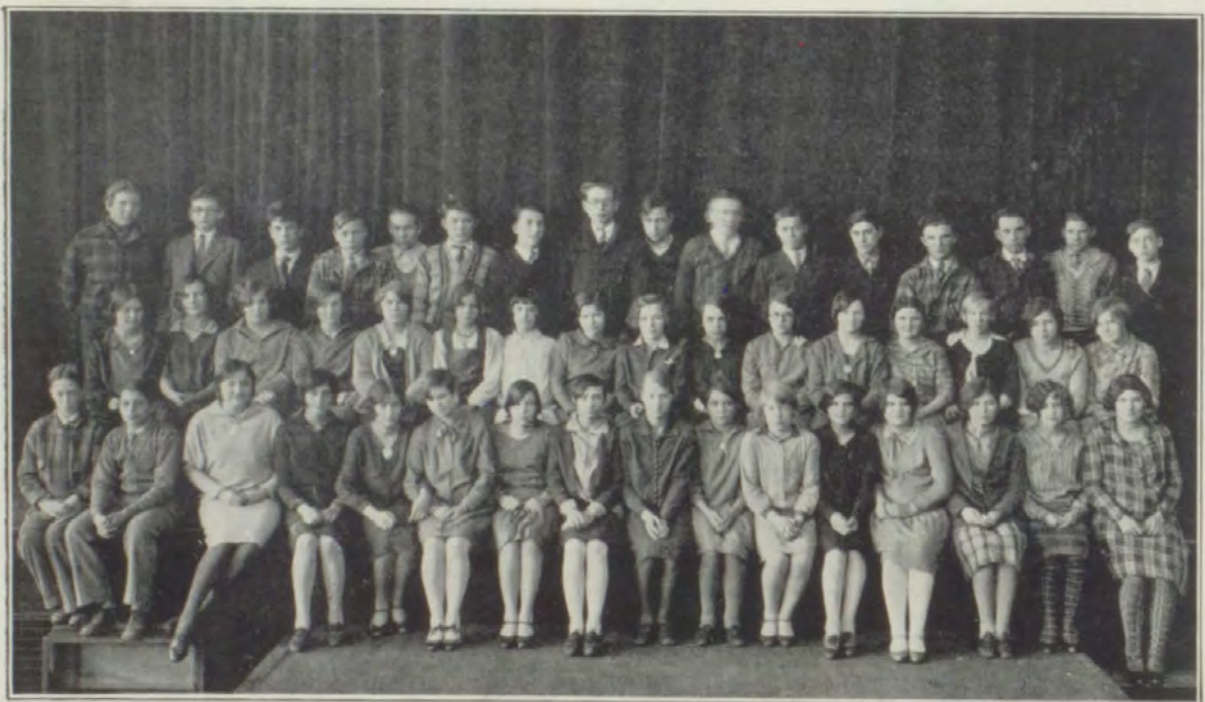

So with dreamy eyes we look forward to next year—but—"Our Sophomore days we'll ne'er forget." Its reputation is—"Best yet."

History of the Class of '31

On September 12, 1927, the history-making class of '30-'31 climbed into their fine new airplane to embark on a scholastic voyage through Petoskey High School. Although fresh and rather green, we were anxious to try this new adventure. One hundred and twenty-five Freshies eagerly piled into the big plane. We chose as officers to pilot us in our first flight Richard Porter, president; Louis Hankey, vice-president, and Gordon Hendricks, secretary and treasurer. To the Student Council we elected Doris Brown, Esther Chichester, Merton Carter, and George Porter. Mr. Cortright was induced to be our class advisor.

In debate we Freshmen won great attention. Our team, composed of Jean Webb, Bruce Blanchard, Dana Burgess, and Raymond Schaaf, humbled the mighty Juniors in our first debate. Soon after this we upset those dignified Seniors. Our last debate was our Waterloo; the Sophomores defeating us by a two-to-one decision. We were only one point behind the winning Juniors in the school championship race. Moreover, we had defeated the Juniors, who won the cup.

In the High School Declamatory contest Floyd French, a Freshman, captured first honors.

Our athletes are already coming to the front. James Kilborn on the football squad aided Petoskey in winning a championship last fall. Richard and George Porter made the Varsity basketball squad this year and both hope to continue their services. Even the girls' basketball team received favorable comment as to its ability.

Although we Freshies are still verdantly youthful, we hope with the kindly advice of our instructors to reach the high scholastic and athletic records achieved by our superiors.

Post Graduate

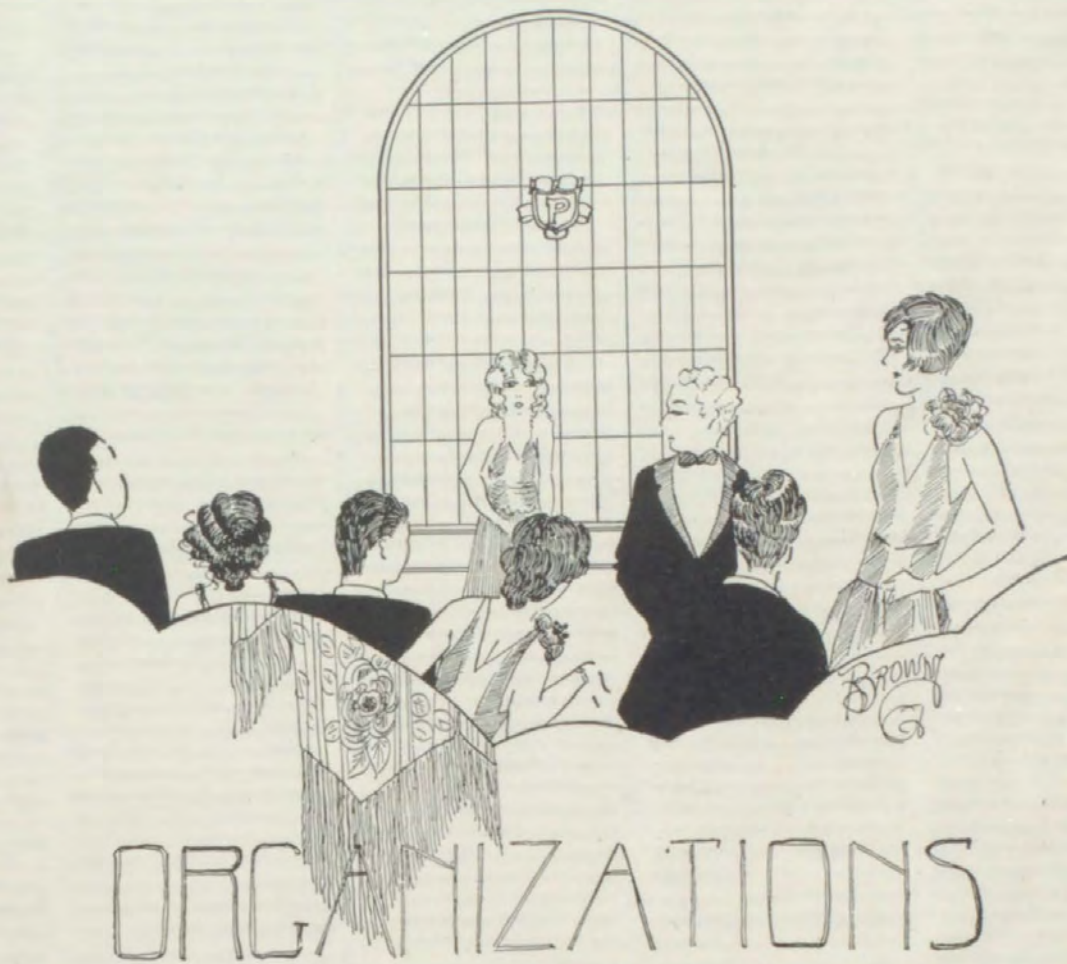

Attending school as part of the student body and taking part in the curricular activities of our school are the Post-Graduates.

These students are further preparing themselves for college work and higher education. Some, not choosing to enter institutions of higher learning so soon after their graduation from high school, remain in school and study such subjects as will aid them and make easier for them a college education. Others, not wishing to go to college, obtain what knowledge they need for their venturing forth as bread-winners.

The Post-Graduate constituency of Petoskey High School has not been large this year, the majority of last year's graduates either going to college or obtaining employment.

Those attending school this year as Post-Graduates report very profitable and enjoyable results from their prolonged stay with us. It can also be said with pleasure that the student body has enjoyed its association with these students, both in the sense of social and curricular activity.

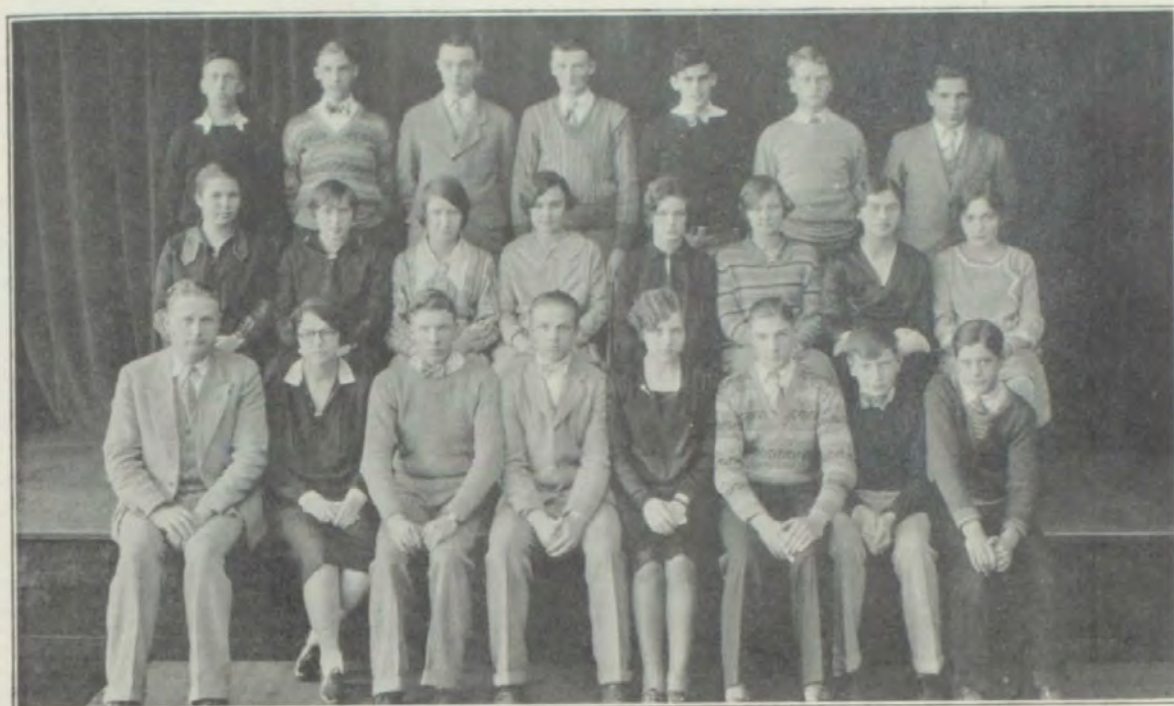

The student body of Petoskey High School expresses its hope that these Post-grads will venture forth benefitted and satisfied from our midst, and most sincerely wishes success in future years for them and their associates.

ORGANIZATIONS

The 1928 Petosegan

Student Council

The duties of the Student Council members include those of bringing before the school directors and student body, conditions and matters for attention, acting as hosts to visitors, and fostering school spirit. It can be said that the Student Council this year has very commendably fulfilled these duties.

Not overlooking the opportunity of adapting themselves to social environment, the Council members sponsored a number of unusually successful parties and dances held in the high school gym. These social gatherings were enjoyed by the majority of the students and, besides aiding the organization's financial standing, created a spirit of fellowship and co-operation among the students who attended them.

The Council has been most successful this year in its aims and extends its best wishes to the school, thanking the faculty, student body and others for their co-operation when working together.

The 1928 Petosegan

Honor Society

Character, scholarship, leadership, service—What can we not win in life if we possess these four characteristics?

As a means of promoting these four objectives in Petoskey High School, our preceding members enrolled as the Petosegan Chapter of the National Honor Society. This society upholds as its cardinal principles these four. It has become one of the most influential organizations in the school, and election to its membership is considered the greatest honor that can be awarded to a high school student.

This society is nation-wide in scope, high school students throughout the United States striving to attain enrollment in its membership.

The emblem and membership pin of this organization is the key-stone and flaming torch. At the base of the torch are the four letters, C. S. L. S., symbolic of the four cardinal principles of the society.

This year the society introduced a new practice, that of presenting letters of congratulation to the parents of the members newly elected.

The 1928 Petosegan

Pep Club

Last year a new group was organized in the High School. This organization was called the Pep Club. The membership includes upper-classmen only, and this year is composed of the following: Margaret Bain, Mary Coleman, Dorothy Varr Every, Ruth Tripp, Stuart McIntyre, Robert Woodruff, Martin Guleserian, Elbridge Starmer, Carlton Saunders, and Jack Schilling.

The club as an organization is responsible for the whole-hearted support of the student body at athletic and forensic contests. Mr. Bates as faculty advisor has given the organization splendid support, and is, in a large part, responsible for its success as a real "peppy" group. This year Stuart McIntyre was elected president; Elbridge Starmer, treasurer, and Mary Coleman, business manager.

Strut and Fret Club

The Strut and Fret Club, whose membership consists of upper-classmen, is one of the largest of our school organizations. Its purpose is to give students the opportunity of studying the fundamental principles and origin of the drama.

In organizing last fall Howard Parks was chosen as president; George Herrick, vice-president, and Katherine Behan, secretary and treasurer.

This year the club has made an extensive study of acting and play production. Interesting bi-weekly programs were provided by members of the group, reports on the drama of various nationalities, and several one-act plays being given.

The kind of work that the club has been doing this year has been well illustrated by the many splendid plays that have been presented to the public in the high school auditorium. The Junior play, Senior play, and many short plays given to the student body during the bi-weekly programs, were all products of the Strut and Fret Club.

The organization owes its success to the commendable and spirited leadership of Mrs. Stech, who can give any actor many helpful tips on the art of play production.

Junior Dramatic Club

Performing the same duties and activities as those of their older club associates, the Senior Dramatic or Strut and Fret Club, the Junior Dramatic group is composed of under-classmen who have dramatic and theatrical ambitions. This year the organization has worked hard in an effort to develop the drama in the school. In collaboration with the Strut and Fret Club, the Junior Dramatic Club has produced several short plays and stage performances. Their work was well done and much comment has been made upon their unusually good work.

Miss Merson, faculty supervisor for the club, reports many students of promising acting ability and expresses the hope that in future years we may be proud of the fact that there are prominent people from our school in dramatic work.

Student House

Not one of the inactive organizations in our high school this year was the Student House of Representatives. This organization, which is composed of boys interested in debate, is modeled after the National House of Representatives and has done much in past years to develop the speaking ability of its members.

Because of its size, having a membership of forty, the Student House was divided into two parties. The Conservatives, with Dale Otto as party floor leader, met with Mr. Hirschy, a most capable director. The Radicals, with Dalon Ely as party floor leader, met with Mr. Cortright, our debate coach.

During the year questions of national and social importance were discussed. Such topics as "Resolved, that the United States Government should own and operate the railroads," and "Resolved, that athletics are beneficial to high schools," were the centers of much filibustering and debating.

Each member of this organization is required to do six minutes of speaking before the group each semester in order to get credit. Most of the members get so enthused that they far exceed the minimum time.

With an unanimous vote the Student House declared this the most successful year ever enjoyed by the organization.

The 1928 Petosegan

Senior Hi-Y

The Senior and Junior Hi-Y groups which previously have been separate units have combined to form one organization. However, both the Senior and Junior groups have their own officers and also separate social functions during the month.

This year the Senior group has elected as president, Robert Miller; as vice-president, Andrew Foley; secretary, Leslie Niles, and Richard Densmore, treasurer.

The criterion of the groups is represented by four C's, which stand for clean speech, clean scholarship, clean living, and clean athletics.

Each year the Hi-Y awards four medals for prominence in school activities, the following being presented with the awards: Valedictorian, most loyal athlete, most successful girl student, and most successful boy student. All of these honors are bestowed upon members of the graduating class of the year in which they are presented.

The Petoskey chapter of the Hi-Y was established in 1922 under the supervision of Walter MacMillan, and since that time has been under his able direction. The organization has been progressing very rapidly, due to his excellent manner of training and teaching the boys of the group.

The 1928 Petosegan

Junior Hi-Y

Uniting with the Senior Hi-Y boys this year the Junior organization co-operated with them in executing the same activities and duties.

This group is composed of boys younger than those included in the membership of the Senior organization, thus forming a sort of stepping stone to aid them in their endeavors to attain their objectives: clean living, clean characters, good scholarship, and clean athletics. The Junior Hi-Y, numbering twenty members, has benefitted greatly from its association with the older boys.

The 1928 Petosegan

Science Club

This year the Science and Radio clubs joined hands in the common cause. There being only a few members in each group, it was decided to combine the two. The re-organized club has accomplished much this year in the way of scientific study and research work. Many modern and unusual problems in science were discussed and the members learned a great deal from the motion picture programs that were presented them. A great deal of interest was aroused concerning the club and many applied for membership, but this being open only to upper-classmen, was confined to sixteen students. This year the program committee plan was practiced and it worked out unusually well.

The following officers were elected for this year's activities: Bert Hager, president; Raymond Ellis, vice-president; Leon Hoffer, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Davenport and Mr. Jacobs, faculty supervisors.

The 1928 Petosegan

Cliosophic Club

The Cliosophic organization has again come to the close of a most profitable year. The group has found unusual enjoyment in its activities and has also derived a great deal of benefit from its work, which includes the study of literary topics and discussions pertaining to literature.

The society held its meetings bi-monthly, and under the supervision of Miss Moore has made rapid progress in achieving its purpose: that of better acquainting the members with the wide field of literary activity being carried on in this country. Co-operation on the part of student and teacher was unusually fine, which greatly aided in the club's successful efforts.

Debate Squad

Our debate team, while not winning championship laurels in Northern Michigan this year, nevertheless established its reputation as a clever, sportsman-like group with all those with whom it clashed for forensic honors.

The team achieved victories against Cadillac and Harbor Springs, but lost by split-hair decisions two contests with the crack Cheboygan outfit. The question for debate this year was, "Resolved, that the direct primary be abolished."

The squad was composed of Robert Miller, Stuart McIntyre, Charles Moore, Dalon Ely, Robert Mitchell, and Newell Saigeon.

Petoskey High congratulates these students on their commendable efforts this year, and wishes to thank them for putting us on the map as a school strong in forensic activities.

The 1928 Petosegan

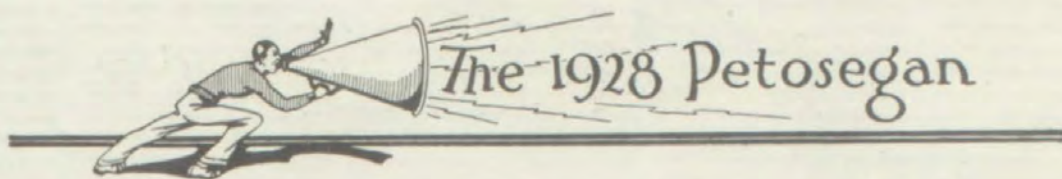

Athletic Club

Sponsored by the high school for the purpose of better acquainting students with the athletic situations of today, and acquiring a thorough knowledge of sports and high school athletics, the Boys' Athletic Club has enjoyed a most successful year, both from the standpoint of accomplishing its aims, and the benefits that the members have derived therefrom.

Under the able leadership and supervision of our popular coach, Mr. Le Cronier, the group has accomplished, during its bi-weekly meetings, a great deal in the way of athletic education. All branches of athletics were studied and the invaluable advantage of learning the means of keeping the human body in the best of condition was attained by the enthusiastic members.

The organization, numbering upwards of fifty boys, expresses its appreciation of the efforts of "Coach" who has given a broad knowledge of sports and athletics.

The 1928 Petosegan

Band

Our band members have firmly established their reputation as music makers in Petoskey. Every athletic contest and activity of importance to the townspeople found our band present to enliven the occasion and cheer the people with its snappy marches and concert music.

The band has made itself very popular, and the dignified and mighty Seniors unbent long enough to let the harmony gang know that they enjoyed its music, their only regret being that they will not be present to hear it next year when it blares forth to help our athletes achieve victory.

Girls' Glee Club

This year our Girls' Glee Club has shown marked advancement in musical knowledge. These members of the weaker sex have strengthened themselves considerably from a harmonious standpoint of view, and those who have heard them will warrant this fact.

They have, in their appearances before the school, very successfully entertained the student body and faculty, and much commendation is due Miss Rix, who during her first year here as music supervisor has achieved much towards advancing and maintaining interest in music in Petoskey High.

The 1928 Petosegan

Boys' Glee Club

Look 'em over! Here is our group of male warblers who have organized the Boys' Glee Club. They gave us a real treat when they sang for us and the girls can well afford to be jealous of them. Miss Rix also piloted this group of musical students to success as a glee club this year.

The Boys' Glee Club has sung at many of the assembly programs and has caused favorable comment as to its ability to render musical selections.

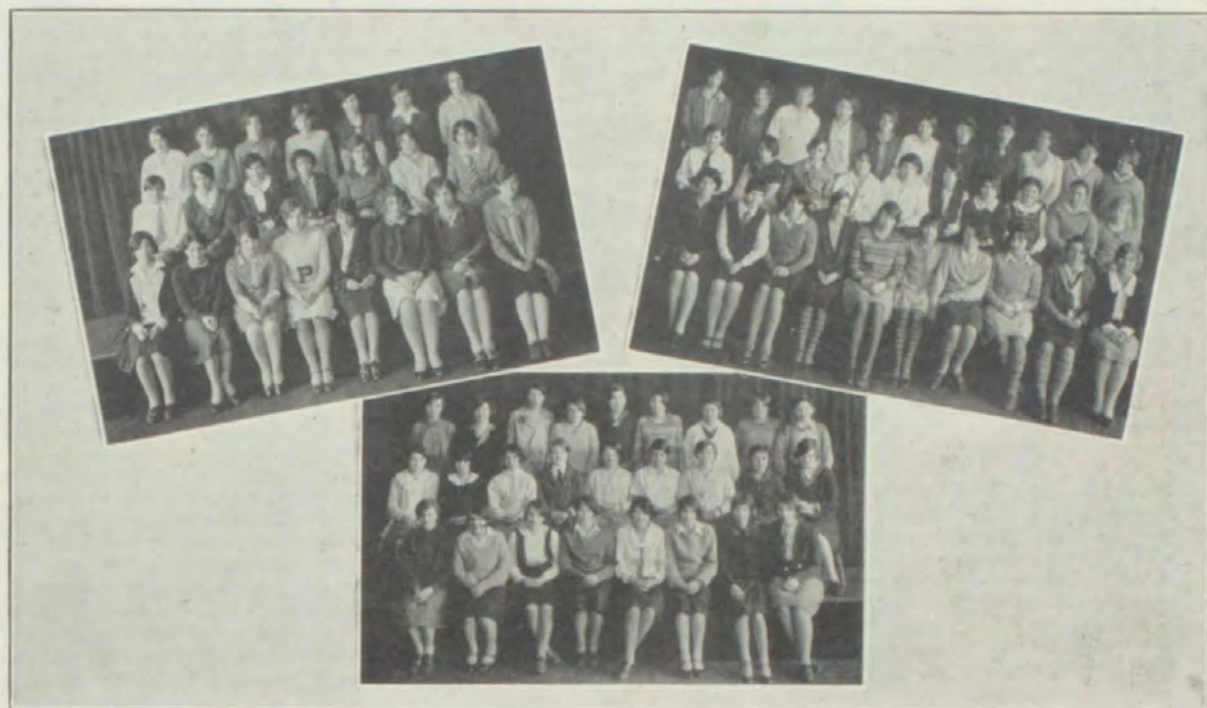

The 1928 Petosegan

Orchestra

Our orchestra this year, while not having a very large membership, has proved itself very capable of real music. Present at all forensic and dramatic activities held in the auditorium this year, the orchestra enlivened and made more enjoyable than ever the many programs that were presented to the public and the student body.

Under the direction of Mr. McCollum the orchestra has mastered many difficult musical compositions and has learned much in the way of rendering fine music. We hope that the orchestra next year will be as successful as was this year's organization.

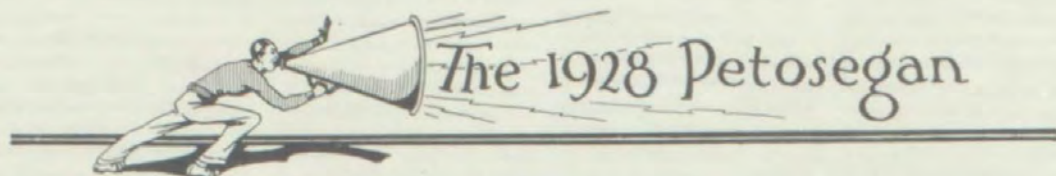

Girls' Athletic Club

This year the discontinuation of the Campfire organization in deference to the Girls' Athletic Club was favored and the new group was organized under the direction of Miss Alma Wingeier, physical education instructor.

The purposes of this club are in accordance with those of the Boys' Athletic Club, whose chief duty is the study of sports and the promotion of a better knowledge of athletics. The group is a large one, having a membership of eighty.

The girls are coming right along in sports and this year they have been unusually active in their endeavors and have accomplished a great deal. Besides sponsoring the inter-class basketball league, the club is responsible for the baseball and track activities of our supposedly un-athletic students, the girls.

COACH LE CRONIER

Of the many splendid benefits that Petoskey High School has received during the past year, the acquiring of the services of Coach Le Cronier, to all indications, has been among the greatest. During his first year with us "Coach" has accomplished a fine record of athletic endeavor. Through his earnest efforts the reputation of Petoskey High School as a school ranking among the foremost in athletics and sportsmanship has further been established.

CAPTAIN MENZEL

Champions of Northern Michigan

Football

The 1927 football season was without a doubt one of the most successful in the history of Petoskey High School. As soon as the fall term of school had begun, a call was issued for candidates for the football team. There were some difficult positions to fill that were left vacant by the graduation of members of the 1926 championship team. From that team, however, were left Captain Menzel, Wells, March, O'Donnell, Woodruff, Stafford and King. To fill the vacancies Coach Le Cronier picked Tillotson, Critchell, Locke, Curtis and Coveyou.

From the very first Coach Le Cronier drilled into the minds of his men their goal, the Northern Michigan Championship, and when the last game was over this goal was realized.

The first game of the 1927 schedule was played with Gaylord. They made more first downs against the Blue and White than any other teams that were played; however, by steady playing Petoskey emerged victorious, with Gaylord on the small end of the score.

The following Saturday Alpena came to the local field only to be trampled by our overwhelming offensive drive.

The next game was with our old rivals from across the bay: Harbor Springs. They came and brought half the town with them, determined to drown our championship hopes, but after striving desperately they were forced to concede us victory by a wide margin.

Coach Le Cronier took the team to Manistee the next week where the hardest game on the schedule was played. The boys from the Salt City held Petoskey to a lone touchdown, unable to score their seven.

Boyne City came here next to try their luck with us, but without avail. They had to return home without realizing their ambitions. They, too, learned the brand of ball that the Blue and White warriors played.

Then Charlevoix brought its troupe of midgets to Petoskey. After the first half of the slaughter our aggressive second team played most of the time and still Charlevoix was outplayed considerably. The game ended with the little fellows hopelessly drubbed.

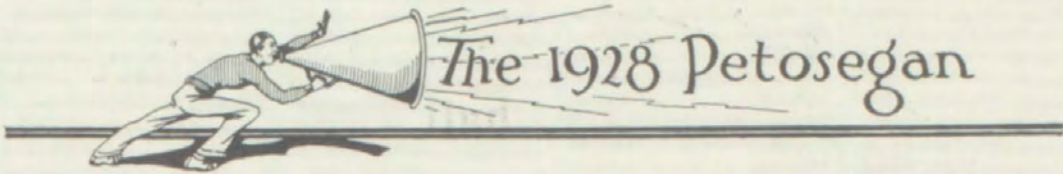

The next school to fall prey to our onslaught was Cadillac. The game was played on a snow covered field and both teams had to wear gloves to keep their hands warm. Soon after play began, Petoskey started a scoring drive which the Cadillac boys could not stop and the Blue and White were on top when the tussle ended.

One week later Cheboygan brought their undefeated team to the local gridiron. They played good football but were no match for our powerful outfit and had to return home empty handed and disappointed.

For the final and championship game of the season the Blue and White journeyed to Traverse City. The game was full of thrills and well executed plays. Due largely to the work of Menzel and Wells on the offensive, Coach Le Cronier's men came from the field victorious.

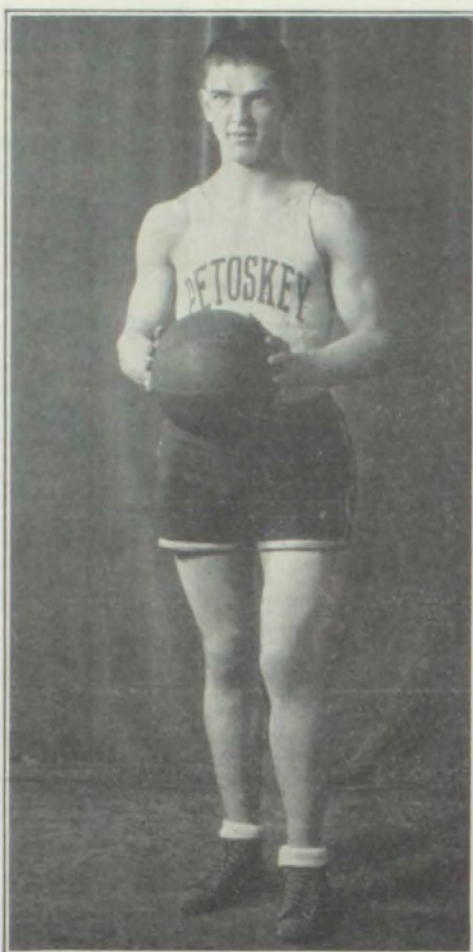

After the Traverse City game was over there was much agitation for a post-season game to be played on Thanksgiving Day. Several schools were challenged and the powerful Alma High team, which was the champion of its district, accepted. The game was played Thanksgiving Day in the afternoon, before the largest crowd of the season and amid ideal weather conditions. This contest was to decide the State Championship of Class B. At first it looked as though Petoskey would win, but in the second half Alma staged an offensive that could not be stopped and won by a score of 32-20.

With this climactic tilt Petoskey High School brought to a colorful close the most successful football season in her entire history.

Playing a hard schedule with a new style of play and a new coach, the 1927-28 basketball season ended with nine victories and five defeats for the Blue and White.

From last year's team Coach Le Cronier had Captain March, Menzel, Wells, Hinds and Tanner to start the season. However, when the first semester ended two new men had to be found to fill the shoes of Menzel and Wells, who were effected by the eight semester ruling. Locke and McCabe were chosen to handle the vacated positions. Substitutes Ball and Truesdell tasted action in several games and will be back next year to show their wares with Golden and Tillotson who made their debut near the close of the season.

The season opened on December 9 with the powerful Creston High team of Grand Rapids as the attraction on our own floor. This game was, in the opinion of many the best game of the season in regard to the playing of the local outfit who turned in a 25-16 victory.

Following this game Bay City Central's speedy aggregation invaded our camp and fell before our attack, 17-14.

Pellston was the next team to be beaten by the locals. They were overwhelmed 35-8.

The next game was played with the strongest contenders for the Northern Michigan Championship, Manistee. The battle took place at Manistee on January 6 and Petoskey tasted defeat for the first time, the score being 23-21.

The local court was the scene of the next battle when Cadillac, last year's champs, journeyed to our fair city. The game was full of thrills and Coach Noblett's gladiators were handed a 16-13 defeat.

The following week Traverse City's representatives made their appearance here and, in the roughest game seen on the home floor during the season, were trimmed 20-14. This tussle was sprinkled with bad fouling on the part of both teams.

Returning Pellston's visit, the locals traveled north to wallop them 37-12.

Coach Le Cronier next took his warriors to Harbor Springs where they were defeated by the superior playing of the lads across the bay, 15-13.

Fighting mad, the Blue and White took revenge on the Cheboygan team in an uninteresting game, 40-17. This game marked the termination of the athletic careers in high school of Menzel, Wells and Woodruff.

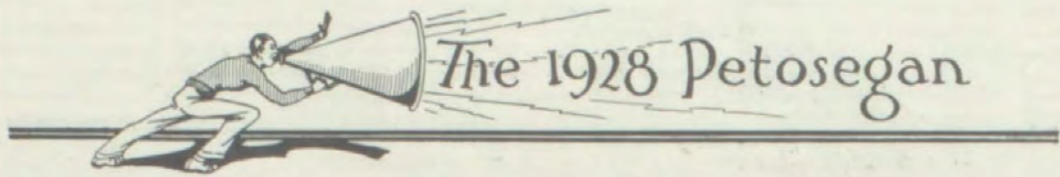

After developing two new men the team went to Cadillac for a return conflict. The game was played in the small Cadillac High gym. Tanner kept the Blue and White out in front by tossing in five field goals from past the center of the floor. The game ended with Petoskey on top with a 21-17 score to her credit.

Determined to win, the team next took on Harbor Springs on our own court for a return game. However, Harbor proved to be too much for them and we lost, 15-13 again. The poor exhibition of basketball on the part of our boys marked the beginning of a steady slump in playing which lasted the remainder of the season.

On February 28 Petoskey played Traverse City at Traverse and fell victim to a vicious onslaught, losing 33-21.

In the district tournament Petoskey again played Traverse. The winner was to represent this district in the regional meet. Traverse, playing with substitutes to take the places of suspended team-mates, flashed a surprise attack and when our floor pounders heard the final gun crack they looked at a 26-12 score on the board with the larger number under the Orange and Black's nameplate.

This game marked the conclusion of the 1927-8 season and the ending of the high school basketball careers of Captain "Ray" March, "Curly" Locke, and "Bud" Tanner. Petoskey High didn't win any championships in basketball this year, but the squad is to be congratulated on its "never-say-die" spirit which was manifested both at home and on the road. May next year find the same aggressive spirit in our team as was present during the past year and the trophies of champions be placed on the already crowded shelves of our trophy case.

1928 Tournament

The ninth Annual Regional Basketball Tourney held in Petoskey drew capacity attendance to the High School Gym where the elimination battles for championship honors were staged.

Manistee came out on top by defeating Traverse City in the Class B finals. Charlevoix copped the laurels in Class D, drubbing East Jordan for the honors, and Ellsworth surprised all Northern Michigan by nosing out the fast St. Anne's team from Alpena for the Class D title.

TRACK

The 1928 Petosegan

CAPTAIN COVEYOU

The 1928 Petosegan

1927 Track

There were only two track meets booked on our 1927 schedule and the Blue and White captured both of them. The initial inter-scholastic clash of the season took place at Petoskey on May 17 in the form of a triangular meet in which Boyne City, Harbor Springs, and Petoskey were the contestants. We easily won the meet with a total number of 70 points to our opponents 45.

The next test was the Northern Michigan Championship meet at Cadillac, staged on May 28. Again the boys from Petoskey proved their worth and gained victory by a score of $83\frac{1}{2}$ points, easily outdistancing the other two entrants, who were Cadillac and Manistee.

The winning of the Northern Michigan Championship stretched our record from eleven to twelve consecutive years as title holders.

Tennis

During the past five years tennis in this school has become very popular with students and faculty alike. Rising from near obscurity, the fascinating net game has rapidly drawn the interest of the sports-loving element of Petoskey High up to the present time, now being among the foremost of our athletic games.

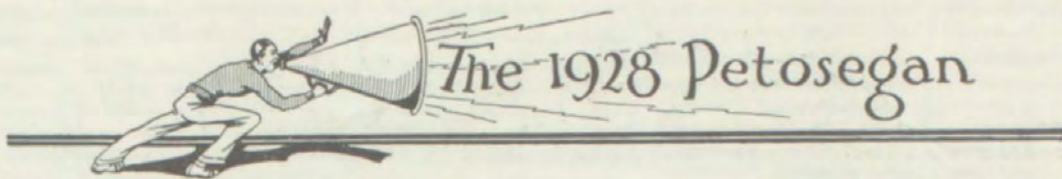

When school officials learned of the growing interest that tennis was causing, they sanctioned and arranged plans for annual tournament competition. Each succeeding year has brought an increasing number of entries into these elimination contests that decide the championship of the school, and 1927 found nearly thirty-five students extending their utmost efforts to win the laurels of school champs.

Of this large group of tennis enthusiasts six students proved their superiority by winning and helping their partners win the coveted honors and the rewards that went with them. They were: Margaret McConnell, girls' singles champion; Fred Curtis, boys' singles champion, and the teams of Gilbert and McConnell, girls' doubles champions, and Rhyne and Miller, boys' doubles champions. These players fought their way to the finish through the stiffest of competition. The outlook for this year is bright, many new lovers of the game being recruited since last season's activities.

A new system of tournament play will be introduced with the launching of this year's elimination contest. Preliminary rounds of the tournament will occur in the form of class competition; that is, each class in the high school looking out for its own interests. The class tourneys will decide the best players of each class, the winners and runners-up gaining the right to represent their respective classes in the final play-off round. This will bring four boys and four girls from each class together in competition for tournament honors. The winners of the final meet will be eligible for entrance in the State tournament.

This new type of tournament play will eliminate the long, drawn-out method of disposing of a large number of players.

Hopes are expressed that the near future will find a group of fine tennis courts installed on the school premises, affording opportunity for extensive playing to the many students who so desire.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical Education

Of the numerous athletic and recreational activities that Petoskey High School is sponsoring the seemingly unsung heroes are our directors of physical education.

The duties of these directors consist of promoting healthful activity and physical betterment among the students attending the Petoskey public schools and acquainting these students with the means of developing and keeping their bodies in the best of physical condition.

Their task is no easy one, fully twelve hundred young people being under their instruction. Teaching this large number of students and providing beneficial occupation for them requires time, skill, and conscientious supervision on the part of the instructors, and in Miss Alma Wingeier and Mr. Walter J. MacMillan we believe that we have about the best that this particular branch of education has to offer.

Through their constant effort the pupils of the Petoskey public school system have greatly profited. When we stop to think of the many opportunities for physical recreation that have been offered the youth of Petoskey during the past year, we cannot help thinking that such endeavor on the part of those supervising this work is worthy of reward.

The extensive athletic activities of the girls in Petoskey High School this year give evidence of the able direction of Miss Wingeier. The honor point system of athletic endeavor and the girls' basketball, baseball, and track teams are results of Miss Wingeier's supervision during her first year in Petoskey.

"Mac," as he is popularly known to boys and girls alike, has completed his sixth year as supervisor of physical education in this school. During this time he has established the city-wide athletic program for boys and has successfully directed the annual May festivals that are presented to the public during the later part of that month. Both Miss Wingeier's and Mr. MacMillan's splendid work is appreciated by all those who have had association with them and have worked under their supervision.

There is still another branch of our physical education department. This is the supervision of health, under the direction of Miss Inez Barton, health officer of the Petoskey public schools. The efficient work being carried on by this department speaks well for the efforts of Miss Barton in training and directing students in physical education.

The worth of the physical education department is not unimportant in the course of school activities, the training of students to be in the best of health further fitting them for better education and work in later life.

Girls' Athletics

The major importance of our school's varsity athletic teams has seemingly overshadowed and put into the background the athletic activities of our girls during the past years.

However, they have made their presence known to the school this year. Their extensive activity in athletics has attracted wide notice and we have viewed with increasing interest the progress that our girls have made this year towards gaining noticeable importance in school athletics.

The marked enthusiasm for girls' athletics and the co-operation on the part of those participating in the plan greatly aided in successfully launching the program that Miss Wingeier, physical educational instructor, was supervising.

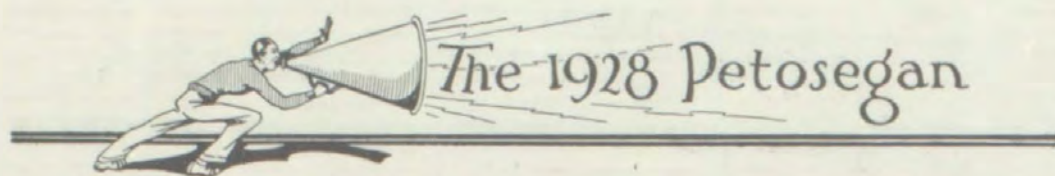

This extensive athletic program provided for participation in major sports as well as taking part in the regular physical educational activities of the school and has introduced into Petoskey High the honor point system of athletic endeavor. This plan for the promoting of better athletics for girls is an incentive to further endeavor for the achievement of honors in all branches of sport. This system was used in all recreational activities, including the major sports which were basketball, baseball, track, and tennis.

In basketball the inter-class league was the most important of this branch of sport. Each class in the high school was represented by a team composed of members of the respective classes and a schedule was organized whereby all these class teams would play each other, the season being terminated by the tournament in which all the classes were entered.

Track soon followed and the girls were seen vaulting, throwing, running and jumping in an effort to become stars of the cinder path. Much was accomplished and all those taking part in the track and field activities reported great benefit and enjoyment derived therefrom.

This year's tennis tournament also had its full quota of girls, many achieving reputations as unusually good players. Prior to and after the tournament, however, there was just as great an interest in the net game and a large number of our feminine athletes entered into the sport with spirit and enjoyment.

Girls' athletics have been unusually successful this year and the major sports in which the girls have taken part have greatly advanced their athletic activities in this school towards a standard ranking as high as the athletic program that the boys have been enjoying during past years. May next year see as satisfactory results as were experienced this year with the program of athletics for girls.

Girls' Basketball Tournament

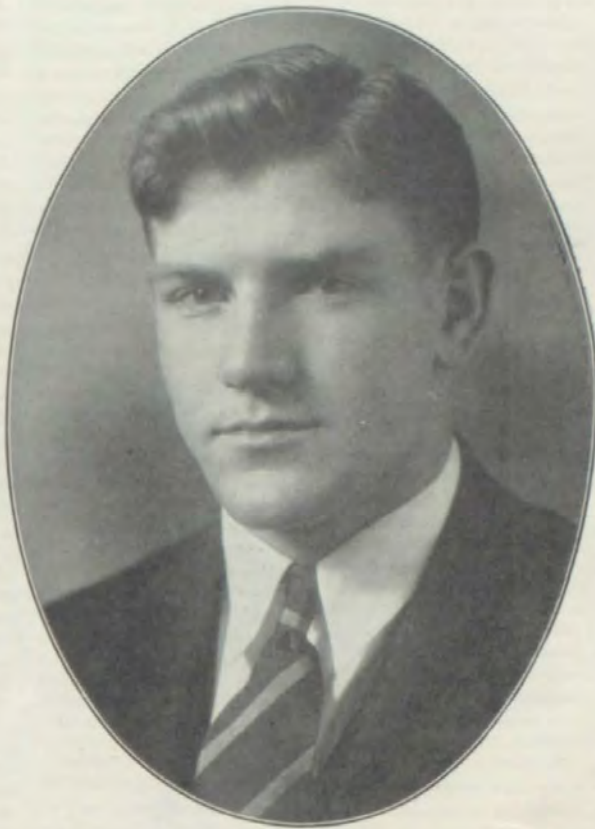

Terminating the basketball season was the inter-class tournament which was held on the dates of March 15 and 20. This event aroused keen interest throughout the entire school and quite a number of students witnessed the elimination play.

The tournament was unusually interesting and likely, the chief incident of which was the upset provided by the Sophomores, who eliminated the supposedly powerful Senior team, 22-21, in a thrilling battle. In the final play-off, staged on March 20, the Sophomores who had so unexpectedly set down the Senior team were forced to yield to the strong Junior sextette by score of 11-4. This victory won for the Juniors the honors of school champions. Miss Wingeier supervised the tournament and officiated the games.

Popularity Section

Heading the popularity list for this year are Margaret Bain and Irvin Menzel. We think that we have made a good choice, too. These two are not only popular in their own groups but are well known and liked throughout the whole school. In the Senior class Margaret is everybody's friend, and Irvin's popularity cannot be denied.

Margaret has made herself very well known and liked by her classmates because of her enthusiastic support of the worthwhile activities of our class. "Bain," with her views and suggestions, is a familiar figure at all class meetings. She is one who is always ready to help her friends and her class in any way that she is able. She is a prominent figure at all social functions.

"Irv" is one of whom our class may be justly proud. As all Northern Michigan knows, he is a prominent athlete as well as a leader in social life. His pleasing personality is shown by the host of lasting friends he has acquired during his scholastic career at Petoskey High. He is a most reliable member of our class and can be counted upon to perform his part in all class activities.

Beauty Section

"Great minds run in the same channels," is an old saying, and it would seem to prove that the Class of '28 has a goodly number of great minds. At least on the subject of beauty we all agree. And why not? It isn't every class that counts as a member one who is as easy to look at as Olivia Burnett, nor such an attractive fellow as Don Wells. As a whole, our class is not below the average in beauty, quite a few students running a close second to the winner of this contest, but these two deserve the laurels.

Olivia, our decided brunette, does not depend upon her good looks alone to make herself well known but is one of the outstanding members of the Senior class. "Don" is also a staunch supporter of the class, takes a prominent part in athletics, and proves his scholarship by being president of the Honor Society.

The Class of '28 wishes these two the best of success in future years and we are certain that they will achieve their objectives.

Debate

Our worthy debate coach, Mr. Cortright, started this year's debating schedule with high hopes, as there were four veteran debaters remaining from last year's squad. It was decided this year to have a class in debate and prospective debaters surprised everyone, for there were twenty students enrolled in the class. Never before had such interest in debating been made evident in the school.

Of these twenty enthusiasts for forensic conflict, a 'varsity debate team of six members was chosen. Those composing the negative were Charles Moore, Stuart McIntyre, and Robert Mitchell. The affirmative speakers were Robert Miller, Dalon Ely and Newell Saigeon.

In inter-school competition, these students won two closely contested debates by 2-1 decisions, the negative winning from Cadillac and the affirmative defeating our rivals across the bay, Harbor Springs. We were prevented from going further in the state elimination contest as both teams were defeated by Cheboygan. Mr. Loukusa, the Cheboygan debate coach, stated that Petoskey was the hardest school that they had come up against in their schedule.

This is the first year that each class in the school has been represented by a debating team. The remaining members of the debate class composed the four different teams. The Freshmen were represented by Raymond Schaaf, Bruce Blanchard, Dana Burgess, and Jean Webb. The Sophomore team was composed of Marian Feather, Robert Phelps, and Thurlow Stone. Those on the Junior team were Elbridge Starmer, Lucille Germond, Carlton Saunders, and Isabel Steen. The Seniors were represented by Andrew Foley, Howard Parks, and Ivolene Winans.

The debates between these four teams were very closely contested, only one resulting in an unanimous decision.

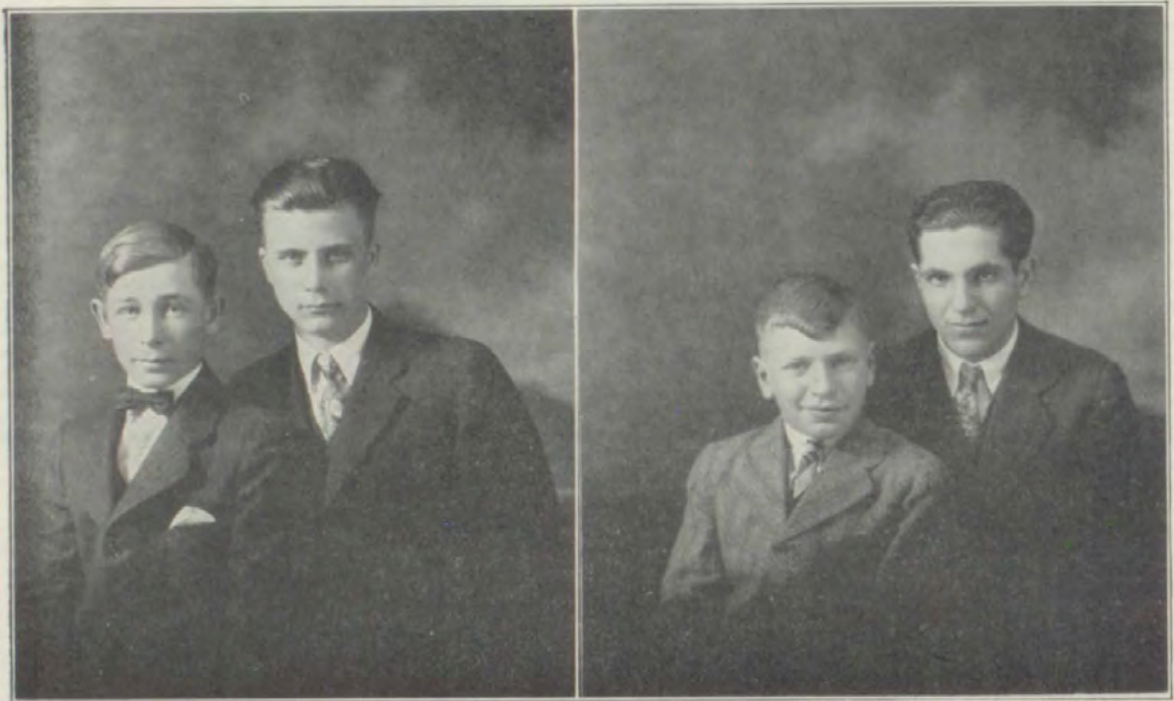

The standings at the end of the schedule were as follows:

The Juniors led with eight points, the Freshmen were next with seven points, the Sophomore team was third with five points, and the mighty and dignified Seniors last with four points. Mr. Cortright should be congratulated for his excellent ability in organizing these teams and the 'varsity squad.

Society

In presenting to the reader a record of the social activities of the school, mention must be made of the Junior Hop of June 3, 1927. This unusually successful banquet and dance presented by the Class of '28 terminated the 1927 social calendar of Petoskey High School. Featuring the evening's entertainment was the unusually "warm" music of the Everglade Orchestra. Robert Miller was toastmaster and William McCune responded in behalf of the Seniors; Superintendent of Schools Spitler and Mr. Cortright, faculty member, gave entertaining addresses, all of which were well received by the gay throng of guests. Further in the way of entertainment was a group of xylophone solos by Neil Maston, youthful musician. Then everybody danced.

The social activities of Petoskey High School this year have indeed been numerous and the center of a great deal of interest.

Foremost on the social calendar were the Student Council parties, six in number, given in the gym on the evenings of October 7, December 2 and 22, January 28, February 11, and March 30, each succeeding "wrestle" surpassing the preceding one in interest. All these entertainments were featured by very good music, enjoyable refreshments and the presence of chaperons who knew their "social onions."

Late last fall the Juniors took their turn on the social calendar by putting on a dance in the gym for the purpose of raising money for the J-Hop, the crowning feature party of the year.

The Girls' Athletic Association, not to be outdone, broke the bonds of their confinement to athletic development and presented in the way of social functions several successful parties at the Community rooms. These were well attended.

Our erstwhile faculty also took an active part in the social season, losing their dignity long enough to enjoy themselves at several dinner parties. The outstanding of these was the Masonic party of February 22, at which the entire teaching force was entertained.

Many private dances and dinners held their place on the social calendar during the past year and all helped to make school life more interesting.

The Junior Hop, the grand finale and crowning social event of the year, to be staged at the Ramona Park Hotel on June 1, was looked forward to by everyone. Keen interest was aroused early in the spring. Preparations for this colorful event were launched by the Juniors in the staging of "The Brat" and several benefit shows at the local theaters which took care of the financial part of it. This party is the most largely attended of social activities, being the Juniors' farewell to the dignified Seniors who are to cede to them the coveted back seats in the assembly room.

Alumni

Of the vast number of graduates from Petoskey High School that are now out in the world being engaged in their respective duties of making a living, many have achieved fame and fortune, earning for themselves positions of prominence and naturally attracting our interest in their welfare.

Many of our distinguished Alumni have settled down right here at home and are attracting notice in numerous ways. Those of local repute are: Miss Frances Pailthorp, a graduate of 1897, now supervisor of art in the Petoskey Public Schools; Mrs. G. C. Keel, 1887, owner and operator of a successful Needlecraft and Art Shop; Mrs. Leon Chichester, 1894, prominent club woman and former president of the Alumni Association, and A. T. Washburne, 1920, prosecuting attorney. Then there are Dr. R. D. Engle, 1897, a physician; Dr. P. D. Miller, 1905, doctor of dentistry; Dr. Dean C. Burns, 1915, physician and surgeon; Roland Brockway, 1914, manager of the Eckel Drug Company; Zalmon Fryman, 1916, a partner with his father in the Eagle Shoe Company; Kenneth Lake, 1922, a member of the Lake Drug Company, and Clare and George Dean, 1917, members of the firm of Dean Brothers.

Away from the "old home town" and achieving wide reputation are: Dr. Earl Osborne, 1912, a successful physician in Buffalo; Albert Ferris, 1908, first engineer of the largest mine of the American Metals Company, located at Ojulla, Mexico; Dr. Jacob Rosenthal, 1893, a prominent children's specialist in Detroit, and Ralph Hill, 1897, professor of mathematics in the Univeristy of Louisville, Kentucky. These and a host of other eminent personages compose the Alumni of Petoskey High School.

The Alumni Association has nearly completed the raising of funds to finance the beautiful and imposing gateway to the Morgan Curtis Athletic Field. This splendid Alumni memorial is to be the crowning glory of our recently completed athletic field and stadium.

Petoskey High can well boast of the accomplishments of its Alumni.

Dramatics

The dramatic activities of Petoskey High School are by no means diminutive. This year especially has seen much accomplished in dramatics and play production. These activities are sponsored and executed by the Stret and Fret Club. This organization is under the supervision of Mrs. Rosalie Stech, and due to her direction, acting and play production in Petoskey High has been most successful.

A membership of fifty in the Stret and Fret Club insured a good audience for plays read or acted before the group, and provided sufficient material for the plays which were given before the public.

On February 27 the club presented a comedy in three acts by Maud Fulton, "The Brat." It is a clever play in which the hypocrisy of the members of so-called high society is contrasted with the geniusness and honesty of an unspoiled child of the slums. The name-role was successfully portrayed by Margaret Bain. Other parts were ably taken by James Salisbury, Dick Densmore, Dorothea Du Chaine, Willard Barnes, Charlotte Feldman, Isabel Steen, Howard Parks, Anne Moore, Elizabeth Upton, and Audrey Searle. The proceeds of this production went to the Junior Class.

The Senior play chosen this year was "The Patsy," a three-act comedy by Barry Connors. Members of the cast were:

Bill Harrington	James Salisbury
Mrs. Harrington	Dorothea Du Chaine
Grace Harrington	Leila Robinson
Patricia Harrington	Margaret Bain
Billy Caldwell	Don Wells
Tony Anderson	Dick Densmore
Patrick O'Flaherty	Martin Guleserian
Sadie Buchannon	Lorraine Neuman
"Trip" Busty	Lyle Henry

The difficult part of "The Patsy" was played by Margaret Bain with exceptional skill and understanding. Jim Salisbury gave a perfect interpretation of the middle-aged father, while Dorothea Du Chaine as the mother created much amusement by her continual fretting and realistic whining. The spoiled, selfish older sister was excellently played by Leila Robinson. Dick Densmore showed much talent in the portrayal of a part which required exceptional subtlety in acting. In the role of a young scion of wealth Don Wells made the most of his comparatively brief appearances on the stage, making the character stand out distinctly. The minor parts of the play were also very carefully done. The play was presented on April 26 and 27.

Earlier in the season the club gave two one-act plays before the assembly. The first one, "The Wedding Present," was played by Carlton Saunders, Anne Moore, and Howard Parks. It was also given before the local Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs. The cast of the second play, "Not Quite Such a Goose," consisted of Elizabeth Upton, Charlotte Feldman, Dorothy Van Every, James Salisbury, and Arthur Parrish. Another one-act play will be given by the club on May 24 as a part of the Student Council entertainment.

Humor

The 1928 Petosegan

“That fellow is the village humorist.”

“Lived here a long time, I suppose.”

Mrs. Davenport—“I call my nine o'clock Chemistry class the Pullman class, because it has three sleepers and an observation section.”

Miss Moore—“Very good. I call my three o'clock Latin class the pony express.”

“Stop pounding that typewriter! You'll drive me crazy.”

“Well, if a man can't typewrite in his own room, then I'd like to know where he can. You know, a man's room is his palace.”

“Yeah, but who wants to typewrite in a palace?”

Miss Beebe—“Give a derivative of 'somnus'.”

Margie Christopher—“Snore!”

The two Chicagoans walked slowly down the street. One pulled a handsome gold watch from his pocket and looked at it. The other took out a thick roll of yellow-backs and started to count them. There were no policemen around and it was after one A. M. Yet nothing happened. In fact, their whole visit to Philadelphia was uneventful.

Jokes

Bob Mitchell—"Want to buy a ticket to the show?"
Truesdell—"Can't, I have to work tonight."
Bob Mitchell—"Great, the show is tomorrow night."

FIGHT TALK

Don't be discouraged, fellows. Get in there and fight hard. Everybody can't be on the team, you know. Just keep plugging and your turn will come. Let me tell you something. Once there was a fellow out for football that nobody thought had a prayer of making his letter. He was small and slight and didn't know anything about the game. All during his first three years of college he played on the scrub team and sat on the bench during the games. Then came his last season and he was still on the scrubs and it looked as if he'd never make good. But although he didn't know it, the coach had his eye on him and when the captain who was the star halfback got hurt during the big game, the coach decided to give this little fellow his chance. He only made two seventy-yard runs and kicked a field goal the first fifteen minutes he was in there! Boy, that was a swell movie!

Norm—"I just read that a man once went over Niagara Falls in a barrel."
Rigg—"I have a barrel in my cellar that gives me the same sensation."

Dorothea—"What could be sadder than a man without a country?"
Eleanor—"A country without a man."

Overheard in English class:
Miss Richards—"Will somebody help me find my 'Lost Youth?'"

HOME, SWEET HOME

"I am going home."
"Why?"
"Because I live there."

Editor—"Who wrote these jokes?"
Student—"I did, sir."
Editor—"Well, you must be older than you look."

What would happen to Bud Tanner if all the gum factories went out of business?

Taylor—"Say, Frank, you've got some flour on your coat and your mother will know that you've been in the pantry."
Frank—"I don't think that she will miss it."

Diner—"My bill, waiter."
Waiter—"What did you eat?"
Diner—"I don't know."
Waiter—"Hash is forty cents."

Richards—"When a man talks, he never stops to think."

Cortright—"When a woman talks, she never thinks to stop."

Don Wells is thinking of going out for track, when at college. He made nine blocks in one minute.

Kondzeila—"I got something under my hat."

Hyatt—"I doubt it."

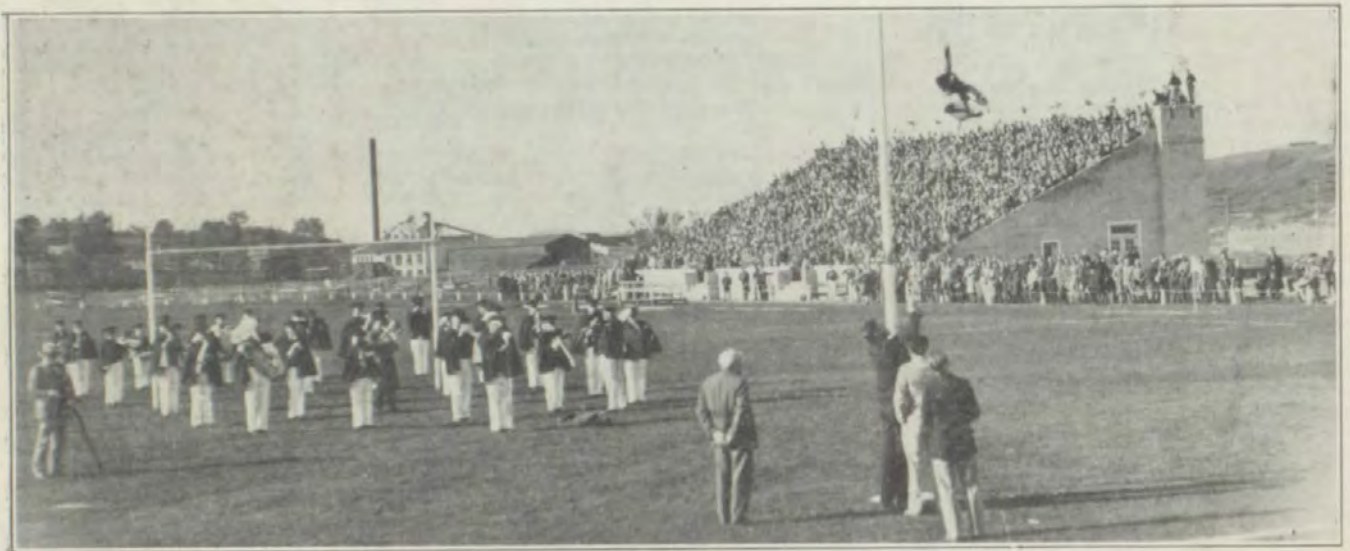

The 1928 Petosegan

Mr. Bates—"In what course do you expect to graduate?"
Jim—"In the course of time."

Guleserian goes up to Cortright and says, "Have you corrected our exam papers yet, Mr. Cortright?" And Rupert smiles at little Martin and says, "No, but I have them here now. I'll correct them one by one and as yours is finished you may come up and get it and then pass out."

He—"We have an All-American player on our team."
She—"Only one? It's terrible the way the foreigners overrun this country."

In the good old days a man could go out and get rousingly drunk, and in the morning when he woke up with a splitting headache, he would put his hand to his forehead and say, "Gosh, I wish I were dead." Nowadays, a man goes out and gets rousingly drunk, and in the morning when he wakes up with a splitting headache, he is dead!

The man went into the hat shop and he asked for a derby.
"Fine," said the salesman. "What color?"
"Oh, it doesn't matter what color," said the man.
"So much the better," said the salesman. "What size?"
"Well," replied the man, "I don't care very much about the size."
"This," said the salesman, "is indeed strange. You come in here and request a derby and don't care about the color or the size!"
"No," said the man. "You see, it's for my trombone."

Frosh—"Yes, I'm the fifth of eight children in our family."
Senior—"That's too bad. If only your folks had two more they would have nine."

He—"I'm full of pep."
She—"Well, if that's pep, I never smelled gin."

The 1928 Petosegan

Brave—“Stalking.”

Chief—“Make it snappy then. Less stalk and more action.”

Mrs. Davenport—“How did they discover iron?”

C. Feldman—“They smelt it.”

Mr. Hirschy—“Tell me something that exists today that didn't exist in ancient days.”

Elmer—“Norm Wells.”

Dumb—“I have a friend who suffers terribly from the heat.”

Dora—“Where is he living?”

Dumb—“He is dead.”

Guleserian—“How did you like Cortright's talk?”

Locke—“He talked too loud. I couldn't sleep.”

Stuart—“Say, your car is a wreck.”

Dick—“Aw, shut up!”

Stuart—“Well, if you don't believe me, come and look at what the train did to it.”

He—“You talk like an idiot.”

She—“I have to, so you will understand me.”

L. Henry—“Who's got more power than a king?”

McCabe—“An ace.”

Salesman—“This book will do half your work.”

Bob Lovelace—“Quick, give me two.”

Little Willie—"Uncle, does papa like to watch you play football?"

Rich Uncle—"What an idea; I don't play football, Willie."

Little Willie—"Well, I heard pop say that whenever you kicked off, he'd quit working"

Teacher—"Give me some quotations from the Bible."

Ely—"And he went and hanged himself."

Teacher—"Good, give another."

Ely—"Go thou, and do likewise."

Tanner (at Manistee)—"Two eggs, poached medium soft, buttered toast, not too hard, coffee, not too much cream in it, and some prunes, bring the largest you have."

Waitress—"Yes, sir; would you like any special design on the dishes?"

Lot's wife had nothing on Mrs. Bates. The former looked back and turned into a pillar of Salt. Mrs. Bates looked back and turned into a telephone pole.

Counsel—"The cross examination didn't seem to worry you. Have you had any experience in that line?"

Client—"Married three times."

Nellist—"Hey, Stan, what kind of a car have you got?"

Kellogg—"I got a wreck."

Nellist—"A wreck?"

Kellogg—"Yeah. Every time I park it, a dozen people come up and ask me if I have reported the accident yet."

Man (at door)—"Lady, I'm the singing teacher."

Lady—"But I didn't send for any singing teacher."

Man (at door)—"I know, but the neighbors did."

A STORY WITH A PLOT

Here is a story with a plot. Stories so seldom have plots nowadays that this one should be doubly welcome. To be brief. John Jones, a very old friend of mine, was hit by an automobile the other day and killed.

The plot? Oh, yes, it’s ten feet by six and very pretty. You’ll find it at the cemetery any time.

No, we can’t all be Lindberghs—just think what a mess the telephone directory would be.

Mrs. Blatz—“I don’t want it. I ain’t got no vacuums in the house.”

“Oh, I beg your pardon. You looked so much like a boy that I took you for a girl.”

Uncle Holtzman says, “I never did trust these circus freaks. Just yestiddy I seen in the paper the headline: ‘Three Armed Men Hold Up Drug Store’.”

Miss Wheelock—“Johnny, if your father earned forty dollars a week and gave your mother half, what would she have?”

Student—“Heart failure.”

Wells—“I was on the stage once.”

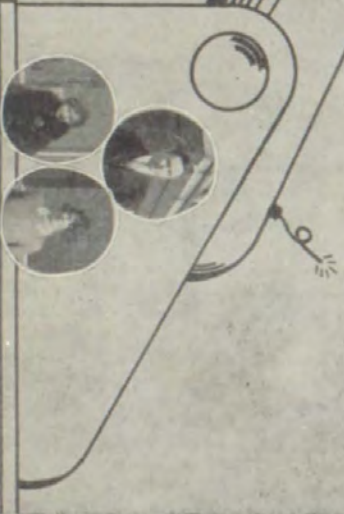

Irv—“Yeah?”

Wells—“Uh-huh, I fell out of the balcony.”

“That is a skyscraper,” announced the guide.

Old Lady—“Oh, my! I’d love to see it work.”

We sincerely hope that you enjoyed these jokes. If you had to look over some of the stuff that we did in preparing this “Humor Section” for you, you’d laugh your head off at these that we have accepted for publication. Of course we have left the best jokes for next year’s Petosegan.
