Tell your baby what you're doing while you are doing it.

Make up your own verses for the song, "If you're happy and you know it."

Let your child handle their own book and turn the pages.

Let your child tear paper or peel tape.

Spot a red car or a blue truck.

Play with cups and water. Use words like, "full-empty" and "in-out."

Sing along to a book!

Read a story and act out the action words.

Use crayons or chalk to make scribbles.

Blow bubbles for your baby to track with their eyes.

Gather something round, lumpy, fuzzy, sticky, or squishy.

Sing the ABC song to a different tune, like Happy Birthday

Point to the words and pictures as you read a book together.

Paint with water.

Find opposites: something big & small; something wet & dry

Find animal tracks. What animal could they belong to?

Say and do the motions to one of your favorite rhymes.

Find a Y shaped twig.

Hide something under a blanket and have your child find it.

Count a basket of objects and sort them into related groups.
