The Foreword

So that in after years, the dust blown from its edge, the cover turned, to waft us gently back over the stream of time to view again the haunts of long lost hours, is the object of the "1924" Petosegan.

Senior Class History

Within the pages of our class history, it is impossible to place all the events which will ever make the memories of our days in P. H. S. so pleasant and so enjoyable. So, briefly, we mention the most important happenings, assured that this can ne'er efface from our minds the pleasures of our school days which are so swiftly nearing a close.

On a bright September morning in the year of 1921, the bells pealed forth "All ye wisdom seekers come," and while the echoing chimes resounded through the air, the Seniors of '24 became the Freshmen of '21. The class organized the first year with the following officers: President, Edward Davy; Vice-President, Thomas Hice; Secretary-Treasurer, Viola Allen. During the year three of our number, Frances Cooper, Leon McDermott and Robert Klise were chosen to represent us in the Freshman-Sophomore debate which was decided in favor of the Sophomores. So quickly the months sped by, that before we realized it, the Freshman year had reached a successful close.

Soon the vacation days were over, and again the bells chimed forth, calling us, as a Sophomore class, to duty. Clyde Mattison was chosen President, Harry Shoemaker, Vice-President, and Clara Locke, Secretary-Treasurer. This year Velma Kahler, Frances Cooper and Reva Jarman represented the class in the annual debate in which the Freshmen were the victors. Many social activities helped make the year a pleasant one; and at its close, we felt that the year had also been a profitable one for the Sophomore class.

At the beginning of the third year, the bells again chimed out, and realizing more than ever our responsibilities, we entered vigorously into the spirit of P. H. S. choosing Clara Locke, President; Allan McCune, Vice-President, and Clyde Mattison, Secretary-Treasurer. To help finance the reception, which it was this year our pleasant task to tender to the Seniors, our class released a Junior Benefit Moving Picture, secured the Alma College Glee Club for a delightful evening's entertainment, and put on the clever and novel Junior Carnival; all proved a most decided success. At the close of the year, the class gave a most splendid reception for the Seniors of '23 at the Elks' Temple. Thus ended our Junior year.

Quickly our Senior year arrived, and with willing hearts we answered our last call to the bells of P. H. S. This year Edwin George became President; Allan McCune, Vice-President; Reva Jarman, Secretary-Treasurer. Our class has the honor of having on its roll the names of some of the best athletes in the school; some of them having been prominent in athletic work throughout the entire four years. This year our highest aim was to make our annual the finest and most perfect ever published. To finance this "Petosegan," the Senior Follies was splendidly staged, and the Senior play, "Daddy Long Legs," given with great success. Slowly, by the loyal and persistent efforts of the Seniors, the money was raised and we believe our annual is one which we may be proud to leave in P. H. S.

Our school days are now almost at a close, and there is a certain tinge of sadness at the thought of parting from P. H. S. which has been, and ever will be, a beloved spot to us. But there is happiness in the thought that Petoskey High will be proud of our success and we feel we will succeed for:

We start with a purpose strong and true
To ever do the right,
A purpose to guide the whole life through
Whether in darkness or light.
To fight life's battles with a valor bold
To live lives of beauty and truth untold,
And ever in purity our lives to mould,
To keep our motto in sight.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Clubs this year were the important part of the music department, the chorus having been done away with.

The Girls' Glee Club, composed of about thirty-five girls, gave several pleasing entertainments in the assembly and when called upon to aid in other programs, always responded very well.

The Glee Club has received fine training under the leadership of Miss Dressander and has done some very commendable work.

Boys' Glee Club

The Boys' Glee Club has been a decided success this year. The membership is large and the boys have entered into the spirit of the thing with fine enthusiasm. They, as well as the girls, have had their share in providing musical entertainment for the high school, and for various clubs in the city. Miss Dressander has developed the talented group into a very fine Glee Club.

1923-24 signifies another successful year for Cliosophic, one of the oldest clubs in our school. This literary and dramatic society meets every two weeks where interesting topics are given.

Variety in the way of music and plays is occasionally offered. This organization gave a Thanksgiving playlet in November and several parties were enjoyed in the gym. Two delightful plays were presented at the open meeting in the spring, which is given annually for the benefit of visitors who wish to learn of the activities of the association.

Much of the success of this club must be attributed to the leadership of Mrs. Stech, who is faculty advisor.

Student House

The Student House started out this year with a very large enrollment. The House was divided into two parties, the Radicals and the Conservatives, headed by Wayne Miles and William Ellis, respectively.

At the first meeting the House elected Mr. Collins as the speaker of the House. Likewise, Edson Lee was chosen clerk, George Schluttenhofer as the assistant clerk, and Bernard Williams as the sergeant-at-arms. After the departure of Mr. Collins Mr. Hirschy became our speaker.

The meetings of the House were opened with the discussion of the Ship Subsidy Bill. Other interesting bills followed as: Soldiers' Bonus, Japanese Immigration Problem, and Tax Exempt Securities be Taxed in the Future. These bills were very interesting and they were very warmly debated in the meetings of the House.

The open meeting of the House this year was a great success. The members of the House met as a political party convention to nominate a candidate to run for President of the United States on their ticket. This was a novel undertaking and was enjoyed by the members of the House as much as by the visitors.

The House was a success this year, judging by the number that were eligible to go to the banquet at the end of the year.

The advancement made in the activities of the Radio Club of this year is very remarkable. With last year's experience as a foundation the club has progressed greatly.

Last year the receiving set was improved and many pleasurable entertainments were enjoyed by its use. This year, under Mr. Jacobs' direction, the broadcasting set was installed, the license for broadcasting was obtained, and the club began its work.

The first basketball game to be transmitted from the Petoskey School Radio Station, was that with Traverse City, then Cadillac, and following these, all the rest of the games which were fought on our home floor. Many games were transmitted during the tournament for the benefit of the people whose teams were represented here.

The club has also broadcasted pleasing programs, consisting of songs, readings, etc., and these have been very well received and enjoyed by the public.

Dramatics is a subject which was newly introduced into our high school this year. A club was organized early last fall and at the first meeting a very large number was present.

Regular meetings have been held during the year, and the work is taken up the same as any subject in the regular high school curriculum.

In order to win credit in dramatics, each member must have been in one play during the year. Miss Benore, who was chosen faculty advisor, has put on several of these plays, and they were all very well coached and presented successfully. This course has given high school students practical experience and much useful knowledge in the art of Dramatics. "The Charm School," a delightful comedy, was presented early in the spring and was a decided success.

This year all the Campfire groups have taken decidedly more interest in their clubs and in the carrying out of their work.

The High School Campfire is divided into three groups, the Petosegas with Miss Lancaster as leader; the Alahi with Miss Zipp as guardian, and the Paka division under the leadership of Miss Scales.

All the groups have thought of novel and original ideas for the advancement of the society. These ventures have been undertaken successfully for the purpose of raising funds.

The recreation of the Campfire consists in hikes and parties, several of which were enjoyed this year. Last fall a playlet, "The Flower of Yeddo," was presented by the groups.

Their work has been very helpful and influential, and their activities more numerous than in any previous year.

High School Orchestra

The high school orchestra this year has contributed a great deal to the success of entertainments given at the high school.

The orchestra is a larger and finer one than most schools of our size possess and we are proud of the work produced this year under the leadership of Mr. McCollum.

Following is the personnel:

Director: Mr. McCollum.

First Violins: Leslie McCollum, Emma Burns, Gertrude Annesser, Lucile Germond, Jacob Conklin, Elsie Bohm.

Second Violins: Dorothy Halstead, Edward Pagel, Christopher Boland, Dale Sweet, Helen Gokee, Margaret Lake.

Flutes: Grace McCollum, Lloyd Miller.

Clarinets: Allan McCune, Waldo VanEvery, Lyle Wilson.

Cornets: James Salisbury, Harold Miller.

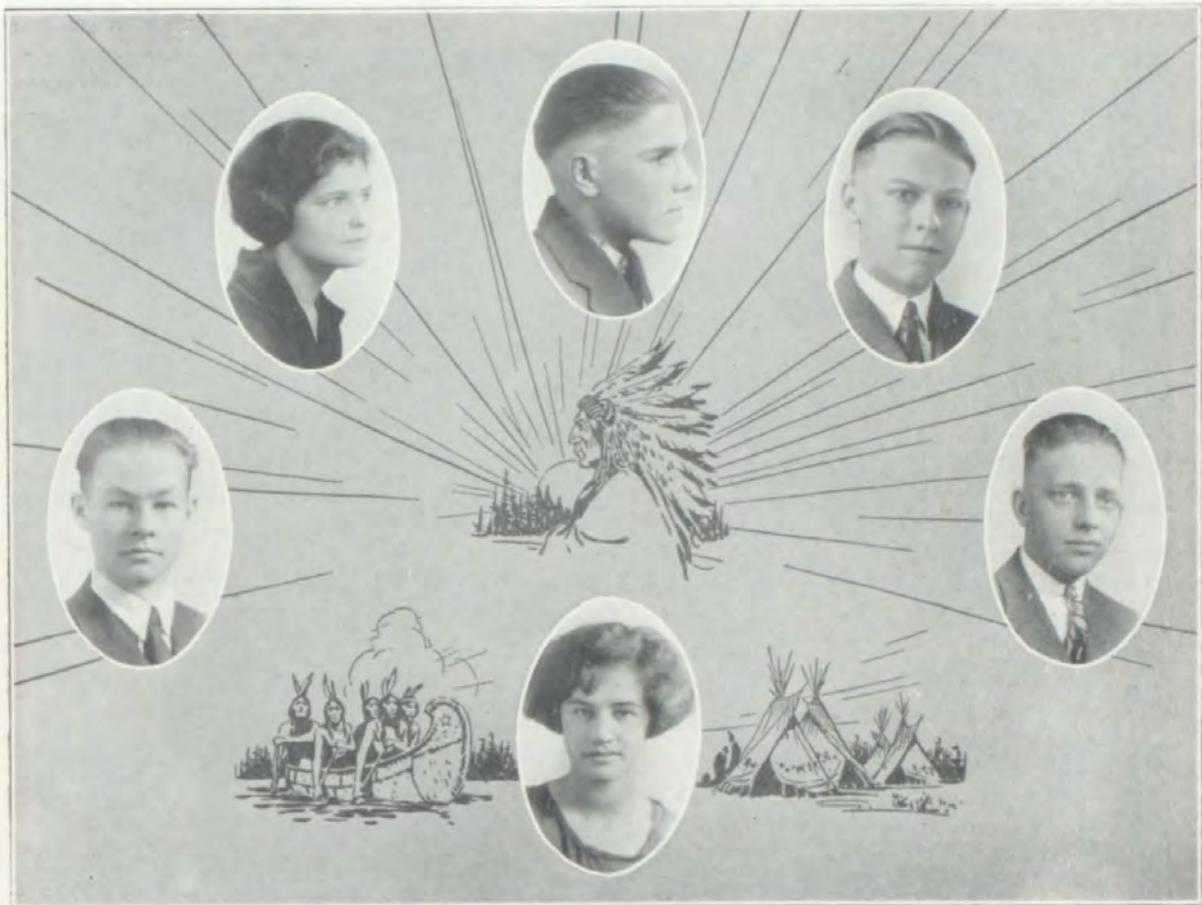

Trombone: Arthur Hinkley.

Saxophone: Harry Beese.

Bassoon: Robert Datson.

Drums: Neal Maston.

Piano: Viola Allen.

Debating

At the beginning of the year a large number tried out for the debating team. Those who were successful made up the following teams:

Affirmative: Sara Jane Lininger, Albert Crawford and Clyde Comstock.

Negative: Clara Locke, Mike Carland and William Ellis.

The question for debate was: Resolved that the Subsidization of Our Merchant Marine Is a Wise National Policy.

The week after Christmas, Traverse came here, where we lost, but to make up for this our negative team won at Traverse the following week.

On March 12 and 13, we were rather unfortunate in that we lost both debates with the Soo, but both our teams put up a good fight and the decisions were made with difficulty.

Our affirmative team won from Cadillac here. This tied us with Cadillac for the championship of the triangular league of Petoskey, Traverse City and Cadillac. Our negative team, however, was defeated at Cadillac and thus we barely missed getting a cup similar to the one we won last year.

The Junior Hi-Y is a new club which has been organized successfully this year. The membership is very large and the boys are very enthusiastic in their work.

The purpose of introducing the Junior Hi-Y into the school is that the younger boys may receive the same training in moral ideals and conditions as the older boys who are members of the Hi-Y. They are headed by Harold George, who has already had training in his own club.

Both from a scoring standpoint and that of the number of games won and lost, the "grid" season of '23 was a decided success for P. H. S.

The call for candidates was issued the first day of school, September 10, by Mr. Doyle, our new head coach. A number of huskies reported, including twelve veterans. Several green men also were on hand who looked good enough to make the first-stringers of last year hustle to retain their positions.

Before the first game, however, the jinx which seemed to follow the team throughout the season, played its trump card when the squad suffered through the loss of McCabe and E. Lee, both out of the game for the remainder of the season by injuries sustained in early scrimmages.

Onaway then cancelled its game with P. H. S. on September 29, and it was only after four weeks, in which time strenuous workouts were in order for the squad, that Petoskey was able to open her '23 schedule away from home on October 6, at Cheboygan.

A good representation of the student body and townspeople were present when the first whistle blew, and the noise they made helped materially in P. H. S.'s first victory. The team was outplayed in the first half and Cheboygan led at the end of the first period. However, the locals staged a strong come-back, scoring fourteen points, while Cheboygan was able to score only a drop-kick in the closing minutes of the play, making the score 14-19.

The game on the previous Saturday showed several weaknesses which Coach Doyle worked hard to remedy in the week before the Harbor Springs game on the 13th. The team was not forced to extend itself to win, as only eight plays were used to defeat the gridders from across the bay, 21-13.

The trip to the Soo represents Petoskey's worst disaster in the season. The fellows traveled from the comparatively mild weather of Northern Michigan to a climate better suited to Labrador than to any so-called temperate locality. The playing field was covered with everything the fury of the elements could produce: snow, mud, and ice-cold water. Submarines or canoes would have been the best equipment to overcome these obvious natural difficulties. Incidentally, this is the worst defeat Petoskey has suffered in any sport since 1921.

October 27th was one of the red-letter days in P. H. S. athletics for 1923.

"BEAT BOYNE" was the slogan of the fans all the week before, and win we did, to the tune of 40-7. Several factors combined to bring about the desired result, as follows:

- a—Coach Doyle and the team.
- b—Desire for revenge on someone after our defeat at the Soo, and to even the score we had with B. C. S. H. after our defeat last year at their hands.
- c—The splendid support of the student body.
- d—Gigantic pep-meeting and parade in the city market and in the down town district.

The team showed their complete superiority over Boyne in every department of the contest.

On November 3rd Petoskey played Charlevoix on the latter's home lot. The team, in this game, blasted the hope of the confident Charlevoix aggregation and supporters, and everyone knows what confidence means in Charlevoix. No effort was made to completely crush the Charlevoix hopes and her fair defenders. So Petoskey took an easy game—18-6.

Although the victory was ours, it cost us dearly. "Buck" Slack, a stellar end, broke his left arm at the wrist and was lost to the team until 1924.

On the following Saturday, the 10th, the Cadillac High School football team and supporters nearly one hundred per cent strong came to Petoskey (to help the local and Cadillac American Legion celebrate Armistice Day?).

This, as everyone knows, is Petoskey's "big" game for the year. This year the Blue and White was doped to cop by an overwhelming score on the basis of Boyne City's win over the Blue and Gold early in the season by a 12-10 count, and Petoskey's defeat of B. C. H. S. by a 40-7 score. In this contest, however, Cadillac presented a much stronger line-up than that which faced Boyne.

The crowd of twenty-five hundred fans and rooters, that afternoon, were given a real treat. Both teams played the game in a manner worthy of any high school football team, and the outcome was never certain until the final whistle blew, marking the end of a perfect day for P. H. S.

Petoskey scored early in the first period, several disastrous fumbles making scoring impossible for the local machine. Cadillac scored in the last few minutes of the first half as a result of a long pass and several line plunges. Cadillac kicked goal, which Petoskey had been unable to do, and the half ended with P. H. S. trailing 7-6.

The team again showed its ability to overcome difficulties when in the second period it scored two touchdowns while holding Cadillac scoreless. The final result was 18-7.

On the following Saturday Alpena came, determined to upset the dope and ruin P. H. S.'s unbroken string of Northern Michigan victories. However, little difficulty was experienced in defeating A. H. S. 13-6.

With the title of Northern Michigan for 1923 at stake at Traverse on the 24th, the team put in some of its hardest work of the season.

The squad left Friday after a rousing sendoff from the student body and they were followed the next day by from four to five hundred Petoskey fans.

The first half ended with the count knotted at 0-0. In this period P. H. S. had several chances to score but failed to deliver. As the second half began the Traverse City gridders rushed the ball to Petoskey's thirty-yard line where they place kicked a pretty goal for three points. Petoskey elected to kick and a few minutes later a touchdown was scored by Traverse and the goal kicked, making the score 10-0. Then P. H. S. opened up with a beautiful aerial attack and a forty-yard pass, Parrish to Shoemaker, which was responsible for the Blue and White's first and only score. Several unfortunate fumbles marked Petoskey's offensive play in the remainder of the contest, while T. C. H. S. was able to put over one more touchdown in the fourth quarter.

An incident showing the power of P. H. S.'s defence occurred in the fourth quarter. Traverse gained a first-down on the Blue and White's one-foot strip and seven drives at the line were used by the opponents to score from that point.

After such a brilliant game Traverse City necessarily forfeited to P. H. S., thus closing the season with Petoskey as the Northern Michigan Champions.

Thirteen members of the squad finished their football careers in P. H. S. with the Traverse game.

Fourteen men received letters and also sweaters given by the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, as follows: Captain "Bill" Hitchings, Shoemaker, H. George, Wolff, E. George, Mattison, Beer, Parrish, Slack, L. Lee, Tillotson, Gemmil, Fay, Hinkley.

The squad was entertained at banquets given by the Knights of Columbus and the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs. At the latter the following gold miniature footballs were given:

For the best all-around player and the player with the best spirit, on and off the playing field—awarded to Captain "Bill" Hitchings.

For the best tackler on the squad—awarded to Gus Parrish.

For the best blocker on the team—awarded to S. Fay, Captain-elect.

P. H. S. was honored by having several members on the All Northern Michigan Mythical Team. Parrish, the 1923 full back. Tillotson gained mention as at tackle in two teams. Fay also gained recognition at half position as did Gemmil at guard. Hinkley, the other guard, also received mention.

Although ten men graduate, a good team ought to be developed next season to make possible another championship for the Blue and White.

This year with a flock of youthful aspirants to pick from, Coach Doyle developed a very successful reserve team. A very heavy schedule was played with the Blue and White reserves outclassing all the other reserve teams of Northern Michigan.

With fifteen men of this year's squad of twenty to return for next year's team, a successful season is anticipated. The caliber of future Blue and White fives is not a subject for speculation after such a successful season for the reserves.

The Season's Summary

On November 26 the call for candidates for the '23-'24 basketball team was issued by Coach Doyle. A number of aspirants reported, including Captain Beer, Hoffman, Fay, Olson and Behan of last year's championship team. Of the five regulars only Frye, last year's captain, was lost to the squad through graduation. Consequently a very successful season was anticipated.

Practice began in earnest the Monday after Thanksgiving, pointing for the Mancelona game, only ten days away. With so little time to shape his team, Coach Doyle cut the squad rapidly and settled down to work with the chosen few, teaching them the rudiments of the game and the style of offence and defence to be used.

Little difficulty was experienced in piling up a 35-7 count on the Mancelona quintet. The local squad showed exceptional form for an early season game, and many substitutes were used to a good advantage.

The following Friday night, Pellston High came to the local court with their usual confidence, and were overwhelmed by the score of 33-9. The Blue and White defensive play featured this game, Pellston having practically no chances whatever to goal from anywhere except the middle of the floor.

During Christmas vacation the Alumni scheduled a game with the local quint for December 26. This is an annual affair and much interest is aroused, as the former stars like to show that they can still play the game as well or better than the team which has the ascendancy in High School circles of the year. The High School team in past years has had difficulty in copping one of these games, the last win being in 1921, 28-27. This year, however, the old-timers were not able to stand the pace set by the speedy High five and were snowed under 27-15.

Friday, January 11, '24, saw the Cheboygan High quint on the local court. The invaders came with a string of unbroken victories to their credit, to which they added a 19-18 win over the Blue and White five, in an overtime contest.

"The Best Team in the North," playing only a fair game of basketball, led at the end of the first half 10-3, and retained this lead until there was but a minute and a half remaining until the final gun, when Cheboygan scored two goals, knotting the count as the game ended, 16-16. In the overtime period, a basket slipped in by Wolff was Petoskey's only counter, while Cheboygan garnered a free-throw and a field-goal from mid-floor.

The next night the team made the trip to Pellston and scored a 17-4 victory over the squad representing Pellston High. This was the second for the locals over Pellston this year. P. H. S.'s defence play in the contest was considerably more noticeable than in the game of the preceding evening.

January 18, the Kalkaska quint with quite a string of victories to their credit came to fill an open date on the Blue and White's schedule. However, the locals outpointed and outplayed them after a rather hotly contested first half and won 19-4.

The following Saturday found both East Jordan and P. H. S. teams snow-bound here, Petoskey having a game scheduled with Charlevoix, which was cancelled because of the impossibility of procuring transportation to that city. A game was scheduled for that evening which resulted in a victory for the Blue and White in a slow and uninteresting contest, 22-4.

On February 1, P. H. S. journeyed to Harbor Springs, followed by a large crowd of rooters. Here, lacking the services of Albert McCabe, Orville Olson and Harold George, the Blue and White dropped a second game, 17-15. In this game the features were the roughness and the inability of the local squad to find the hoop.

February 7 saw Traverse City here for the big basketball contest of the year. Before a mammoth crowd the Black and Gold managed to nose out the Blue and White in the closing minutes of play, 9-7, but only after a fierce struggle. Petoskey opened the scoring with a pretty basket by Hoffman. Traverse City retaliated with a lucky one from a tip-off. The quarter ended with the score 2-2, and the half ended 5-2, with P. H. S. on the small end of the score. In the final period P. H. S. rallied and with the game almost over, Hoffman tied the score at 7, when a technical foul had been called on Traverse City.

Another strenuous overtime period game was expected, as was the case last year, until Traverse garnered a lucky basket just before the gun. The sting of defeat was taken away, however, when Copeland, one of the Traverse City stars, was declared ineligible and the game was forfeited to Petoskey.

Two days later the unbeaten Boyne City organization played Petoskey on the home floor, after they had beaten Harbor the night before 10-4. As is usual, the meeting of the two schools resulted in a very rough and spirited contest, which P. H. S. finally won 17-12.

Charlevoix's much-touted quint came to Petoskey the following Friday. They had completed a very successful northern tour earlier in the season and were considered one of the strong teams of the section. The contest was close only at the end, when P. H. S. exhibited some of the cleverest "stalling" seen on the local court this season and won 17-13.

On the following Friday night the fast Soo quintet invaded the local court. Little difficulty was experienced for P. H. S. in copping the contest 22-13.

Petoskey's offence featured the contest, with exceptional passing of Beer, Hoffman, Slack and Olson making the general all-around play fast and, at times, spectacular. Hoffman's basket shooting was another feature of the game, sinking seven field-goals from all points on the floor.

On a two-game trip, the following week, the Blue and White quint broke even with one loss to Traverse City 14-13, and a win from Cadillac 11-9.

George, at center, again proved his worth when he completely outplayed Cooper, the Traverse City pivot man. McCabe and Olson played their positions well, so well in fact, that Babel, Traverse's star, failed to get a goal from the field.

At Cadillac, the locals turned in a pretty 11-9 win, in a fast game. Cadillac got an early start and led as first quarter ended, 7-1. However, the Blue and White pulled them short during the rest of the contest, and one field-goal was the best they could do, while P. H. S. was scoring ten points. The Cadillac quint showed an exceptionally fast offence and looked good at the beginning of the game, but C. H. S. "ain't" what she used to be as far as basketball is concerned.

Wednesday, the fifth of March, a return game was played with Charlevoix, which resulted in another victory for the "best team in the north" 19-11. Charlevoix was outclassed in every department of the game in this contest.

The game all the fans were waiting to see came off the same week Friday night. Half of Harbor Springs came over to see the game, and they announced that the only way Petoskey could win was to be crooked about the officiating. To eliminate this difficulty, an umpire and a referee both were secured, and, as a result a Harbor player was taken out of the game on personal fouls. A basketball team that has real class will always come out ahead in the end, and Petoskey won a comparatively easy game 13-4. Harbor failed to even score a field-goal, which not only speaks well of the Blue and White defence but also might cast some light on the Harbor offence.

P. H. S. completed the '23-'24 schedule in the local court, with Cadillac as an opponent. In a rather slow and uninteresting contest, the Blue and White outplayed and outpointed the Gold and Blue, winning 23-12. However, there were occasional flashes of the spectacular nature. Petoskey showed better team work than before exhibited during the season. "Buck" Slack was the scoring ace for P. H. S. with five field-goals and two free-throws. McCabe, our "tiny guard," was out of the game because of injuries, and his position was creditably handled by Wolff throughout the contest.

With this win Petoskey landed in fourth place in number of games won and lost in the Northern Michigan circuit. Manistee was first with a clean slate, Cheboygan was second, and Traverse City third. However, contrary to the opinion of some schools in the past, the tournament decides the championship of this district, an account of which may be found elsewhere in this book.

Fifth Annual Basketball Tournament

Again this year, the Petoskey gymnasium was the place chosen to stage the annual district tournament for Northern Michigan. Keen interest was shown as to the outcome of the tournament in both classes. Manistee was the favorite to cop the Class B division, while Charlevoix, Harbor Springs and Alba ruled strong favorites in Class C. A larger representation of the schools in Northern Michigan was present at this tourney than ever before.

Huge crowds, packing the "gym" to its capacity, watched and applauded the play during each session. On the whole, the tourney was the most successful of the five that have been run off here—except for the unfortunate way in which the Blue and White lost the championship of the Northern section by one point to Cheboygan.

The accompanying chart speaks plainer than words in describing the outcome of the whole tourney. However, something must be said concerning the excellent work of the P. H. S. quint. In their first game—P. H. S. versus Jimmie Norlock of Cadillac—the outcome was always doubtful until a few minutes before the gun. The Blue and White finally nosed out the scrappy Blue and Gold five 16-10. The next game—that with Manistee—created the most excitement of any during the whole meet—that is, before the game. Manistee was the strong favorite and the local quintet went on the floor determined to win or die in the attempt. As it turned out they didn't have to come anywhere near dying. Manistee never had a chance—not once during the whole game. P. H. S. outplayed, outpointed and outgeneraled them completely and won a 30-7 contest with all the substitutes playing in the last quarter. This was the big surprise of the tournament and due credit should be given the entire team for copping this important game. Now, coming to the final game, there isn't much to be said. With a 16-6 lead in the third quarter, and every one of Petoskey's fans feeling rather confident, as of a right they should have been, Cheboygan staged a scoring rally and began to sink counters from everywhere on the floor. P. H. S. failed to score even a free-throw after this and Cheboygan won 17-16. Everyone was struck dumb, even the Cheboygan team—but not the Cheboygan rooters, they were rather pleased, to have heard their noise. It was a bitter defeat, but everyone there knew which was the best team, we are proud to state. Brackett was the Cheboygan star, while Hoffman was the shining light for P. H. S. We'll get you next year, Cheboygan!

In Class C Rogers City was the "dark horse." They came straight through their brackets to the finals, defeating the Charlevoix five on their way and they were conceded an even chance to win from Harbor in the final tilt. However, they were swamped 22-12, in a rather uninteresting game, devoid of thrills.

The following week the winners and the runners-up in both Class B and C from all the district tournaments meet at M. A. C. gymnasium in East Lansing to decide the State Championship. Petoskey lost the first game to Lowell, 18-10. Likewise, sweet to relate, Cheboygan dropped by the wayside in their first game, 23-9.

1923 TRACK TEAM

Northern Michigan Track and Field Meet

On May 26, 1923, Coach Lennox took his well-balanced squad to Cadillac to compete in the Annual Northern Michigan Field and Track Meet. Big Rapids, Manistee, Traverse City, Cadillac and Petoskey were represented in Class A with several smaller schools competing in Class B. As the events were run off it became evident that Class A honors were divided among Cadillac, Traverse City and Petoskey. Many stars from these schools were developed and by means of their efforts the outcome was doubtful until the last event. The Blue and White managed to nose out Cadillac 43-41, with Traverse City trailing with 35 markers.

With this victory came a beautiful silver cup to grace our trophy case, and a cup was given to Captain Harold George for his individual work, having gained twenty points by his own efforts.

Last year a tennis tourney was organized with twenty-eight of the high school boys entering. Considerable attention was paid it, especially after it was announced that the winners of the semi-finals matches were to go to the National Tennis Tournament in Ann Arbor. Leslie McCollum won a hard-fought semi-finals match from L. Sager and he and Ira Chichester went to the National meet in Ann Arbor the following week. Leslie McCollum was defeated by Gilbert from Kalamazoo, the winner of the tournament, 6-1, 6-0, while Ira Chichester lost to a man from Detroit Central, 6-3, 6-2. Another interesting tournament is anticipated this year, but as this book goes to press the results are not known. The accompanying chart gives last year's tournament.

Senior Leaders' Corps

With the Senior Leaders' Corps of last year as a nucleus, the Leaders' Corps of 1924 was built up. The membership was increased and tests had to be passed before students could join.

The object of this organization is to study the various phases of physical education. The members of the club aid Mr. MacMillan in his work with the younger boys.

The Leaders' Corps put on a dance in the Senior Follies in the early part of the year. Later they aided in entertaining the crowd between the halves of the basketball games.

Physical Education

Physical Education is the science of keeping the body in condition for every day tasks. The mass of boys and girls need more attention than the athlete who is perfect through the gift of a wonderful body or by the constant attention of his coach.

In order to know the physical condition of each student an examination of heart and general health is taken. From this the student is either allowed to take the work offered by the physical department or is watched until the doctor feels safe to allow him to resume active exercise.

General work for both boys and girls in this department consists of disciplinary exercises such as the common marching tactics or army facing and general posture tests. One of the things sought for is discipline. Exercises to develop all parts of the body are given. Wands, dumb-bells and free-arm exercises help to keep the students limber. These give him a sense of rythm and grace besides the good derived from keeping the heart and muscles ready for any emergency.

Apparatus work has been a very prominent part of the training. No effort has been made to produce circus performers, but the parallel bars, mats and horse have helped to add agility, strength and courage to the student's make-up.

Group games are used to vary the program. Cage Ball, Basketball, Volley Ball and Indoor Baseball have been used to keep the interest keen for the more strenuous and more difficult parts of the program. Games teach the students to play fair, to play together, and to sacrifice for team-work.

A leaders' club has been formed for the study of various phases of Physical Education and to aid in developing a better department in this field of education.

An intra-mural for both the boys and girls has been conducted in Basketball. At certain periods of the week every one has been given a chance to play in these class contests. All were eligible to take part and the games were enjoyed very much by the players.

Both the girls and the boys have enjoyed physical features outside of school hours. Girls have played in a number of preliminary games and enjoyed Campfire work. The boys have a very well organized Boys' Work program which takes care of their time after school and Saturdays. Likewise, there is to be a camp conducted for a few weeks after the close of the school year.

On the whole the Department of Physical Education, under the direction of W. J. MacMillan, has had a very successful year with prospects of increasing the interests and value next year.

VANITY FAIR

Beauty Section

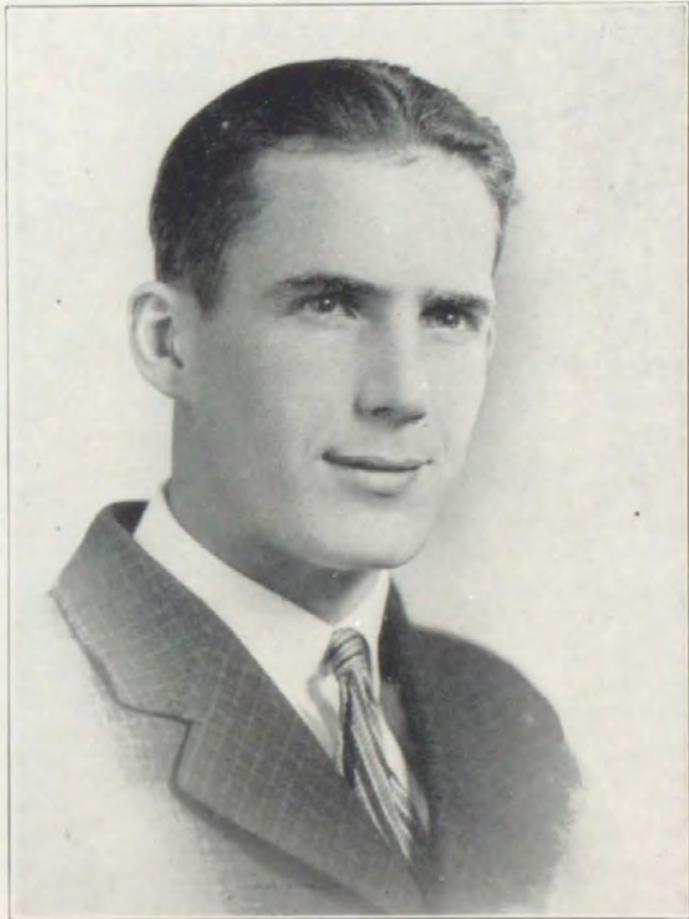

REVA. L. JARMAN

It was pretty hard for the Senior Class to choose the best looking girl this year, but we feel that the pulchritude of the class is well represented in Reva Jarman. You can always depend on the girls with burnished gold hair and beautiful complexions to win beauty contests.

CLYDE MATTISON

It was harder yet to pick the class Apollo. We are almost certain that every man in the class voted for himself. Still, we are not a conceited class! But we find that the class has had remarkably good taste for the second time in choosing Clyde Mattison as handsomest boy.

If you want to see all the rest of the good looking people in the Senior Class, we invite you to turn to the front of the book.

Popularity Section

CLARA E. LOCKE

Now let us introduce to you our most popular couple, Clara Locke and Edwin George.

Clara Locke is the type of girl who makes no enemies and who is admired by everyone. She has a friendly smile and a lot of pep.

EDWIN GEORGE

Our class president again proves how well liked he is by becoming the most popular man in the class. He has been a most successful class president, and we are sure that he will have the same success that he has had in high school all through his life.

Senior Contest

This year the Senior Class had a contest to determine certain facts concerning the class of '24. The Staff had questionnaires printed and gave one to every member of the class, and we asked that these questionnaires be given back in a few days, properly filled out. The majority of the class gave back the questionnaires answered properly, and the Staff, on these pages, will now announce the outcome of this contest.

The first question was, "What is the greatest honor which can be obtained during a high school course?" Most of the seniors agreed that to be valedictorian was the greatest honor, while others, who do not consider study so important, thought that to become class president was the greatest honor. In either case, the seniors of '24 who have obtained these honors are very worthy of them. Some of our clever classmates refused to take even this question seriously and we had various answers as, "getting a diploma," and "becoming teacher's pet." Although we laugh when we read these answers we are glad that the clever seniors are in the minority.

The rest of the questions concerned various people in the class. Everyone agreed that Allan McCune is destined to become the most successful man, at whatever he attempts to do, while Reva Jarman is going to become the most successful woman. Maybe some day the rest of us will be very proud to say that we were in the same graduating class as Reva Jarman and Allan McCune.

It is easy to see why Harold George was chosen as the man who has done most for the school, while Frances Cooper was elected as the girl who has done the most for the school.

Next come our aristocratic couple, Ira Chichester and Emma Burns. We are glad that our class has some aristocratic members, and we can't help but wish that there were more like these.

On the other hand, Leon McDermott and Clara Locke are our most democratic seniors. We would rather like some more like these, too.

In spite of the much talked about dignity of Seniors, our class certainly does not suffer from too much of this characteristic. But we are mighty glad that we have two dignified members in Ira Chichester and Emma Burns. Their closest friends tell us that sometimes they aren't as dignified as they appear, but we have to judge from appearances and we hope these appearances aren't entirely deceitful. Dignity, in a senior class, is a rare and beautiful thing.

Leon McDermott and Fae Otto share honors as the most energetic seniors. They have proven that there are members of this class who know how to work.

No class would be complete without fashion plates and Harry Beese and Dagmar Lusk were chosen as our fashion plates.

And to continue with light-headed seniors, Milton Lancaster and Frances Cooper were elected the best dancers, light in feet as well as head.

We feel that the class of '24 has a right to boast of their athletic prowess. Harold George and Bertha Barney were chosen from all the athletes in the class as the best.

The Chosen Seniors

Our class "grinds," Ed Latocha and Alice Worth, have proven to the rest of the class that there is nothing in life as important to them as work. We wish them success—they deserve it.

But there are others who do not consider work of such great importance, such as the class cut-ups, Marion Tanner and Howard Gilman, who have spent their high school days in a most worthwhile way, making the rest of us laugh. For what would life be worth if we couldn't laugh?

The majority of us are hard-working, industrious seniors—we admit it ourselves. Every class, however, has some members who get through life bluffing and making all the rest of the class green with envy by "getting away with it." Our class bluffers who always "get away with it" are Georgia Rigg and Bob Stoughton.

Bert Beer was chosen as Class Sheik and Georgia Rigg as Class Sheba.

Howard Gilman, who never takes anything seriously, was elected as our Happy-Go-Lucky Senior.

It is very fitting that Ira Chichester and Emma Burns should be chosen as the handsomest couple and Harold George and Alice Miller as the most devoted couple. While Leon McDermott and Leone Jarman are our best matched couple. We wonder—was it because their names are best matched? But we leave that to your imagination. Then we got funny and asked "Who would make the oddest couple?" and everybody answered "Bud Mattison and Grace McCollum."

The Senior Follies of '24

The Follies went off with a bang this year. Clever n' original, n' peppy, n' everything.

Good vaudeville shows begin with movies. Ours began with a comedy, "Victor Moore" in "Camping Out." Judging by the laughs from the audience it was well appreciated.

Walter MacMillan put on a dance number called the "Hungarian Csardas." The costumes were clever, the dance, "different."

The Senior girls presented a little dance all their own in the "El Floradona Sextette." Viola Allen, Frances Cooper and Alice Miller proved that they could be most demure young ladies, while Clara Locke, Lorah Adelle Cole and Pauline Schebrat made the best looking men we've seen for a long time.

Olive Parrish and Frances Cooper, who delight in giving us new dances, danced a Spanish Fandango in gay costumes.

One of the most amusing numbers on the program was McDonald and Company in "Thass My Horse." "Mac" starred with his horse Elmer in a mirth-provoking way.

The Staff of the Petosegan wish to take this opportunity to thank everyone who worked with us and helped to make the "Follies" a success. But most especially we want to thank Mr. McDonald for the clever act which he contributed to the "Follies." The "Follies" would not be the "Follies" without a McDonald and Company act.

SYNOPSIS.

Judy Abbot is an unusually bright and pretty orphan in the John Grier Home. Because of her capability she has been retained until her eighteenth year. The world-weary and wealthy Jervis Pendleton, a new member of the Board of Trustees, becomes interested in Judy and sends her to college where she rooms with his niece, Julia Pendleton, and also Sallie McBride, whose father owns an overall factory. Mr. Pendleton, however, keeps his interest in Judy a secret. Not even Judy Abbot herself knows who is financing her college career. But longing to "belong" to someone, she calls her unknown benefactor "Daddy Long Legs," because she once saw his shadow.

As Julia Pendleton's uncle, Jervis Pendleton is able to visit his ward while she is in college without causing any comment. Here he is delighted with the charming Judy and is dismayed to find that while she loves Daddy Long Legs, to whom she has written many letters, she regards him as a feeble old man. He is also troubled to discover that Judy is interested in Jimmie McBride, the brother of one of her room-mates.

During the summer vacation Jervis Pendleton sends his ward to the farm home of his old nurse, Mrs. Semple. Here, too, he is able to visit her frequently. During these visits his interest in Judy deepens into love; but when he asks her to marry him she refuses because she cannot tell him that she is an orphan. Jervis goes away sorrowfully believing that he is too old to interest Judy and that she cares for Jimmy McBride. Finally, Judy, who loves Jervis Pendleton very deeply, goes to the home of her Daddy Long Legs to ask his advice about the whole matter and is amazed and overjoyed to find that Daddy Long Legs and Jervis Pendleton are one and the same person.

Senior Party

The first social event of the year among the classes of the High School took place Saturday evening, October 27, when the Senior Class entertained their friends at a dancing party in the gymnasium. The Boyne City and Petoskey football players were the guests of honor. The gymnasium was very beautifully decorated in the school colors, blue and white. The dance music for the evening was furnished by Viola Allen and Sylvester Fay. Punch and wafers were served as refreshments. The party was chaperoned by Superintendent Spitler and Principal Bates. The dancing continued until a late hour.

Members of the committee which was responsible for the success of the party were Harry Beese, Robert Klise, Frances Cooper and Clara Locke.

Sophomore Party

On the evening of November 30, the Sophomores gave their annual dancing party, entertaining over 125 guests. The gymnasium was elaborately decorated with streamers of blue and white and also of brown and gold, the latter being the class colors. A very attractive orchestra pit of pine trees was erected. The program consisted of a piano and vocal solo by Viola Allen, also a very fascinating Japanese dance by Louise Rine.

The mysterious Madame X, the Fortune Teller, was a great attraction throughout the evening. A small stand was conducted by a few members of the Sophomore Class where one might obtain confetti, balloons, whistles and favors of all kinds.

Delicious refreshments were served, consisting of sweet cider and cookies, while Cole's five-piece orchestra played for the dancing.

Freshman Party

The annual Freshman All-School dance, held in the gymnasium on Saturday evening, November 17, was a huge success. A splendid little program was given for the occasion. Frances Cooper and Alice Miller gave a delightful little Chinese dance, "The Flower of Yeddo," which brought much applause. The Petoskey Field Song was sung by all the guests. And finally, a most interesting goal-kicking contest proved to be one of the big events of the evening. Those participating in the contest were the guests of honor, the Alpena and Petoskey football players, with an Alpena player capturing the prize. Between the numbers of the program, periods of dancing were enjoyed. The music was furnished by Cole's orchestra.

Light refreshments of punch and waffers were served.

This would be an appropriate place to mention the numerous receptions and dancing parties which were held after the basketball games during the winter season. These were always well attended and were greatly enjoyed. Music was usually furnished either by Cole's orchestra or by some high school jazz orchestra.

1923 J-Hop

The twenty-fifth annual Junior-Senior reception was given by the class of '24 to the class of '23 on June 9, 1923, at the Elks' Temple, Petoskey. The class broke all former traditions by holding the "Hop" in town, instead of at some out-of-town hotel, and it proved to be a remarkable success.

An elaborate banquet was served in the dining room, with a program of toasts following, with Clara Locke acting as toast-mistress. Those appearing on the program were: Mr. P. G. Lantz, Miss Mae Strong, Marion Barmore, Leon McDermott, Reva Jarman, Frances Cooper, Olive McIntyre and the Boys' Glee Club. Knowlton's orchestra of Cadillac played during the banquet and also furnished excellent music for the dancing. The ball room was gorgeously decorated in gayly colored streamers, apple and cherry blossoms, and palms. The dancing continued until midnight. As this annual goes to press, the Juniors are busily planning the twenty-sixth annual J-Hop, which we are sure will be a wonderful success.

The third annual Alumni banquet was held at the Perry Hotel Thursday, December 27, 1923. The officers during 1923 were: President, Dr. P. D. Miller; Vice-President, Fred Krussel; Secretary-Treasurer, Helen Tousley. There were about one hundred Alumni and Seniors present at the banquet. Following the dinner a business meeting was held and the following officers elected for 1924: President, Mrs. Leon Chichester; Vice-President, F. W. Krussel; Secretary-Treasurer, A. W. Gibson. After the business a pleasant program was given, and dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

Noted Alumni

Miss Elizabeth Benham, a graduate of the Petoskey High School in the class of 1900, is now connected with the Woman's Bureau of Labor of the United States. Her duties require extensive traveling about the country, visiting factories and all places where women are employed. Reports of wages and working conditions are filed at Washington with a view to bettering the situation.

Dr. Dennis Vincent Smith finished his high school course in this city, graduating with the class of 1905. Dr. Smith received his degree of Bachelor of Arts and Doctor of Medicine from the University of Michigan, and since that time has been connected with the Methodist Mission Hospital in Pekin, China, where he is superintendent of the eye department. While on his furlough last year, Dr. Smith studied in Vienna before returning to the mission field.

Miss Dorinda Bowman was graduated from the local high school in 1898. For six years Miss Bowman was connected with an orphanage in Hadjin, Turkey, which is conducted by the Interdenominational Mission Board. Upon returning to the field within the past year, Miss Bowman was stationed at Damascus, Syria.

George Verne Branch was a member of the class of 1905. After graduating from M. A. C. Mr. Branch held a number of responsible positions. At present he is manager of the city markets in Detroit.

SOME SCENERY

Mrs. Stech: What kind of scenery did they use in the theaters of Shakespeare?

L. Holloman: They didn't have any. There was a man who stood near the stage and announced to the audience what kind of clothes the actors were supposed to wear.

COPS DON'T SAY SO

Miss Sickles (in chemistry): When oxygen is removed from a salt the ending becomes "ide."

Bright Kid: Can you have a "nitride"?

M. S.: Yes, but they are very very rare.

Mr. Collins: In colonial days people dressed according to their financial situation.

Stone: I wouldn't like to have lived then.

M. C. Why?

Ozy: I'm broke.

Mr. Bates (entering the assembly at 3:20): All those who are not staying please leave the assembly.

SOME SURVEYOR

Miss Ripley: Who laid out Washington?

M. Ouderkirk: The undertaker.

F. Merrill: That's a stunning bathing suit you have.

D. Shoemaker: Yes, at any rate that's the way it effects people on the beach.

Faculty Advisor: Some of your jokes are rather raw.

Joke Editor: They hadn't ought to be; they have been roasted enough.

D. Barnes: Our minister was a brakeman on the railroad some years ago.

F. Burch: Yes, we observe that he is still coupling.

Freshie: Is there any mail for me?

Clerk: What's your name?

Freshie: Oh, it will be on the envelope.

LOST

A pencil by a girl named eversharp.

Speaker: It gives me great pleasure to look into your bright and shining faces.

Frank Cooper: Oh! I must put more powder on.

Mrs. Crawford: Is my son well grounded in physics?

Mr. Jacobs: Yes, in fact he is stranded.

Petoskey Evening News: In the accident Miss Burch hurt her somewhat and bruised her otherwise.

Gus: These are the best oysters we have had for a year.

Mr. Bates: Show me some that you have only had for six months.

Miss Tousley: What did you say, Harold?

Harris: Nothing.

M. T.: I know, but I wondered how you expressed it.

Mr. Collins (during an examination): Will some fellow who isn't using his text-book lend it to me for a few minutes?

Mr. Doyle: Say, Myers, how much time have you been putting on this biology?

Hub: This is only my second year.

Gertrude had a little knee,
She kept it hid away.
'Twas clothed that none might hear or see,
Because it knocked, they say.

Mrs. Cooper: I wish you wouldn't stand on the front steps so long with that friend of yours when he brings you home.

Edith: Why, I only stood there for a second.

Mrs. C.: Really? I thought I heard a third or fourth.

VanEvery: I heard your girl and her machine were in a smash-up.

Stone: Yep.

Doc: Do much damage?

Stone: Oh, knocked a little paint off of both of them.

Wayne Miles: Do you think my love is blind?

Ben Williams: She must be.

Georgia Rigg: Do you want to see where I was vaccinated?

Hetler: S-s-s-sure.

G. Rigg: Right over there in that hospital.

Ed. George (noticing sign in library "only low talk permitted here"): Now I can go on with the story I was telling you.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who, when on his breast she lays her head,
Can rudely break her grip and say:
"We are not supposed to dance that way"?
(Apologies to Walter Scott.)

Danser: What do you think of the latest styles?

Beer: Very comprehensive. My girl tripped on her waist while dancing the other evening.

Mr. Bates (offering his own life as an example of industry): Why, do you realize that I started out in life without a rag to my body!

Freshman: Aw! I was born naked too.

LAUGHING STOCK

Beese: Do you know a good joke?

Hinkley: Yeah, want a date with her?

Mr. Spittler (explaining problems): Now watch the board while I run through it once more.

Carland: She swears that she hasn't been kissed.

Knowlton: That's enough to make anyone swear.

Freshman (admiring Bud's big feet): Gosh, ain't they big?

Sophomire: Yeah, he has to pull his trousers off over his head.

Mr. Jacobs: What is a spark gap?

Benyas: Oh, that's when a girl yawns just as you start to kiss her.

Doctor: All you need is a little sun and air.

She: Sir! how dare you?

Mr. Hirschy: When I was a boy my doctor said that if I didn't give up smoking I would become feeble minded.

Jim Atkins: Why didn't you stop?

Miss Scales: Who in this room is interested in art?
D. McMahn: Art who?

Do you know Louis Parrish?
Yes, he sleeps next to me in English class.

A. Benyas: I can't get into my locker.
Doyle: That's funny, you must have grown a little over night.

Mrs. Stech: Who wrote Child Harold?
Pauline: Yes, Alice Miller writes him every day.

"Stopping a fight."
"Whose fighting?"
"Me and another guy."

Mr. Doyle (in zoology): We will now name some of the lower species of animals, starting with Herbert Myers.

Louis Pagel: Where did you do most of your skating when you were learning?
Reva Jarman: Why, you horrid thing!

Mr. Treloar (entering a restaurant): How's the chicken today?
Waitress: Fine—how's yourself?

Gus: That was an awful funny look you gave me.
Esther: I'll admit you have an awful funny look, but I didn't give it to you.

One day, in paradise,
Two angels, beaming, strolled
Along the amber walk that lies
Beside the street of gold.
At last they meet and gazed
Into each others eyes,
Then dropped their harps, amazed,
And stood in mute surprise.
Other angels came,
And, as they lingered near,
Heard both at once exclaim:
"Say, how 'n 'ell did you get here?"

Dean: Were you ever pinched for going fast?
H. Burch: No, but I've been slapped.

Esther S.: Because the door won't lock.

Miss Tousley: Well, I see the boys can not recite this poem so I'll have to call on the girls. Albert Docstader, you recite it, please.

CARELESS OF HIM

Mrs. George: Poor Harold is so unfortunate.

Caller: How's that?

Mrs. G.: During the track meet he broke one of the best records in Northern Michigan.

Louise Rine: You can say all you want to about jazz music, but it has kept lots of people out of jail.

Janet: How's that?

Reddy: Well, if it wasn't for the music they would be arrested.

Shoemaker: Honest, Judge, I only stole that car for a joke.

"Jahn & Ollier Again"

ACHIEVEMENT

The goal of every ambitious man and firm is typified in the rapid growth of the Jahn & Ollier Engraving Company—the universal esteem in which their art and plates are held by the large national advertisers—and the enviable reputation for prompt deliveries which they enjoy.

Delivering this same high quality and careful personal supervision to schools has built up for us the largest college and high school annual engraving business in America—400 books yearly.

Thirty thousand square feet of floor space (4 floors) and over two hundred and fifty skilled employees are required to meet the constant demand for "J&O" commercial photographs, art, color process plates and photo engraving (one complete floor is devoted to color process work).

Intelligent supervision of all work by many skillful office service men eliminates your troubles. Sales service men sent everywhere.
