The Petoskey J. V. football team scored a total of 156 points to the opponents total 24 points. We had a well balanced team both offensively and defensively. The defense was our most decisive strength, holding our opponents to an average of 3 points per game.

This year's team had the best attitude of any team I have ever coached. They were dedicated to a cause.. They played to be the best that they could be. It has been a pleasure working with this superior group of young men, and I hope that they will carry their winning attitude throughout life.

Petoskey freshmen finished the season with a 3-1 record, their one loss going to Gaylord, who remained unbeaten throughout the season. Coach Ralph Swanson said the biggest disappointment was that there were so few games. He felt that they were a very good team, and it was unfortunate that just when they were getting to get together as a team, the season ended. They concluded with an exciting victory over Charlevoix, and Mr. Swanson feels that they will make a good JV team, with experience. The health of the team did return and with the experience gained by the challenges of the early season, the team obtained their pre-season goal-- a regional title, the first in 26 years.

Coach Lee Milner summarized on this past season by saying. "To comment on last season in one word, I guess I would say 'surprised', but very pleased at the outcome. During the summer, I had very little control over how much golf they played, but they must have worked very hard."

The team finished first in our conference, which Coach Milner said was an outstanding performance by both the team and Randy Marquardt. Our boys shot a super 329 to Charlevoix' 332 and Gaylord's 351.

This year's letter winners include seniors : Randy Marquardt, (his fourth letter), Joe Breighner (his first letter), Juniors : Tom Oelke (his third letter), Andy Schwartzfisher and Mike Manker (both their first letters). This year's addition of a J.V. volleyball team was a first for Petoskey. They finished well as a new team, 3rd behind Grayling and Charlevoix. Two of its members moved up to varsity during the season, and as coach Beth Pedley explained, a good percentage of the girls will go on to play varsity next season. The outlook for next year is hopeful, because many of the girls started out learning basics, and next year, greater experience and improvement will be on their side.

Petoskey finished 2nd in the conference meet, bettered only by Rogers City. Matt Buday was the only competitor to continue on to state finals, competing in the pole vault. Head coach Joel Raddatz said, "We had a lot of good athletes who enabled us to beat our opponents with our depth. We were aggressive, scrappy, and most important of all, never gave up. We also worked well as a team." An added bonus was that the Junior Varsity team won the Cadillac Invitational. They boasted a 3-1 dual meet record.

Girls Tennis

This year marked a first for Petoskey. We acquired a girl's tennis team. Petoskey is the only team thus far in our conference to adopt such a team, therefore, they had mixed competition, such as class A teams Traverse City and Alpena, and a C-D school, Leelanau. Coach Bill McClutchey said he was especially pleased with the young team, and is looking forward to next season which should be good. They are only losing 2 lettering seniors. The team placed 2nd in Regionals and qualified for state finals.

First ranked singles was Jenny Feldman, 2nd Mary Sue Behan, 3rd Mary Breighner, and 4th Laura Upton. First ranked doubles were Kathy King and Laurie Hodgkiss, 2nd Linda Postle and Jeannie Cusack.

There were approximately 130 letter winners, while ten students, Mark Hoch, Jenifer Murphy, Andy Webster, Jeff Vratenana, Jerry Cosens, Mike Ball, Spencer Damschroder, Mike Doctor, Mark Buday, and Kathy Turcott were all letter winners in three sports.

Homecoming week is traditionally an exciting week and this year was no exception. The week of painting downtown windows, finishing floats, and dressing up each day came to a climax Friday night at the game with the announcement of the Queen and the first Homecoming King, and the Parade of floats. The Homecoming spirit was dampened slightly with the Northmen loss to Cheboygan 14-7. The evening was topped off with the dance featuring the band "Hot Sauce."

The 1976 Sadie Hawkins was a success. The band was Crosswinds from Saginaw. Out of 7 finalists the patch winners were Lorna Sevrest and Mike Ball. Coming in with a close second was Connie Campbell and Ken Grant, with honorable mentions going to Kay Fettig and Dana Whitet. The chaperones found it very hard to judge the patches this year because they were very creative and time consuming. The raffle was a success with Jeff Kruskie winning the first prize--a bean bag chair. Other prizes were a J.R. token, a calander, an album, a necklace and a free pizza ticket. Everyone had fun. Here's to hoping for many more.

Prom

Somewhere Over The Rainbow

The Junior Class worked extra hard to make this year's prom great--and they succeeded! Planning began long beforehand. They picked the theme, "Somewhere Over The Rainbow", the place Boyne Highlands, and the band McCaffery out of Ann Arbor. Mary Collins designed a huge mural of The Emerald City, and the prom committee spent weeks painting it. The Tin Man, Cowardly Lion, Scarecrow, and Oz came in costume, and Patti Olsen and Val Thomson made silhouettes of the characters, which were hung in the windows. Pat Shiels did a beautiful job of drawing up posters, and each person at the prom received one.

Accomplishment is perhaps one of the greatest feelings you will experience in your high school years. With new and difficult skills to be learned, there are many who will find them difficult, and those to whom they will come easily. In these four years you are given a chance to seek out your talents and capabilities, be they in sports, vocational, academic, or artistic areas. To those who have refined their mind and manner and have shown their ability to accomplish skills, these two pages have been dedicated so they may be recognized for the time they have spent practicing and training.

The main choir really encompasses four vocal groups in our school: the Mixed Chorus-a group of about ten people, the Chamber Choir-a group of 19 that sings all styles of music, the Madrigal Singers-an extracurricular group of 14 that sings purely renaissance music, and "the choir". Their activities for the year included several concerts featuring all three groups.

Let's get down to business!

In the 1976-77 year, the student council did not face many major problems with student dissatisfaction. The smoking in the girls' bathroom was again a problem, and we tried something a little different to handle it. The Pit was finally made part of the open-campus privileges for students to use during their study halls, after two years of pushing for it. The new exam policy, which was met with some displeasure from both students and teachers, was dealt with, the alternative not available as of this writing. Student council participated in student council exchanges with other Michigan Huron Shores Conference schools, hosting one meeting in February. Money was donated to many organizations within the school, and the student council organized some events, such as the Homecoming activities, which were quite successful. Our school is basically a very good one, and I for one feel that the student council tried to be sensitive to the needs and problems of the students. A good student-administration relationship has helped make this a good year, I hope that the students look for ways to improve their school in the future and use their student council to help them accomplish their goals. The student council is their powerful voice if it allowed to be so.

"Buy more Yearbooks!"

"No kidding Ted!"

The Journalism Club is actually three clubs in one; the school newspaper, the yearbook, and now the arts magazine. The club members worked on all three publications both in school and after hours on a regular basis. This year the club took on a new responsibility of having our yearbook produced in the schools Graphic Arts Department and also the publication of our bi-annual arts magazine called "Shades and Shadows".

Besides all the production work, the club was eligible to travel to Journalism conferences throughout the state. The Journalism Club also runs Sadie Hawkins week and sells advertising for all three publications. Although the club sounds pretty busy, they had time for a few parties throughout the year.

FEATURES

JOURNALISM GOING STRONG

One of the big changes this year was in the school newspaper, the "Hi-Lite". It's format was changed from magazine type to a newspaper style. There were some new columns, "The Brighter Side", "Tips for Teens", "The Green Greenhouse", "Musical Notes", and who can forget "The Young and the Useless". The ads were put together with a little more class and were quite professional looking. The new style of the "Hi-Lite" has made it much more interesting than in the past years.

Another responsibility of the students in the class was the production of the new arts magazine, "Shades and Shadows". The idea behind the magazine was to give the students of the high school a chance to have some of their creative work published and recognized.

But the biggest responsibility of the class was "Pete", our little friend, other wise known as the "Petosegan". This year Journalism designed, organized, produced, sold, and distributed it, with help from Graphic Arts. By doing so, Journalism cut the budget from around $7000 to somewhere in the $5000 area.

Doing this extra work, they saved money and learned new and different journalism techniques.

This year has been a different one for the Journalism department, and you can be sure it is looking forward to many more.

and the student receives two credits. There are two classes for each grade and five teachers. Mrs. Swenor and Miss Hazelschwardt teach the ninth grade with some help from Mr. Wiles who teaches in the morning. Mr. Townsend and Miss Loeffler teach the two tenth grade classes.

The ninth grade has some program readers to help speed up their reading and improve their reading comprehension. Doing this kind of work, the student learns, but at the same time enjoys himself and can see his improvement.

One of the goals of the class is to help the student pass his minimal skills exam. These are the basic English skills that are needed to survive in our society.

Punctuation, capitalization, and writing a paragraph are just a few of the things this class has to offer to help these students come up to their grade level in English.

The students seem to enjoy this class and are learning from it, which after all is what the whole thing is all about.

Behind The Screens

Behind the screens of rooms 215 and 217 is a place where some special students have a chance to make rapid progress in areas they couldn't have under the normal curriculum. It's a learning center. Although it started out as a dumping ground for problem students, it is now recognized as a place for students of even the "highest" general ability to work hard on a particular problem area.

As for the students in the center who have learning problems, their problems can be solved through proper training and that is what the center is for. A student may be good in every subject except math, so one of the center's teachers or aides works with this student for an hour or two every day to help him or her reach a certain point in skills by the end of the year.

Learning problems are as numerous as personalities. Each kind has its own degree of seriousness and its own ability to deprive of the right to learn.

These learning problems don't brand the student as morons and they shouldn't be treated that way. The students in the learning center are just as human as any other student in the school and they too get angry when laughed at and ridiculed.

Vocational Education

Some people don't want to be doctors, lawyers, or business people. Vocational Education is for them. Petoskey High School is the area's regional vocational center. Here inside these walls, everything from styling hair to building houses it taught.

Helping these students lick their learning problems and the complexes they so innocently have acquired is the job of a learning center teacher or aide.

The way a student gets into the learning center is through his teacher. If a teacher feels that one of his or her students would benefit by being in the center, the teacher fills out a referral and gives it to Mr. Sornson, the center teacher. Then every Tuesday a team consisting of the center teachers, Mr. Chambers, a social worker, a psychologist, a special education consultant, Mr. Smolinski, and the teacher making the referral meet and make further recommendations such as more testing and perhaps a complete medical examination.

Once in the center, each student can get a little more individual attention they need to get their job done and each of the teachers can give a little more of themselves to fulfill their student's right to learn.

Two students working in the learning center.

The whole object of vocational education is to give the students of this school and the area a chance to do work in the area they may make their career. Some of these students will go on to college to professionalize in their chosen field while others will pursue on the job training.

With seventeen classes to choose from, vocational education has something for everyone. Petoskey High School Curriculum

Thinking of something besides class.

Every year the students of Petoskey High School go through the grueling task of choosing a class schedule for the coming year. They choose these classes from a list designed to have something for everyone.

For instance, required classes aren't always the favorite classes for a high school student, and English is no exception. But when you have twenty-six English classes that range from 9th Grade Basic English to Advanced Placement, there is something for the student who is not fond of picking out nouns and verbs for an hour every day, or who cannot write creatively but is a great literature fan.

For the academic student, P.H.S. offers many challenging math and science classes that are guaranteed to boggle your mind. So, you better keep your thinking caps securely knotted to your chins.

Sure, the curriculum has some flaws, yet so does almost everything. But when you stop to think of all the opportunities you have as students and all the chances you have to pick the classes you want, (instead of the ones that everyone has to take) you must realize the time and effort that the curriculum committee here at P.H.S. has put into preparing something especially for you. So next year when you have to choose classes again, don't do it haphazardly, take time to examine the the choices and determine which ones will fit your needs in the best way. After all they did it all for you and the least you can do is to take advantage of it.

The Pit

A nice little gathering.

What do you want now?

The pit has always been a very interesting place—a place to hide from teachers if skipping, a place to play cards, a place to read a book, or just a place to socialize.

Originally it was going to be an open area, but it was decided that by enclosing it, it might be used for a gathering area after plays, concerts, or other Team Teaching Room functions.

There have been some problems which have arisen from use of the pit. Some teachers complained that there was too much noise being made by students using the pit and so, it was closed to use except during the lunch hours.

After an ardent campaign by the Student Council, the pit was reopened to the upper classmen. Now the students once again have the privilege of using this area during study halls along with lunch hour time as well. Chalk another one up for the P. H. S. Student Council.

"I'm sorry. I didn't mean to hit the parking meter!" That happens once in awhile, but not very often. That's where Drivers Education comes in. The program hasn't been around a long time, but the class here at the high school is a good one.

The class provides several advantages for the student. First of all, the only way a person under 18 can get his license is to take Driver's Education. Secondly, the state test is held here at the high school so that there is no hassle when taking the road test, and thirdly, the basic insurance rate for those who have taken Driver's Education is lower than it is for those who have not.

There may be a lot of people who think that Driver's Education is a waste, but they must be the ones who never took it.

Ruth Heggeland, A.F.S

Every year Petoskey High School takes up to five students for its exchange program. This year we had two students from A.F.S. (American Field Service) and one from Y.F.U. (Youth for Understanding). Ruth Heggeland and Petra Henning are with the A.F.S. program and Yasuhiro Tsuji is with Y.F.U.

Ruth is from Bergen, Norway. To become an exchange student, Ruth talked to a former exchange student. She thought it would be fun and with seven or eight others, she went through the process of being chosen as a finalist. Of the three finalists chosen, Ruth was the only one selected to participate with the A.F.S. Program for this year.

she had an extremely long journey to the states and an eight hour wait before she could fly to Pellston. Petra feels that being an exchange student is worth it because you live a totally different lifestyle, meet the people of another country, learn their language and have a lot of fun.

Looking back on her year, Petra says that the adjustment to America was easy, she found the People to be friendly but hard to understand at first. She found P.H.S. to be fun because of all the extra-curricular activities, and the school work easy. She says she will miss all the people she has met, the beautiful countryside, and she added that the time went by quickly.

Yasuhiro Tsuji of Japan took two tests to become a Y.F.U. exchange student, one oral and one written. Yasuhiro's hometown is a larger industrial town and his high school is an all boy school with approximately 1,500 students from grades 10-12. After he gets home from school he has hours of homework to attend to and if he has time after he finished his homework, he runs to keep fit.

Petra Henning, A.F.S.

He says, "This experience was fantastic. The things I saw were so different and they will always be fresh in my mind. He also said that he will miss his host family, friends, school teachers, the beautiful sunset and the clean air.

We will miss our foreign friends greatly in the years to come. We are proud to have had them as a part of our school and we wish them luck in the future.

During her year in America, Ruth has learned another language and has been able to use it as freely as everyone else in America and has made many new friends. For these reasons her year as an exchange student has been well worth it.

When asked if she would like to say something to the students of P.H.S. she said, "Thank you very much for a wonderful year, you have all been just super."

Petra Henning is from Wetzler, Germany and is the second student in the A.F.S. program. She talked to several former exchange students and filled out many forms before she could pack her bags to go to America. After she was accepted

TO THE CLASS OF 1980

This first year at Petoskey High School has been a fairly good one for the whole Freshmen class of 76-77. It took us a while to get used to it but by now everyone has adjusted fairly well. As of now we have not raised a whole lot of money but we have enough to get us started add we still have lots of time left to raise more. I think I speak for the whole Freshmen class when I say, "These are going to be the best four years of our lives!"

TO THE CLASS OF 1979

As we look back on our sophomore year at Petoskey High School we can say that we have had accomplishments, yet still, so much more could have been done if we had more participation from the class as a whole. In the fall, we did have a lot of people come out to work on the float, and as a result we won first prize; but as the year progressed, participation went on a decline. Our big money making project, the majazine sale, suffered greatly because of this lack of partiapiation. But our treasury was kept alive by class officers and a handful of other people who gave their time. Among our other projects were a basketball concession, a cross-country ski race, a car wash, and also a few bake sales. I'd like to thank everyone who did give their time and also I'd like to encourage other members of our class to come out and lend a hand next year. You'll find it can be a very rewarding experience to become involved.

TO THE CLASS OF 1978

As President of the juniors, I can say that the class of "78" is a class that works hard when a project needs to get done. So far this year we have had a successful dance, built a float for Homecoming, and had the candy sale. Our biggest project is the Prom which I feel will be one of the best that Petoskey High School has ever had. I am proud to be president of such a great class. There are many hard working people who never are recognized as doing as much work as they do. I would like to thank them very much for their participation.

Bring me men to match my mountains;

Sam Walter Foss, THE COMING AMERICAN

We have grappled, grasped, perspired, persevered, ascended, and reached a summit. It is 1977 and we Seniors have climbed to the top of a mountain.

The calendar sale was most successful, and because of its uniqueness, was a project to be proud of. Other class activities including the Italian Dinner and trip to Cedar Point have seemed to bring the class closer together. So, all in all, it was quite a successful and productive year.

But, as we look back on our high school years with mixed emotions and lingering memories, let us remember that there is more than one mountain needing to be climbed, more than one summit waiting to be conquered.

We are now "licensed" with diplomas as "amateur mountain climbers". Let's not remain amateurs, let's become pros!
