When living in Petoskey for a number of years, one becomes accustomed to the picturesque sunsets which adorn the beaches of Little Traverse Bay. Although these sights are familiar, they never cease to awe the people of this unique community.

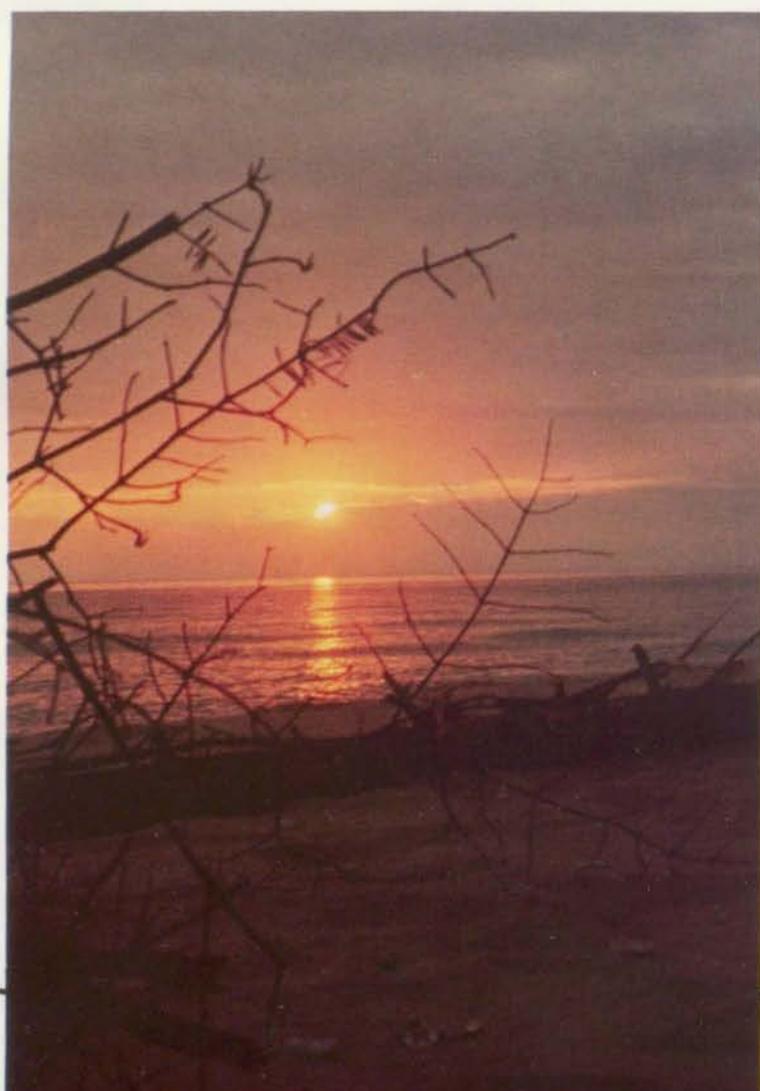

There it stood...Towering before me...a building...a place called school. I had a million questions to ask but no one to give me the answers. Then from behind me a small voice said, "Hi. Will you be my friend?"

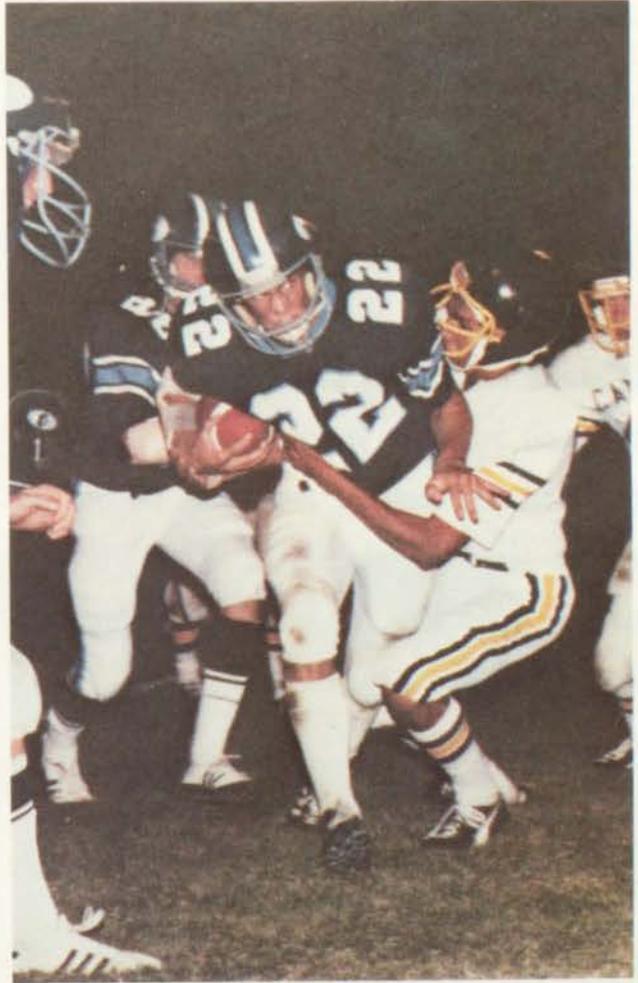

Suddenly school was fun, with new faces becoming new friends. Everything from fingerpainting to homework was shared. Close relationships were formed and even such secrets as that first crush or who you were going to take to the first dance were exchanged.

"High School" what a gas!, it made all the difference. Being able to chose your own classes, getting open campus, and seeing what the real world was like through Co-op.

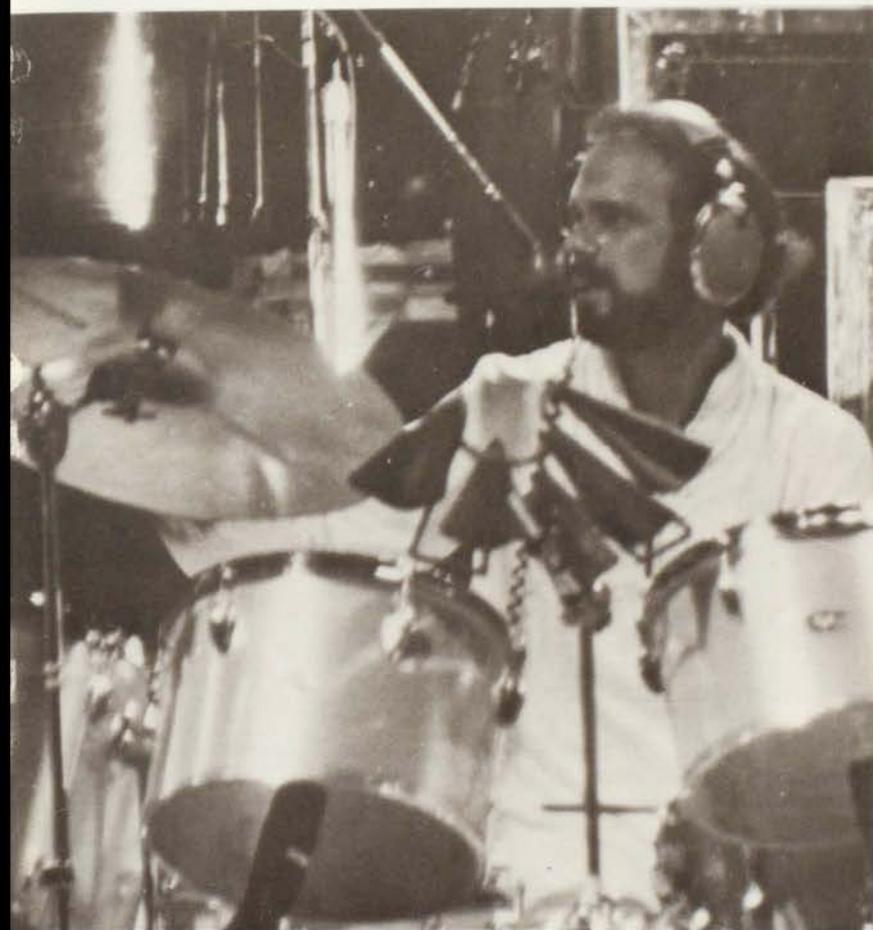

There were also those difficult times too. When having the flu for more than eight days meant your grade in that vocational class...or running two extra gut busters because you forgot to get your eligibility card signed. But there was always a shoulder to cry on or someone in which to confide.

We made everything worthwhile, from trying to sneak by Mrs. Howard when the halls were closed, to making snowmen in the pit when the first snow fell. Even though somethings stretched the rules a bit, together we made every moment count.

But most of all remember all the good times we shared together? Making bon fires at five-mile, the student council picnic, pep assemblies, the beach, Castle Farm concerts, or maybe just being alone sometimes. All these and many more were things which made friends so special.

marching northmen a touch of class

BAND, TEN, HUT...DRESS, CENTER, DRESS...READY
FRONT...MARK, TIME, MARK.
These words and many others like them were engraved in the minds of every person who was a member of the P.H.S. Marching Northmen, and knowing exactly what these words meant was a necessity for everyone.

Being a member of the band didn't require the 200-pound, broad shouldered look of an athlete. But instead, it demanded much more than most people would think. Aggressive determination, pride, self motivation and stamina were all integral components of successful showmanship.

During the competition season, there were no weekends for the average Marching Northmen. Saturdays & Sundays were spent as follows: Getting up at 4:00 a.m. to meet half the band at Flap Jack Shack for breakfast, catching the bus at the high school for a five hour bus ride and punking out all the way down state, putting together what energy was left and marching a first place performance, and finally, most of all, carrying the winning trophies home and realizing a full 24-hour day was spent awake.

Although the weekend wasn't spent on Petoskey's social scene, spending time with friends in the band made weekends all that much more special.

*ABOVE: The stolid faces of the guardline reflect the self-discipline of the Marching Northmen.
ABOVE RIGHT: Adding to the full intensity of the low-brass line is Adam Tshloff whose presence was essential to the hornlines power.
RIGHT: Concentrating on correct rhythm, Andrea Bjorkman plays difficult parts written to the beat of Paul Simons, "Late in the Evening."*

ABOVE UPPER: Learning the Basic Language for computers is necessary in correct programming. Amy Reissner discusses some of the fine points of the language with Lori Harvey.

ABOVE: Programming the Apple II computer can be challenging, and many students prefer to work together on it as Mary Turcott and Tom Hodgkiss do, while Mr. Batchelor looks on.

RIGHT: A screen displays the input data provided by senior Karen Hankins.

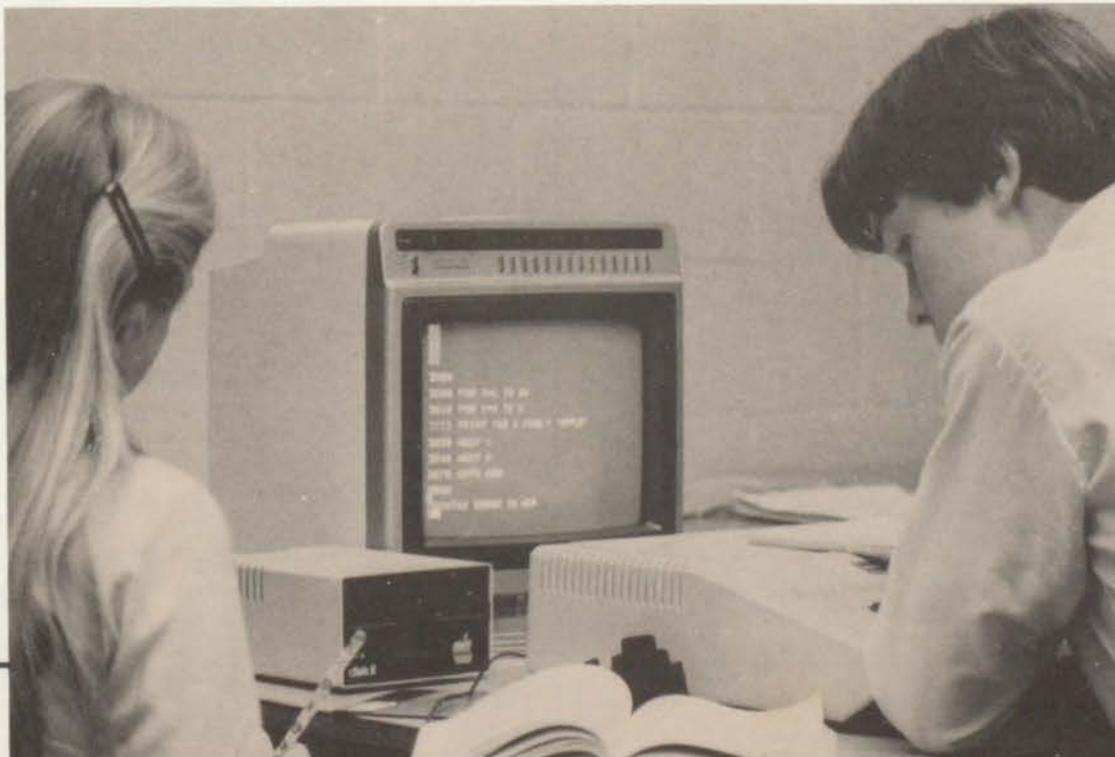

IN ONE MATH CLASS, THE USUAL "A PLUS B EQUALS C" WAS REPLACED BY A DEEP AND "OH, NO! SYNTAX ERROR!". DUE TO THE ADDITION OF A COMPUTER CLASS TO HIS CURRICULUM, THE NEW CLASS, TAUGHT BY MR. PICKETT AND MR. DACHELOR, ATTRACTED MUCH INTEREST AND ATTENTION IN ITS FIRST YEAR WITH TWENTY-FIVE STUDENTS ENROLLED FIRST SEMESTER.

THE CLASS WAS OFFERED TO JUNIORS AND SENIORS WITH STRONG MATH BACKGROUNDS WHO EITHER WERE INTERESTED IN ENTERING THE BROAD FIELD OF COMPUTER PROGRAMMING OR WHO SIMPLY WERE INTRIGUED BY COMPUTERS.

PETOSKEY'S APPLE II SETUP CONSISTED OF TWO SEPARATE, IDENTICAL UNITS WHICH ALLOWED TWO STUDENTS TO WORK WITH THE COMPUTER SIMULTANEOUSLY. THIS UNIT CAN EASILY BE EXPANDED AND PLANS WERE MADE TO DO SO, BASED ON THE POPULARITY OF THE COMPUTER CLASS.

MANY REASONS WERE GIVEN FOR THE SUCCESS OF THIS CLASS. ONE COMPUTER STUDENT, JOE SEITZ, COMMENTED, "IT'S NOT A NORMAL CLASSROOM ATMOSPHERE. INSTEAD OF LEARNING MATERIAL YOU MAY NEVER USE AGAIN, YOU GAIN A PRACTICAL SKILL THAT COULD OPEN A CAREER FOR YOU."

ABOVE LEFT: Even though one types by "hunt and peck" method, he can still operate the Apple II computer input, as Dave Schuch demonstrates.

*BELOW: Testing voltage of electrical equipment is Mike Boros, a second year electronics student.
BELOW UPPER: Several projects including maintenance of equipment is shown by Byron Fletcher as an important part of being a member of FFA.

BELOW RIGHT: Putting the final touches on their graphic arts project are Bob Lyons and Jim Liska.

Walking down the halls of the vocational wing was a unique experience for any newcomer to PHS. Rather than the usual lecture being given or students taking notes or discussing relevant academic areas, the onlooker heard the hum of engines, the whine of a press, or perhaps the dull thud of a hammer on wood, echoing through heavy closed doors.

Vocational classes were not limited to the walls of school classrooms. Many skills, such as those necessary for Conservation Technology, must be taught on location. Another plus to the vocational classes was that the job skills acquired were put to immediate use.

Vocational instructors emphasized that although teaching skills was a primary goal in every program, the most important aspect of these classes was the student's acceptance of responsibility and the pride associated with a job well done.

Who were the people that always gave exams the day after away sporting events, or expected errorless first draft compositions in English? Who were the evil eyes that controlled the pit or were on "rat patrol" in the parking lot during lunch hours? And who enforced school policies to the max? But, on the other hand, who were the people that put in extra time to help students understand themselves as well as their subjects, and also instilled a sense of self-discipline, values and responsibility? These individuals provided the necessary tools with which futures will be built. They are the Faculty and Administration of P.H.S.

faculty & administration

As the new administration building neared completion this fall, new faces were added to the administrative staff which provided the finishing touches.

Two new school board members, Dr. Bill Todd, and Mr. Dan Chartier took seats on the board. Mr. Chartier was elected in June and Dr. Todd was appointed by the board to fill the vacancy created by the sudden and unexpected death of Mr. James Douma.

Mr. William Slater was hired as vice-principal, replacing Mr. Joel Raddatz. A number of changes also occurred in the secretarial staff at the high school. The familiar face of Mrs. Taylor was moved to the administration building, with Mrs. Clark replacing her. Mrs. Freshman was transferred to the career resource center and her responsibilities as counselor coordinator were taken over by Mrs. Chapman. The new faces became familiar as the year progressed.

Mr. Neidhamer
Mr. Ritter

Mr. James Douma was elected to the position of president of the school board in June of 1980. On Friday, August 22, 1980, the day after having a knee operation, Mr. Douma died of a blood clot that migrated to his heart. The community's loss will be greatly felt for many years to come.

After three years of being superintendent at the Petoskey schools, Dr. Ronan has achieved many goals. However, each year he sets new goals for himself, such as improving communications between the public and the school board and communication among staff members. Dr. Ronan has been in education for 22 years, 14 of which have been in Administration. He has made it a point to travel extensively to other successful school districts to compare and improve Petoskey Schools' structure and curriculum.

lunches attain variety

The foods services program underwent a major revision this year. Instead of the usual hot lunch line or soup and sandwich line, a new four-way meal option was provided and a salad bar offered. Students could then prepurchase a meal ticket and use it for any of three options, or purchase a super meal ticket for the fourth option. Students and cooks alike found the arrangement good as it added variety to the menu.

The janitorial department had no major changes in it this year, except the addition of several people to the staff to fill vacancies. Mr. Fettig, head custodian,

"I came with the School" says Ma. That was fifteen years ago. Mrs. Starr, who is known to Ma to many of the students at PHS, has worked for the high school since it was built on its present location. Ma's primary duty involves making the main dish for each school day. This can be a difficult chore because she must make enough for students at the high school in addition to those at Ottawa.

Mrs. Starr was born in Petoskey area and has lived here all her life. Before she came to work at the high school, she owned and ran her own restaurant in Walloon Lake. Mrs. Starr feels her greatest reward is when a graduated student stops by and says, "Hello Ma".

again maintained a rather flexible schedule with his staff to provide access to the school for the 101 extra-curricular activities held. These janitorial services are essential to all activities and help to make PHS one of the most "used" building in the entire community.

Wherever there's music, you'll find him. Mr. Carl Brien attends all competitions and performances of the Petoskey Marching Northmen, no matter where they may be held. This may not seem like much for an instructor to do, but the daily, freezing, early morning practices all fall are the prerequisite to these top rated performances. He also is involved with organizing the pep band which entertains the spectators at all home basketball games and has attempted to establish a jazz band at the high school. Besides teaching symphonic band and concert band at the high school, he also teaches band to sixth grade students at the middle school to give them the essentials of becoming proficient performers.

Mr. Brien's interests aren't in music alone. In his spare time he also enjoys cross-country skiing, racquetball, and training labrador retrievers.

Debate and Forensics coach Mrs. Howard ponders the excellence of the performance given by one of her students.

Whether 7:30am or 7:30pm it is not unusual to see the lights on in room 212. Why? Because this is Mr. Don Dickmann's room. Mr. Dickmann has made it a point to put in hours of extra time to make his physics classes a desirable commodity. His dedication is only exceeded by his efficiency as both a teacher and a coach. He is the head coach for the cross-country team, assists with boys' track and also organizes the boys' varsity club.

Although he has many athletic interests, he stresses that the application of academics is the primary function of a school. He feels it is the teachers' responsibility to not only supply the students with the resource but also to teach them how to employ that resource.

time work, effort

"This is really super, you guys," could be heard by students walking down the hall past Mrs. May's room.

Mrs. May has taught many levels of biology and English at Petoskey and has been involved in coaching and club activities. She has recently acquired a new assignment, that of journalism. Besides working many long hours after school with her students, she attends workshops and seminars on the weekends to expand her knowledge of journalism. Mrs. May feels the late night hours and sweating the demanding deadlines are well worth the satisfaction of producing a good piece of journalism.

faculty exhibits talents

Although Mr. Sorsen has been at the Petoskey High School for five years, many of the students do not communicate with him on a classroom basis. Mr. Sorsen coordinates the learning center and acts as its department chairman.

He feels his job is very demanding and that he must insist on total cooperation and dedication from all his students. He offers a variety of subjects ranging from English and social sciences to physical education.

Last year enough money was raised to buy cross country skis for his students. He feels skiing builds skills in physical abilities as well as strengthening confidences. Each spring Mr. Sorsen organizes the Special Olympics in Emmet and Charlevoix counties. He gets parents involved and tries to keep them informed as to what their children are accomplishing and the specific goals that must be met for graduation. Although Mr. Sorsen may not be well-known to all PHS students, his efforts are certainly inspiring and effective.

Having the title of underclassmen can sometimes be a bit misleading. Being called a shrimp when walking down the halls, pushed around by seniors, or worst of all, becoming the main attraction of the morning when your whole body is bound with duck tape and you are thrown in the middle of the pit until a teacher comes to free you, are some of the situations that tend to discourage and disillusion their thoughts of becoming upperclassmen. However, most live through the initiation process.

New teachers, rules, classes, and books marked the first day of high school life indelibly on the minds of the members of PHS' freshmen class. The very first walk down unfamiliar corridors which were surrounded by lockers assured the freshmen that they definitely had risen to a new status from old junior high days.

The freshmen readily adjusted to the PHS scene. They became a unified force in the school as leaders were elected to represent their class. These leaders helped organize a dance and to spark enthusiasm throughout the year.

On Friday there is always a little extra feeling of excitement in the air. But that feeling of anticipation climbs just a little bit higher when the teacher has ended class for sixth hour and the last bell is about to ring.

For some, Friday was attending a football or basketball game followed by a dance. The night's activities usually made excitement climb higher and higher, until it reached the caliber of "ROWDY!"

Beginning the sophomore year brought an end to intimidation by upperclassmen and the seemingly everlasting madness of being a freshmen. Involvement in all areas of school increased and enthusiasm in activities outside of school, such as the float, also rose. Built with care and planning, this year's float took first place in the Homecoming parade, giving the sophomores this distinction for the second year in a row.

Sophomores took pride in making an overwhelming total in the annual magazine sale with a profit the highest in PHS's history.

The enthusiasm of this class, the last of the large classes, combined with profit, made this year's sophomores the wealthiest in a number of years.

The years certainly flew by! After being recognized as underclassmen for two years, the title of upperclassmen was a welcome relief to juniors. However, with this relief came the realization that soon high school would be over. That could be why most juniors tried to squeeze at least one or two additional college prep or vocational classes into their hectic schedules.

The Junior Class participated in a few fund raising activities such as a Reese' candy sale and Toga Dance, both of which provided the cash for a superb and unique prom. Although the junior homecoming float wasn't terribly creative, float builders had a good time constructing it. Rumor has it that the most fun of the activity was in guarding their prize from the seniors.

Involvement led to the success of P.H.S. activities. Whether as president of the Student Council, or as a rowdy member of the pep club cheering section, or as chief salesman of Danny Dooley's famous chocolate chip cookies for Girls' Varsity Club, each individual took pride in his accomplishments. Although a few organizations "bit the dust" due to a lack of interest, others flourished. The active participants provided a sense of unity where casual friendships began and grew.

artistic expressions at phs

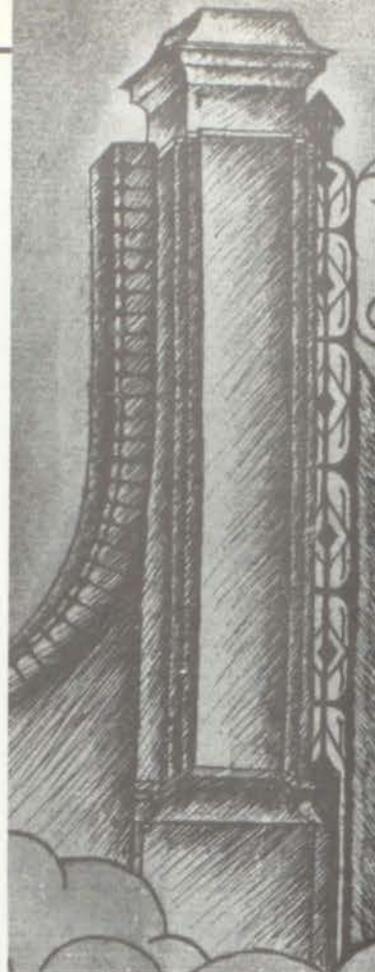

Art is human emotion and feelings expressed by hand on paper, on canvas, or with clay. Hands mold and sketch what is in the eyes, mind, and soul of the artist. Intricate designs, simple line-drawings, splashes of harmonizing color delicately sculpted curves and angles, all are the result of man's interpretation of the world around him.

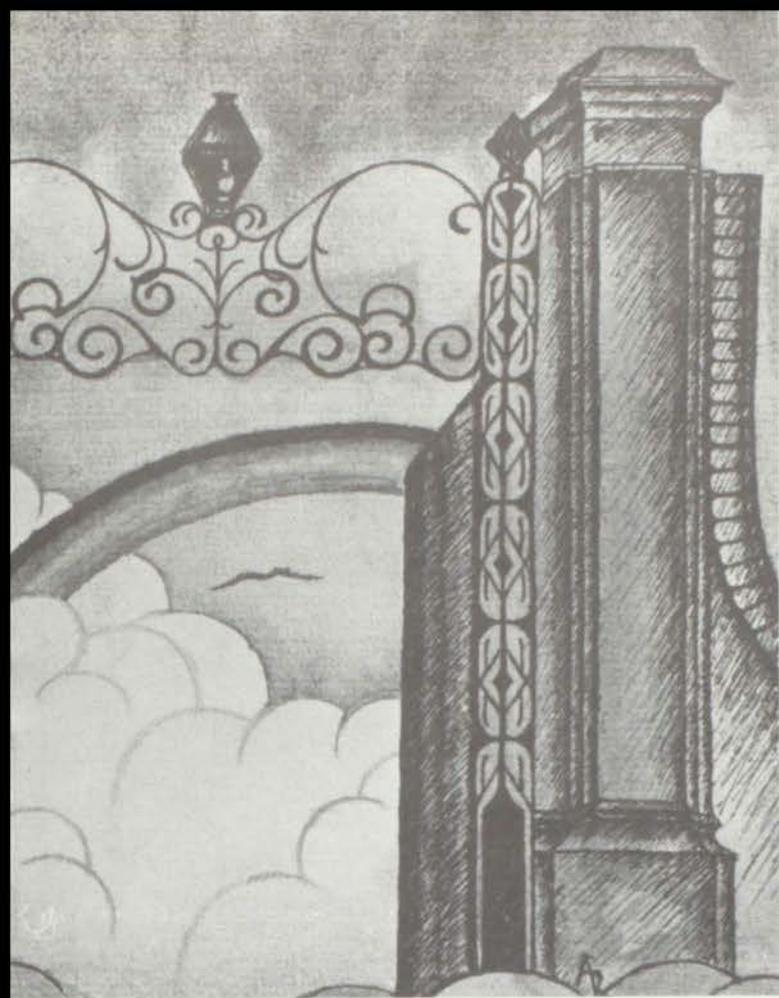

A variety of art classes at Petoskey High School allows students to explore the realms and media of art and themselves.

Students then employ skills, both learned and innate, and create images that express their own unique human emotions.

OPPOSITE PAGE: TERRY HUBBELL began art classes in the eighth grade being influenced by her mother who owns and operates Northern Art Supply. Terry's major interest is working with watercolors and charcoal, but she also enjoys working with pastels. After graduation from high school, Terry will pursue art as a hobby.

Senior TERRY McCARTHY began art classes at Our Lady of Mercy High School as a freshman and now has progressed to advanced art classes at PHS. Terry enjoys using her innate talents to create pictures of people and scenery in watercolors and ink. Terry will continue to build her art talent at the University of Michigan where she will attend college.

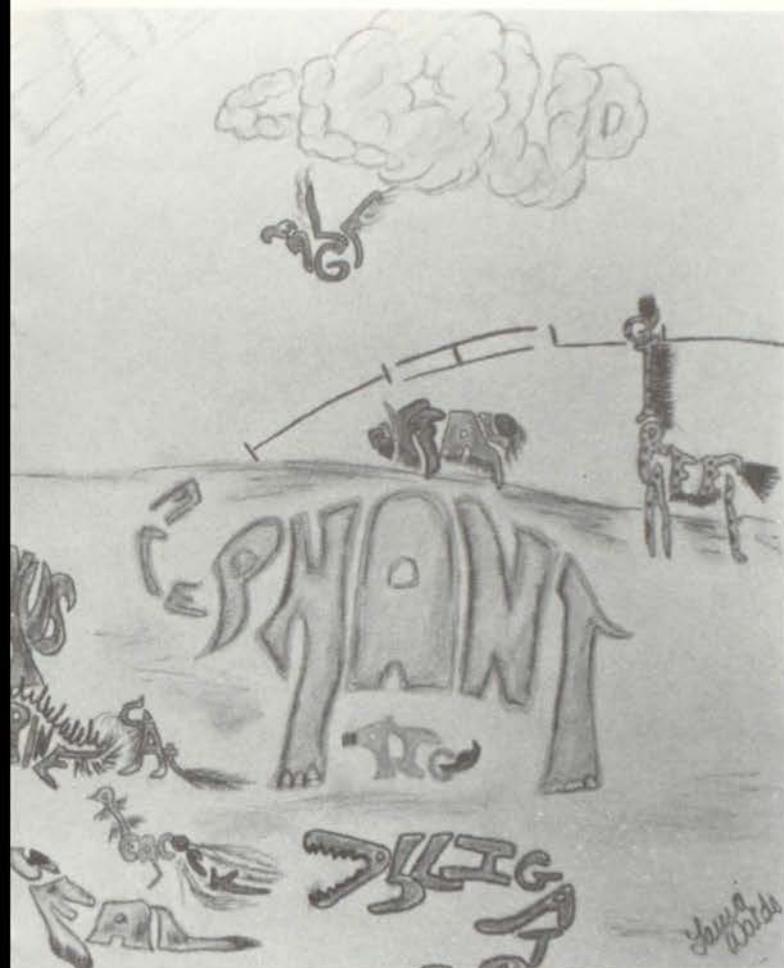

TOP: MARY WILLS got into art with her own interests. She started in her junior year and will focus her career on Interior or Fashion Design. She also enjoys applique, embroidery and clay projects.

ABOVE: ROBIN DOHM followed in her grandfather's footsteps who is now an artist. She began sketching and drawing when she was young and continued through her school year. She prefers working with ink, and pastels.

RIGHT: MARLEE BROWN enjoys working with pen and in ink. She was influenced by her sister when she was young and plans on becoming an Interior Decorater.

TOP CENTER AND LEFT: LAURA WALDO, began art classes when she was five years old. Although she hasn't made future plans toward an art career, she enjoys drawing with india ink, pastel, charcoal, and oil painting in her spare time.

RIGHT: LISA MATHERS did this Indian in watercolor and ink. According to Lisa, the Indian portrays strength, and is one of her best pieces of art work. She plans to take art her senior year and they major in the subject. Lisa also said that her main inspiration is her mother.

BELOW, RIGHT: SHEILA McNEIL did this picture of the horse, which is only a sample of her art work. Sheila took an interest in art in the first grade, and now finds abstract art the most enjoyable. She has taken art classes in Bay View during the summer, but is undecided as to a career in art. Sheila plans to take Studio Art I her senior year.

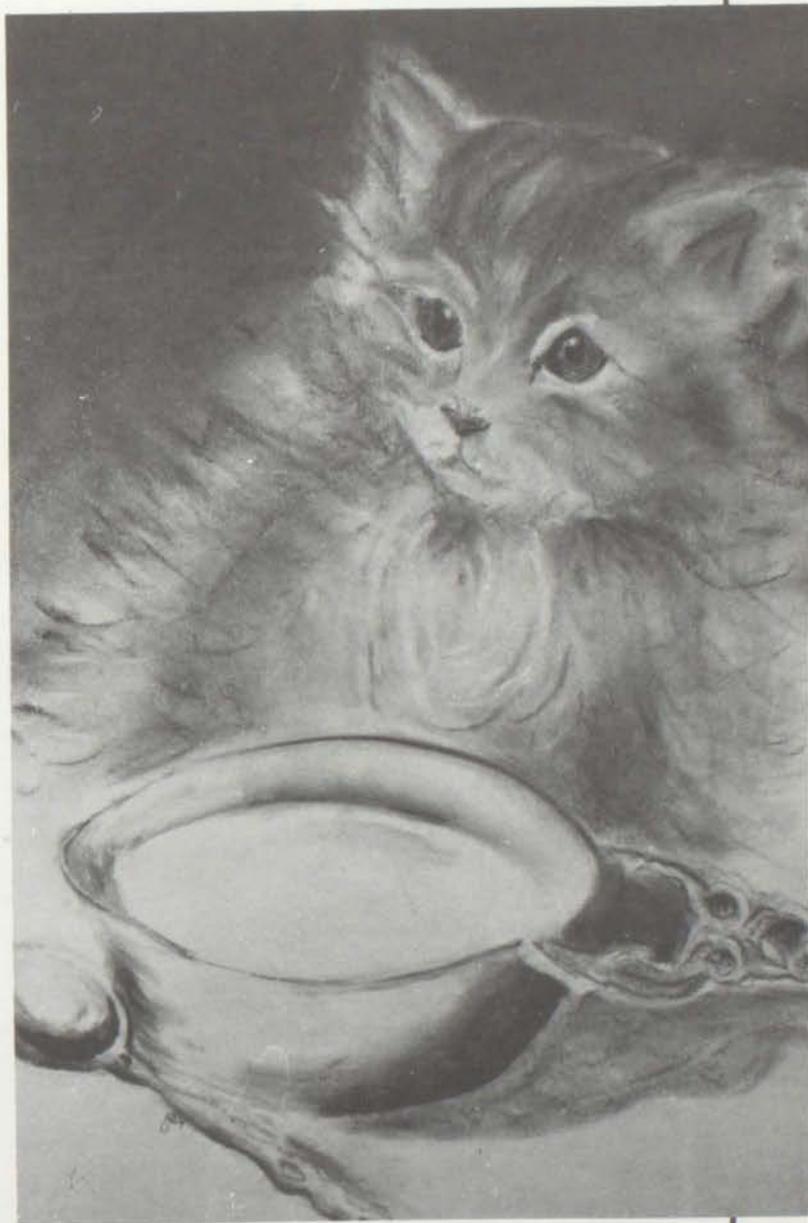

BELOW: THERESA GRAVEDONI did these butterflies in pastels. They reflect her talent in the art field.

LEFT and BELOW: CHRIS LONG, junior, transferred to PHS from Bloomfield Hills, and has many talents in the field of art. Among them are pottery and painting, as is shown here. He painted this mural of the late John Lennon in the vocational hall, which took eight hours to complete. Chris has had four years of art, and plans to take an art class his senior year.

1980 homecoming

Although once again snow and freezing temperatures were predicted for PHS's Homecoming, the weather resulted in nothing more than cold temperatures.

Homecoming 1980 was a welcomed victory for the Northmen. After losing two consecutive games in the previous weeks, the football team pulled it together and defeated the undefeated Boyne City Ramblers by a score of 14-6.

An exciting halftime performance by the Petoskey Marching Northmen precluded the traditional parade of the queen candidates and the class floats. The candidates were then escorted by their fathers to the platforms, where they anxiously awaited the announcement of queen. The suspense lasted for only a moment, until Student Council Vice-President Greg OGawa announced Mary Turcott the 1980 Homecoming Queen. Mary was crowned by co-captains Dave Schuch and Phil Simard. Phil was also chosen as the 1980 Homecoming King. Crown bearers were Becky McClees and Mike Parker.

The dance, held in the high school cafeteria, immediately followed the game. Master of Ceremonies, Steve Keck, introduced the Queen's court and their dates, Queen Mary Turcott, and King Phil Simard. The band, Paragon, dedicated a dance to the celebrities and set the mood for the rest of the evening. Couples danced through the remainder of the night until the early morning hour of 1:00 a.m. when Homecoming 1980 came to a close.

up, move!
practice,
practice,
practice,

Practices for Marching Band started back in August and became more intense when school started. The 84 member organization started their school days on the field at 7:30 a.m. Thursday nights were reserved for practices at the school's field or the stadium.

Marching Band was an activity that involved tremendous effort and a great amount of pleasure for both the instructors and students participating in the activity. The key to the successful season for the Marching Northmen was their dedication and willingness to give that extra bit of time from each individual.

The Marching Band involved more than just entertaining the crowd at home football games. The Northmen traveled to several competitions including a new one this year in Montrose on October 3, where they placed first in their division and also received an award for best percussion line.

The following weekend, in the wee hours of the morning, the band left for Durand, after receiving a brief departure ceremony from city officials and Music Booster President Mrs. Fran Foster. The Northmen placed second in their division with the drum line receiving another high drum score.

Mr. Brien stated, "Even though this year's band consisted of 50% rookies, they were still very aggressive. They also possessed a sense of pride and energy that was very enjoyable with which to work. Not only were we successful, but we also had fun while we were doing it. I was very proud of all the work and dedication shown by the Marching Northmen of 1980."

The Marching Northmen were a close organization. It was a general consensus that without the guidance of Mr. Brien, Mr. Beamish and the other volunteer helpers, it would have been impossible for the Marching Northmen to continue reaching such high achievements.

varsity clubs— popcorn, cookies; get'em here!

Popcorn! Peanuts! right? Not exactly, but close. Both the boys' varsity club and girls' varsity club, new this year, sold popcorn, cookies, and other assorted goodies at all home basketball games and track meets. Both clubs worked extra hard this year, partly due to the spending cutbacks. They used the money to support athletics at P.H.S., and help fund the purchasing of sports equipment.

The boys' club usually spend their proceeds toward aiding several different varsity sports, while the girls' club devised a unique plan of picking one sport at random with the girls in that sport determining the use of the money.

Mr. Don Dickman, sponsor of the boys' club said this year was different for the club because they were more involved with service projects and helping with middle school events. Both clubs also promoted additional school spirit and participation in athletics. Assisting Mr. Dickman again this year was Mr. Scott Batchelor. The girls' club was sponsored by Ms. Maria May, with help from Miss Julie Fairbairn, and Miss Mary Richwine.

Neither club had official officers, but each did have a head student organizer. Dave Przybylski took the responsibility for the boys' club, and Kitty Spinney handled the girls' club.

annual fly-in financial success

"Aquainting the community with aviation is the primary purpose of the flying club," said Harris Stevens, sponsor of the Petoskey Flying Club. The club learned how to fly, and was trained extensively in associated aspects of flying. Included was the flying of miniature aircraft which added to club members' flying abilities.

The club participated in many activities. Their largest was the co-sponsoring of an annual fly-in breakfast and air show at the Harbor Springs Airport. The show included airplane rides, miniature airplane shows, and exhibitions by bi-plane aerobatics teams. Other activities of the club were visits to the area flight service stations, and the U.S.C.G. air station, a trip to the Traverse City N.W.M.C. aviation program and a tour of Republic's DC-9's.

Officers of the Flying Club were president; Mark Hialal, vice-president; Jim Parker, secretary; Gerry Grosskopf, and treasure Brad Harrison.

fridays are toga times

Social fun was the main function of the Latin Club, according to Mrs. Vratana. Meetings were held during class time on Fridays so that all Latin students could participate. Meetings provided time for viewing filmstrips on Roman life, hearing information on Roman and Greek cultures and mythology, planning social events, and playing word and sentence games in Latin.

Activities held during the year were an annual Slave Auction on Oct. 31, the Saturnalia on Dec. 14, and the Odyssey Dance on April 14. The Roman Banquet, Slave Day, and Mock Olympics, all held in May, ended the club's activities.

Money was earned for the club by numerous bake sales.

cruise to the caribbean

One of the most active clubs at Petoskey High School throughout the years has been the Spanish Club, with a membership of over fifty members every year. This year members anxiously awaited June 13, 1981, the day they left for their seven day Carribean Cruise. While on the cruise, members visited many interesting ports, including Puerto Rico, Curacao, Caracas, Grenada, St. Thomas, and San Juan.

The main purpose of the Spanish Club was to promote cultural experiences, in addition to learning the language. Every three years the club takes a trip where they get an opportunity to implement their knowledge.

The members took part in many activities that helped for the trip. Not only did they have money making activities, but they also had a Christmas Party, a Mexican dinner at Turkeys, and sponsored an annual Spanish banquet which the students enjoyed the most. In preparation for this banquet, members all cooked different Spanish recipes which enabled them to learn and taste many different Spanish foods.

President of the club this year was John Collins. Vice President was Rebecca Gibes; treasurer, Mary Wills and secretary, Julie Jakob.

bonjour france, canada

Two trips were planned by the French Club this year instead of the usual trip. Thirteen people participated in the trip to France during Spring Break, and many more joined them for the Canada trip held in early June.

Money making activities included bake sales, sucker sales, popcorn sales, candy sales, dances, and concessions. These proceeds helped to finance both trips and the annual French Club banquet.

The primary function of the French Club, according to advisor Ms. Coon, was to better understand the French language and to involve more students in educational experiences and activities. French Club had regularly scheduled meetings at club members' homes twice a month on Tuesdays. Officers were president, Tracy Corwin, vice-pres., Ann Linck, and treasurer, Terry McCarthy.

Notice anyone missing? This year marks the first year in twenty that no exchange student attended PHS. According to Mrs. Kalkbrenner, advisor of the International Club, the reason there were not any exchange students was because no homes were available for the exchange students.

This year's International Weekend called "COSMOS" was held at Central Michigan University on December 5th, 6th, and 7th. "COSMOS" weekend was sponsored by the Michigan YMCA. The main purpose of the International Club was to promote international understandings and to learn about other customs.

Parties, dances, and selling candy were several of the money making activities of International Club. Meetings were held in the homes of club members, every month. Slides of other countries were presented at these meetings by members or an exchange student.

Officers included president, Dan Whitley, vice-pres., Susan VanBerlo, treasurer, Terry Hubble, and secretary, Theresa Mier.

ffa— four choices

A fall skills contest held in Lake City began FFA's busy schedule this year. Eight FFA members, along with advisor Steve Maniaci, attended the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri in mid-November. Other activities included hay rides, apple cider sales at homecoming, citrus fruit sales in December, and maple syrup sales in the spring.

The FFA is divided into four major divisions. These divisions include Conservation Forestry Technology, Farm Shop, Plant and Soil Resources, and Animal Science.

vica: a new alternative

"This is the first year that the VICA association has participated as a school function. We are hoping our club organization will grow in membership since this is only our first year," said VICA's advisor, Mr. Swartz.

VICA was organized to develop the vocational student in a job relating to vocational trades. This year VICA sent Lisa Engler and Chip Hollopeter, along with Mr. Swartz, to Northern Michigan University to further develop their leadership skills. This year VICA did printing jobs, had a nut sale in November and December, and entered a printing exhibit in the 1981 Fair.

Officers for the organization included Lisa Engler-President, Dean Viles-vice President, Chip Hollopeter-Secretary, Martha Hannan-Treasurer, Christine Boening-Parlimintarian, and Scott Okerlund-Reporter.

The Homecoming dance was sponsored by the pep club, which proved to be a big hit. They also sponsored a spectator bus to the Petoskey-Charlevoix basketball game, and made posters displaying school spirit, which were posted in the pit and at the basketball games.

concert, symphonic receive top honors

Concert and Symphonic Bands, under the direction and supervision of Mr. Carl Brien had an exciting and rewarding season this year. The bands performed difficult and unique pieces of music for District Festivals in February, with both bands receiving high honors. The music arrangements rated in classes A and AA. Also, in early February, after many hours of practice, several individuals traveled to Cheboygan to perform in the Solo and Ensemble Competition.

One important change took place this year in the band organization. Participation in Marching Band was no longer a requirement of Symphonic Band members. However, those students that did not participate in Marching Band were required to prepare a musically oriented paper to compensate for the time they would have spent practicing for Marching Band.

suggestions, improvements through band council

Band Council has been instrumental in organizing many important activities for the band for several years. The purpose of the Band Council was to aid Mr. Brien in making decision for the band students and the program. If there were any complaints or problems with the band, the council brought these problems to Mr. Brien, then, as a whole group, they worked out a solution. Through the unity of students and director, the band program ran smoothly.

RIGHT: Garbed in traditional 16th century attire, Jeff Jones, a member of Madrigal Choir, turns to catch the conversation of guests attending the annual Madrigal Dinner held at Boyne Highlands, in early December.

Petoskey's main choir is actually comprised of three choirs—Concert Choir, Chamber Choir and Madrigals. A group of all girls make up Concert Choir, thirty-five students selected by audition only make up the Chamber Choir and sixteen specially selected students make up Madrigals.

Throughout the year, the choirs all participated in many fund making activities as well as a variety of different concerts. Out of the many, the Chamber Choir enjoyed the Channel 9 and 10 Christmas show held in Traverse City. The Madrigals presented the annual Madrigal Dinner at Boyne Highlands which was televised on the local news. The Madrigals also presented the musical "You're A Good Man Charlie Brown" and did a 50's medley in their midwinter concert, winding up the season.

A few changes were made in the choir this year. One of the major differences was that of elected officers. The choir desired to elect officers so that greater organization and fund raising could be obtained. New officers include: Tracy Ulrich—President, Dawn Clancy—Vice-President, and Dawn Chilcott—secretary-treasurer.

The 45-member cast of "Oklahoma" presented three flawless performances of the famous musical. They brought warmth and laughter from captivated audiences that filled the team-teaching room every night.

Many long weeks of strenuous rehearsals precluded the first performance on April 30, with the additional performances on May 1 and 2.

Miss McGinnis, PHS choir teacher, directed "Oklahoma" and also "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" earlier this year. She had directed "The Music Man" and "The Miracle Worker" at Lakeville. Helping Miss McGinnis were Student Director Lisa Sullivan, and Assistant Student Director Ann Bain.

The musical was set in the Indian Territory, just after the turn of the century. It concerns the rivalry of cowboy Curly and Jud Fry, a farm-hand, for the love of young Laurey Williams. She is the niece of everyone's favorite, Aunt Eller, and won't admit her true feelings for Curly. Meanwhile, Ado Annie is torn between a wedding to cowboy Will Parker, or to a Persian peddler by the name of Ali Hakim. Ali had no intentions of marrying anyone! In the end, Curly got his Laurey, Will got his Annie, and Ali fell victim to a shotgun wedding to Gertie Cummings, which added to the hilarious events that took place throughout the production.

This is just one example of the outstanding job Miss McGinnis has done with the fine arts program at PHS.

sixteenth century revisited

The Camelot Room at Boyne Highlands set the tone for an authentic sixteenth century madrigal dinner. Co-sponsored by the Petoskey's Madrigal Singers and the Northern Michigan Chef's Association, the annual dinner attracted a sell-out crowd of over 290 people and was again covered by Channel 9 and 10 T.V. news.

The Madrigal singers musically welcomed the guests with "Here We Come a-Wassailing." The nine course meal included such dishes as apple fritters, roast leg of lamb, and cod creole. Each entre was accompanied by an appropriate Christmas madrigal song. The evening's festivities concluded with the traditional last verse of "We Wish You A Merry Christmas" while waiters and waitresses ushered in trays heaping with plum pudding. This put the finishing touches on an evening of nostalgic celebration.

nhs caring, helping

The unique aspect of National Honor Society was caring for other people. The group proved this by tutoring Laotians, and helping them with their reading and writing skills. They also helped other students who were having problems as well as showed recognition of the gifted ones.

debators attend congress

Four PHS debators, Anne Linck, Greg O'Gawa, Lisa Nelson, and Dawn Osborne, along with other debators throughout the state, attended Student Congress at the beginning of this year.

Student Congress, which was held in the state capitol, is a simulation of national government that involves students.

Both novice and varsity debating teams were fairly successful this season. Although they finished with an 8-8 record in overall competition, they placed 14th in state competition, Petoskey's best finish ever. Many debators also received individual speaker awards during the season.

This year's varsity team consisted of Lorrie Harvey, Anne Linck, Michelle Buday, Dawn Say, Nean Connaughton, Mary Katherine Smith, and Steve Vorpapel.

Earlier in the year, PHS Debate Team joined the Central Michigan Debating League in order to provide additional debating.

This year's topic for debate was, "Federal government should initiate and enforce safety guarantees on consumer goods."

During the year, debate members sold pens, held a bake sale, and sponsored a dance to raise money.

forensics: bigger than before

A surge of interest in Forensics made this year's group one of the largest in the history of PHS.

Forensics did very well in overall competition this season. At the Standish Invitational, members took first place sweepstakes for schools in its classification. After successfully competing in districts at Harbor Springs, eight members were allowed to advance to regionals. Members agreed that Mrs. Howard's coaching, and the many long, hard practices paid off.

Money-making projects for the year ranged from bake sales after school, to concession stands at the local baseball games.

journalists attend national convention

Help! The first deadline was one week away and only three spreads were finalized. Frantic, last minute concerns often characterized each deadline in yearbook class. But, somehow, deadlines were met.

Activities of the group included several members' attendance at the National Journalism Education Association Conference held in Detroit, and attendance at both the regional and state MIPA conferences.

Scott Okerlund, Editor-in-Chief and Jennifer Swenor, managing editor were two of the six returning yearbook staff students. The entire photo staff was comprised of rookies but they still produced effective pictures.

Altogether, yearbook was an experience of individual effort and responsibility that most members will not soon forget.

It was a new name, new look and new feel for the Petoskey High School newspaper this year. The PHS highlight news staff, although small in numbers with only one second year student, was big in ideas. Editor-in Chief was Karin Uhlich and Managing-editor was Dan Carpenter. Even though both were rookies, they provided leadership for a top rated newspaper.

Several newspaper students also attended the National Journalism Education Association Convention in Detroit, as well as both the MIPA Regional and State conferences.

Students worked hard to earn funds to finance the paper by the annual Sadie's Dance and numerous ad sales.

Many after school hours were necessary but the dedication of a few highly motivated students resulted in an excellent publication.

petoskey hosts special olympics

Clear skies, temperatures reaching into the 60's, and about 270 eager participants provided the atmosphere for a successful 1981 Special Olympics. Competitors from 7 counties in Northwestern lower Michigan gathered on May 8 in Petoskey for the second in a series of events which led to the State Finals.

The day's events began at noon with the track and field competition followed by the swimming and gymnastics competitions. An awards banquet and dance ended the day of exciting competitive events.

Of the 12 PHS students competing, Sharon Murray, Laurie Howie, Bruce Beyer, Steve Sineway, and Bob Stanley advanced to the State Finals which were held in Mt. Pleasant.

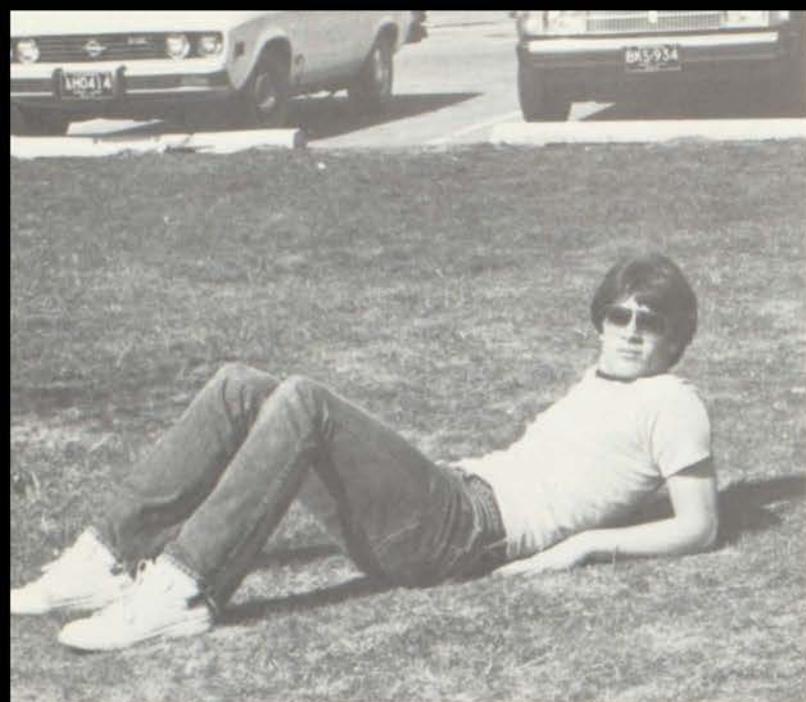

Special thanks went out from advisor Bob Sornsen to the many students who were out on the field helping to run and record events, and to the Jaycees who sponsored Special Olympics.

picnicers enjoy day

For many students a weekend afternoon may be filled with lying around the house, working or cramming at the library. But the Sunday afternoon of May 17th was spent by many PHS students attending the fourth annual student council picnic.

Despite the not so warm weather, many students still enjoyed frisbee, volleyball, and the music provided by Joe Hofbauer and company.

Along with the activities, the aroma of hamburgers and hotdogs sizzling on the open grill filled the air as student council members worked diligently to supply the demand of hungry picnicers.

council members attain goals

Activities are an important part of any student's high school life. Activities can also be a learning process when handled well. The 1981 Student Council comprised of 36 members, organized and ran several of these activities.

The organizing of the homecoming procession, King and Queen voting, the purchasing of flowers for parents and a Muscular Dystrophy Dance-a-thon were just a few. The Student Council picnic, held in May, was once again, for the fourth year, a big success.

Council President, Anne Linck, stated, "The Student Council is an organization which represents the student body and the council can function only when the school plays an active role and helps with the activities."

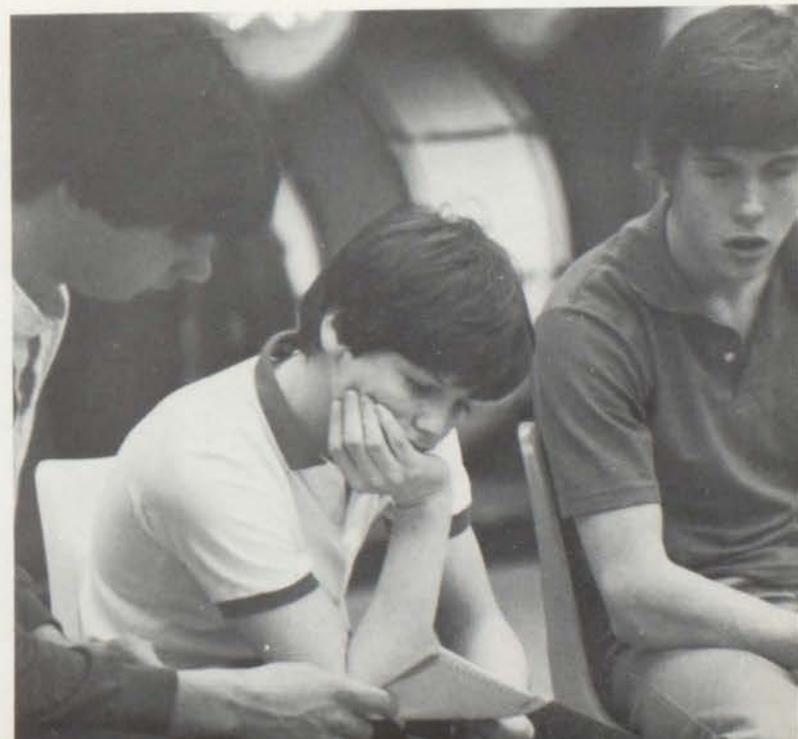

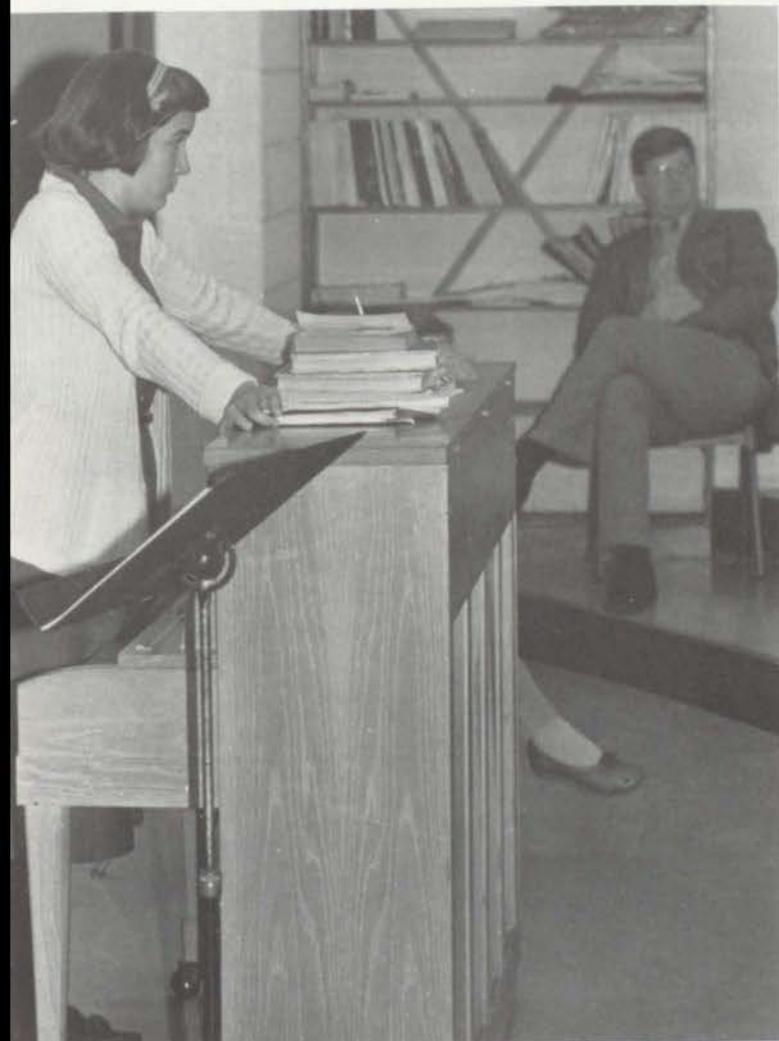

Officers were: Anne Linck, Greg O'Gawa, Gaye Elder, and Dave Poquette.

honor and recognition

The most recognized and coveted award given to any Petoskey High School student this year was a $1000 Art Trealor Chemistry Scholarship presented to Greg O'Gawa for his academic achievements. In addition to this scholarship, seventeen other seniors were the recipients of academic scholarships, primarily to Michigan Universities.

The program included recognition of excellence in the areas of journalism, Spanish, speech, business, and vocational skills.

Anne Linck, Student Council president, and Scott Okerlund, yearbook editor were presented with the American Legion awards.

A special award this year was given to Julie Jakob in tribute of her courage and strength while combatting her long illness.

Ed Fortune received the Good Humor and Spirit Award presented by Mr. Slater, vice-principal. This traditional award, although non-academic, is truly an honor as it recognizes individual spirit in school.

Parents, teachers and administrators applauded the efforts of all students involved in the assembly, which was a successful tribute to outstanding students at PHS.

good-bye doesn't mean forever

The quaint garden atmosphere of the Terrace Inn was the setting of the nineteen eighty-one prom. From the banistered staircase, to the wicker rockers, and porch-light glow, an air of nineteenth century elegance prevailed. Ladies were escorted by their dates to the dance floor, where they began an evening of memorable enjoyment while dancing to the music of the band "Limousine."

This year's theme "Good-bye Doesn't Mean Forever," certainly was appropriate as alumni attended and once again were reunited with friends. Decorated by the glimmering lights, the red painted sidewalk welcomed those who attended. Hor'devours, a fountain of punch, and a four layered cake were served for refreshments.

Photographer Tim Calloway provided portraits of couples, both near the cozy fireplace and the garden entrance. Finally at one o'clock a.m., it was time to say goodbye, but with the knowledge that with friends, it never means forever.

For many athletes, a successful season was the ultimate reward; for others, who also suffered through the many miseries of training, the reward was knowing that they gave their best effort. Whether it was running to the state park on unbelievably hot, summer days for cross-country practice or fasting for three days in order to qualify for a wrestling meet, everyone involved gave whatever was necessary to achieve self-satisfaction and team pride.

It was true dedication, determination and sportsmanship of each athlete at Petoskey High which placed him into this unique group of memorable individuals.

varsity together despite injuries

Serious injuries plagued the Northmen early in the season. Tom Nelson, Todd Mish and Ben Juday were disabled for most of the scheduled games. A number of other players sustained injuries that kept them from participating in anywhere from one to four games.

These handicaps were partially responsible for their 4-5 record which placed them fourth in league standings.

Co-Captains of the team were Dave Schuch and Phil Simard. Most valuable player awards went to Jim Parker, Paul Fruge and Phil Simard. John Scott and Bill Keiser received honorable mention.

Coach Barry Aspenleiter felt that the team, as a whole, adjusted well to the absence of the injured players. The team pooled their resources and gave a first class effort.

Mr. Aspenleiter was assisted this year by Mr. Mark Smolinski and Mr. Gary Hice.

first win sets pace

A seven-one record was posted by the Junior Varsity football squad this season. The one and only defeat came at the hands of the unbeaten Cheboygan Chiefs, by the score of 21-16. Throughout the season, the team displayed maximum effort. Captains were chosen weekly so that many players had the opportunity to be captain. Although all members contributed greatly, each in his own way, Troy Goodrich, Dean Schuch, Larry Pennel, and Jim Gulledge were considered to have set the pace for the team.

Coach Dave Brines said, "This team showed their inner fortitude and character by coming from behind to win on three separate occasions. They were an extremely close-knit group of kids that gave 100% at nearly every practice. They were all good athletes."

fall brings new sport to phs

A new extra-curricular fall sport was added to the PHS activities roster this year. That activity was the increasingly popular sport of soccer. A number of interested students, who had played through the city recreation department in previous years, approached Mr. Batchelor to coach them as a school club. Mr. Batchelor agreed and the soccer club was officially underway.

As a first year organization, Mr. Batchelor felt the team did very well. In the six regularly scheduled meets, the team dominated five, only losing one close match. In tournament play in Traverse City, they were unsuccessful.

"All the players contributed greatly to the team as a whole," Batchelor stated. However, he felt the most improved player was Mike Chapman. The soccer club is looking forward to being established as an official Varsity Sport by next fall.

dedication proves worthy

"Although the Petoskey Thinclads had a poor season due to inexperience," said coach Don Dickmann, the teams did have quite a few dedicated runners who worked hard and never gave up. Fortunately, many of the runners will be back to form a nucleus for next year's team. Graduating members were Mark Hilal, Scott Okerlund, Greg O'Gawa, Dawn Say, and Andrea Taylor.

said coach Don Dickmann.

Freshman John Goble became the top runner by the end of the year. Todd Muche ran Cross-Country for the first time and became the most valuable runner for the boys. Karen was elected most valuable runner for the girls' team.

This was the first year that the Northmen had a full girls' team which did quite well in season competition. Only two girls will be lost due to graduation and there will be five returning. Karen Budek had another excellent year in which she placed fourth in the Regional Meet, and twenty-third in the State Meet. "We are hoping that she can lead the team again next year," girls' volleyball achieves rapport, gains experience

Although small in number, consisting of nine players, the Varsity Volleyball team showed a strong effort throughout the season.

Winning eleven games proved quite a challenge for the girls. The team won two matches at Districts which enabled them to compete in the final match.

Two members, Karin Uhlich and Cheryl Hirschenberger, were recognized as all conference team players. Two other players, Mary McDonald and Dawn Osborne, because of their demonstrated skills, were promoted to the Varsity Squad. This year's co-captains were four-year member Karin and two-year member Leah Cohen.

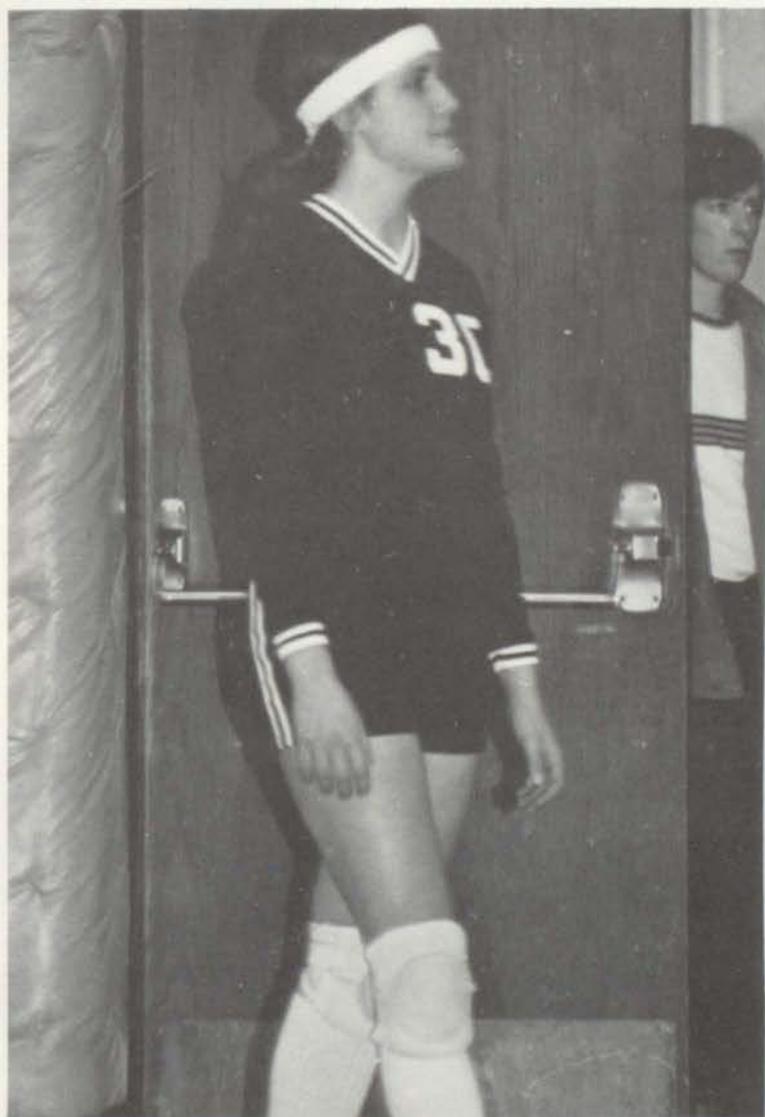

Since Volleyball is truly a team sport and no one player can achieve success without the other players, Miss Richwine said, "The team as a whole was given recognition as valuable players." She added, "The squad was an exceptionally close group and worked well together."

girls tie for fifth in conference

Girls' J.V. volleyball team played great together with enthusiasm and excitement, ending the overall standings with an impressive 5th place with Boyne City. Kathleen Parker and Beth Waldo were the captains. All the girls played well together and contributed equally, ending the year with a 19-21 record. Coach Mary Johnson guided the girls through the year.

"We were somewhat short on talent this year, but very long on desire," said Junior Varsity Coach Raiche. He went on to say, "The girls could have very easily given up after many losses, but they kept their heads up and continued to work at it. They improved tremendously, and showed great desire to win. Ending the season with our only victory couldn't have been more exciting."

The girls season record was 1-6 overall. Team captains were Monica Malec and Estelle Atchison.

Monica Malec said, "We learned a lot this year and hopefully next year our record will show the improvement."

Although the season as a whole was unsuccessful on a win-loss basis, it was a rewarding, learning, experience for the girls involved.

Although the girls' varisty basketball team lacked experience due to its being a young team, it placed 7-7 in the final league standings.

The position of captain was rotated among senior team members Eileen O'Brien, Tammy Parsley, Carrie Ronan, and Ann Pillsbury. Eileen O'Brien was named top rebounded and voted most valuable player for the team. Susie Damschroder, only a freshman this year, was a starter and had the highest average of rebounds per game with 11.2.

Senior Eileen O'Brien and sophomore Kris Ronan made all-conference, while Carrie Ronan and Kelly Hansen made honorable mentioned, all-conference.

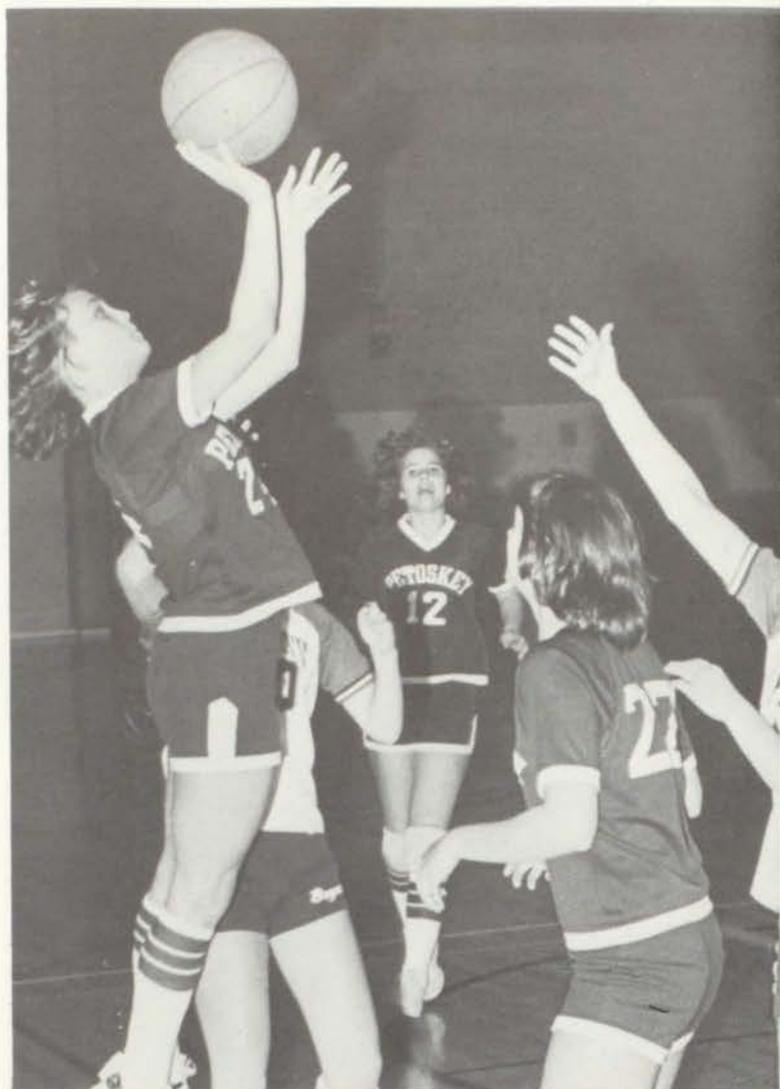

Throughout the season, the girls worked together and took pride in their efforts. Mr. McClutchey, head coach, felt this season provided members with the experience necessary for a definite advantage next year.

matmen place in mhsc

Although the Northmen wrestlers didn't have the weight balance that they had in 1980, they did have eight outstanding members that helped achieve many victories. Seniors Jim Gibes, Mike Pemberton, Jeff Stradling, and Pat Ball led the way, while juniors Jim Haggerty and Paul Baerwolf along with sophomores Rick Walker and Jim Pemberton added to the team's accomplishments.

The wrestlers placed first in the MHSC, second at the Pine River, St. Ignace, and Petoskey tournaments, third at the Oscoda tournament, fourth at Districts, and ninth at Regionals.

The team ended the season with 13-3 record, which was the most wins during a single season. There were six district placers, and five conference champions: Rick Walker, Jim Pemberton, Mike Pemberton, Jeff Stradling, and Pat Ball. Coach Arthur also gave recognition to Jim Gibes, Paul Baerwolf, Jim Haggerty, and Tom Nelson.

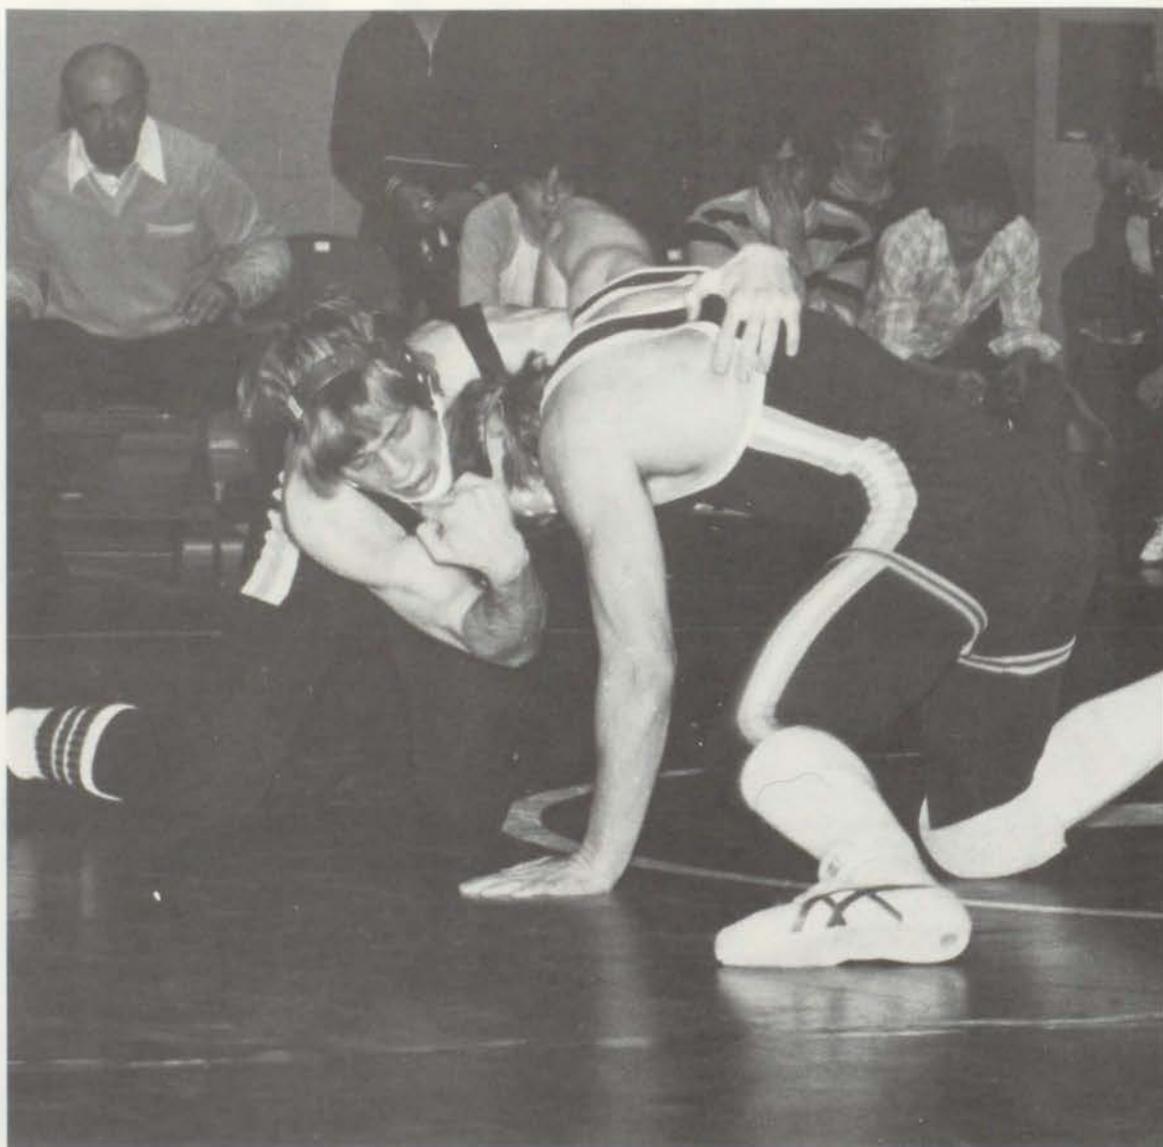

Junior Varsity wrestlers were: Dan McBryde, John Smith, Tim Harrington, Mike Deprekel, Terry Stradling, Jamie Bawkey, Chris Johnston, Karl Yentz, Kip Howse, Dan Muller, Randy Fettig, A.J. skiers prove successful

Schuss Mountain was the setting for a triumphant season for both boys' and girls' ski teams. The girls' team swept districts, regionals, then went on to win state for the second year in a row. The boys' team captured the runner-up trophy at the State meet.

Co-captains for girls' team were Mary Turcott and Katie Brown. Voted most valuable skiers were Teresa Linck and Katie Brown.

Coach Gunderson stated "this was the best girls' ski team I have ever coached". The winning all-state team consisted of Katie Brown, Teresa Linck and Marlee Brown.

Representing the boys' team as co-captains were Rick Kupcipal and Todd Thompson. Most valuable skier was Dan Turcott. At all-conference Rick Kutcipal and Todd Thompson took first place at all-state.

Coach Gunderson felt that this team had the most talent of any boys' ski team he had ever coached. He stated "each race day it was difficult to select the starting line-up. This was an excellent ski team".

This year's boys and girls represented Petoskey in a manner which has yet to have been equaled.

junior varsity skiers improve skills

The talent and effort within the Junior Varsity Ski Team was the key factor to a successful season. The JV team represented PHS well in the three meets in which they participated. Mr. Gunderson stated, "the team demonstrated outstanding ability even compared to other schools' varsity teams." The co-captains for the 1980-81 team were Kurt Damschroder, Kitty Spinney, and Lisa Klienstiver. All the members were a great asset to the team. However, outstanding students were Jay Pecotte, Kurt Damschroder, Lisa Klienstiver, and Kitty Spinney.

triumph through work

Under the leadership of captain Mickey Walker, the JV Basketball team was led to a 31-7 on the season and a share of the conference championship with Charlevoix and St. Ignace. "This team was blessed with lots of natural talent but they weren't content with depending on talent alone," said coach Mark Fralick. Todd Vandebrink, Troy Goodrich, and Mickey Walker were moved up to varsity for tournaments.

Once again Petoskey had a fine Freshman Basketball team. According to coach Charlie Wilson, "The team worked hard every day in practice and got the most out of their own abilities." Leading scorer was Eric Joneson, and leading rebounder was Jeff Pulaski. This team was unique because it had the most wins for a freshman team at Petoskey. The team had a record of 16-2 for the year.

northmen share title

Although the Northmen were given a low preseason rating by the Petoskey News Review they were determined to prove this prediction wrong. The season started against a former powerhouse state B championship team out of Detroit. In this game River Rouge dominated Petoskey by a score of 77 to 48. However, the team did not feel discouraged but looked at it as "an experience."

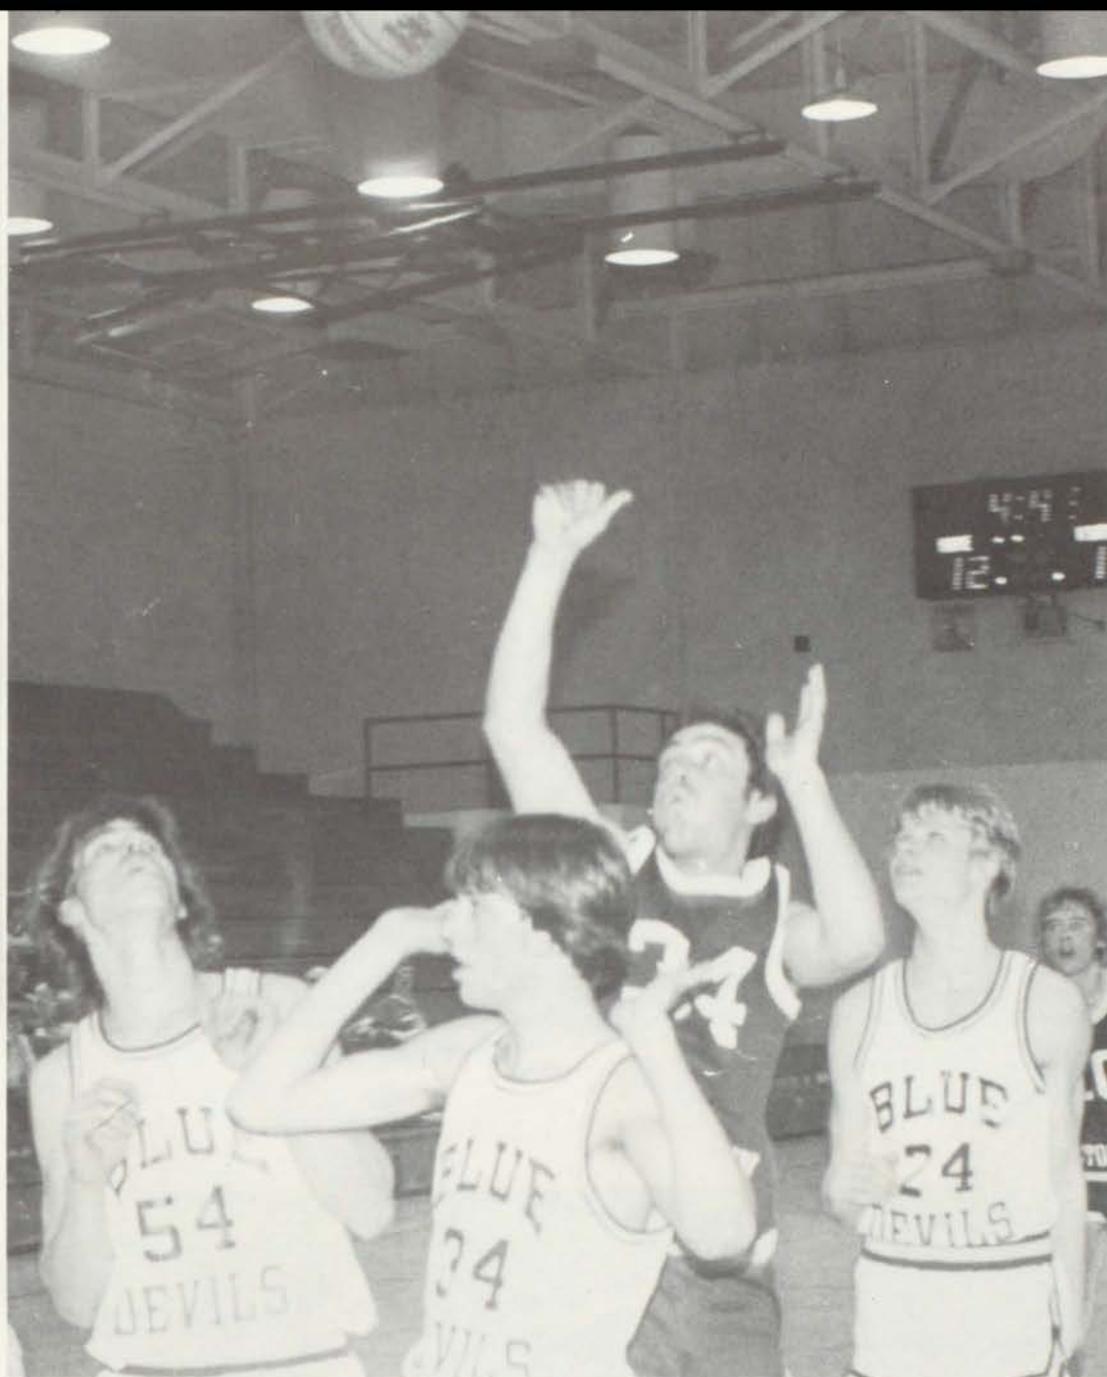

After that first defeat, Petoskey went on to claim four straight victories. From then on Petoskey was looked upon as the team to beat. Losing only two more games during season play, the Northmen posted an impressive 11-3 record which resulted in a 3-way tie for first place in the MHSC.

Three team members, Jim Wareck, Steve Hewitt, and Dave Poquette made all conference this year with Jim Wareck and Steve Hewitt averaging just over 10 points per game.

Even though the Northmen did not advance in district competition, they were pleased with their successes which included sharing the conference title and having the best defensive conference record for the 1980-81 season. Coach Paul Van Wagoner described this year's team as, "a good group of individuals that understood what team concept was all about."

"I really would like to congratulate the boys on being league champs" said Renko. "They have played well under pressure all season long."

Outstanding pitching by Dale Willis, with a record of 10-0 on the season, contributed greatly to the team's success. Co-captains Dave Schuch and Jim Wareck, both exceptional base slingers, also helped the team.

The team had a 7-0 record in conference standings, while in non-conference, were 19-6. Their winning streak continued into district competition.

state qualifiers again

Having team members qualify for state finals in boys' track has become a tradition at PHS. This year, both Mark Hilal and Bill Schroderus placed within the top three at Regional competition, which enabled them to go to State competition.

Four records were broken this year: Mark Hilal, senior, broke his own record of 41.75 on the high hurdles with a time of 41.01. Also breaking records were freshman John Goble, who ran the mile with a time of 4:44.3, and sophomore Troy Goodrich, breaking Eric Swenor's 440 record with a time of 52.9, and Jim Bowman's 100 yard dash record with a time of 10.75 seconds. The team finished fourth in the Michigan Huron Shores Conference, with the strong events being the high hurdles, the mile relay, and the mile run with key runners being John Goble and Dave Coveyou.

According to Coach Aspenleiter, the 1981 track team was an enjoyable team to coach.

The team finished second at the Sault Ste. Marie Invitational, third at the Petoskey Relays, and the freshmen and sophomores place first at Cadillac, and second at Rogers City.

setting records

Unreasonably cold and wet weather hampered each meet of the girls' track team this year, but enthusiasm and dedication kept the girls training and competing through Newberry Invitationals, Oscoda Invitationals, Roger City Relays, Regionals and Conference. Although the team was comprised of many young members, each showed considerable potential for upcoming seasons. With unity and mutual support, the team accomplished many of its goals.

The two seasoned veterans who motivated the squad most were Kelly Hansen and Karen Budek. Kelly broke the school and conference record this year in the 440 yd. dash with an impressive time of 62.2 seconds. Karen qualified for state in two events this year, both the mile, with a time of 5:28 and the mile relay, consisting of Karen, Amy Rudolph, Tuesday Lordson, and Kelly Hansen. Freshman Beth Waldo also broke a school record this season in the 110 hurdles with a time of 16.3 seconds.

Two seniors, Lisa Stevens and Dawn Say were given special recognition for contributing motivation, enthusiasm and talents for the past four years in track.

The girls placed third in conference, overall, losing second-place by only one point to their arch-rivals, Grayling. Although the title of "Conference Champs" wasn't retained, the fine coaching of Mr. Scott Batchelor and enthusiasm of asst. coach Maria May helped the girls to set several new school records and to consider the season definitely successful.

Despite the fact that they won only three matches last year, one by forfeit, the girls' tennis team faired well. Being the only class B team in the area, they had to play class A teams. Up until now, the girls had not won any matches.

boys end season with 8 wins - 2 losses

By using their talents, skills and abilities, the boys' tennis team won all but two of their matches, last year, losing both to Traverse City.

Key players like number one singles Scott Langs and number two singles Scott Snyder helped the team achieve its many victories.

Also adding to the wins were the number one and two doubles teams consisting of Ned Deer-Andy Stuart and Jeff Yoder-Paul Sattlemeier.

Junior Charlie Colwell also demonstrated his abilities by winning most of his exhibition matches.

Overall, the boys' tennis team had a successful season.

first year successful

Advancing to district competition and ending the season with a record of 16-5 was a rewarding achievement for the first year girls' Varsity Softball team.

Leading the team were seniors Tammy Parsley and Eileen O'Brien, recognized as being this year's most valuable players. Although the team, consisting of only three seniors and two juniors, lacked experience, goals were attained with the spirit and determination each team member possessed. Special recognition was awarded to team manager, Donna Pontbriand who motivated the team by her own enthusiasm. Coach Julie Fairbairn, proud of her girls' achievements stated, "the club of 1980 received team status this year and by advancing to district competition, the girls proved that they deserved it."

wareck goes to state

For the second time in the history of Petoskey High School, a member of the golf team qualified to compete in the state tournament. On October sixth, 1980, senior Jim Wareck shot a 72 which was the lowest score of all golfers at the regional tournament. This made him eligible for state competition where he finished with a fine 40th out of 112 golfers.

Over all, the team achieved a fine record of 11-1-1, led by senior Dave Poquette with a 39.2 stroke average. Although the team, consisting of three freshman, five sophomores, and two seniors, as a whole lacked experience, Coach Lee Milner stated, "I was extremely proud of the effort this season."

athletic recognition

The word "vitality" must have been derived from the name of Dick Vitale, the guest speaker at the 1981 Athletic Banquet. With dynamic strength, he captured the audience by making references to a number of the student speakers who preceded him. He then defined the qualities which make winners: the ability to persevere toward a specific, set goal and to be willing to give 120% toward that goal.

The banquet program was organized and directed by Master and Mistress of Ceremonies, Dave Poquette and Mary Turcott, who were also both chosen as this year's scholar-athlete recipients. Dave and Mary introduced each of the seventeen different sports' representatives who credited letter-winners, team members and coaches for successful and rewarding seasons.

The evening's highlight was a surprise presentation of a sport's plaque to Mr. Neidhamer from the senior athletes at PHS. Scott Okerlund, senior basketball and cross country letter-winner, created and constructed the collage which will hang in the Athletic Director's office. Students and parents alike gave a standing ovation in appreciation of PHS athletes.

BELOW: Apprehension is generally a prerequisite to speech making, but with little support from teammate Dave Schuch, Steve Hewitt does a fine job.

After waiting what seemed an eternity, it finally happened: a senior at last! Rare moments were shared where each senior became a little closer to the other than he or she had ever been before.

When June arrived, it just didn't seem possible that high school would very soon be over. It seemed as though the years went by as quickly as the walk across the stage at graduation... one moment, a normal rowdy teenager; the next, a sincere and self-responsible adult, who had achieved a specific goal.

Though the years has passed quickly, time had been well spent. Time had been used to learn, to love and to grow.

ABOVE RIGHT: Getting involved in the sport of the season was a normal activity for seniors Terrie McCarthy and Julie Norris.

NEAR RIGHT: Catching a bite to eat in the pit during lunch hour was a usual pastime for Ann Bain so that she could chat with a few friends.

FAR RIGHT: Being a senior sometimes brings out the zaniness in a person as seen by the new fashion that Doug Hill is promoting.

seniors

the long and winding road

The agony of waiting for September 1980 was over—a senior at last! Four years ago graduation seemed an eternity away. Suddenly it was tomorrow and reflections of the past thirteen years of school flashed through minds as diplomas were received.

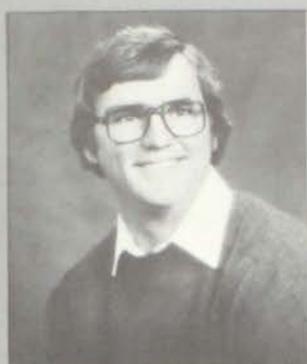

This last year had gone by quickly. There were projects planned by the senior class such as the Fall "Pig Out" pig roast which attracted frisbee-fliers, greased pig contestants, and just plain hungry folks and a variety of other money-making schemes including a wood-cutting spree, pumpkin selling, a Valentine's Dance at the K of C Hall and the annual Italian Dinner.

Also this year brought an end to a type of music with which many seniors could relate. That was the music of John Lennon and the Beatles. The songs by these artists left an indelible mark on the lives of a number of Petoskey seniors as they grew and matured.

seniors reflect 1981 lifestyles

The years 1980-81 at Petoskey High School were marked by many important world events along with local trends: the hostages were returned to the United States after 444 days in Iran; Ronald Reagan inaugurated President of United States; and over 20 black children murdered in Atlanta. Styles of dress and music reflected a unique era. Although several events were tragic, others showed great promise for future generations. These events and styles marked the beginning of a new decade and were embedded into the memories of seniors as they embarked upon new goals.

UPPER RIGHT: Music from the artists AC/DC, Pat Benatar, REO, and Rockets are some of the groups that reflect the style of music being played by John Walenta and assistants at the Petoskey High School 1980 Halloween Dance.

BELOW: Reading about National and local issues, Traci Corwin, Kelly Smith, Terry McCarthy and Doug Hill inform themselves about what important news events happened in 1981.

LEFT: Observing the space shuttle re-entry with great interest, Rick Kutcipal marvels at the technology of a new decade.

ABOVE: Styles, modeled by Karen Malec, Rita Cole, Terrie Balasa, and Connie Fox, in the 80's ranged from straight skirts to bib overalls; peg-legged pants to baggies. Dresses were definitely in the vogue. Typical guys' clothing included docksiders without socks; Levi's and oxford shirts. Those truly in the know chose preppie izod styles, Sasson, and Calvin Klein.

BELOW: Experiments done by Andrea Taylor, and Brad Hofland in physics may well be the first step to understanding scientific principles.

phs plans SCHOOL STORE...

Dan Carpenter

PHS's Business Education Department will experience a substantial change next year. Plans have been made for a School Store to open this September. The management will be solely by students with the advisor, Mr. Larry Gunderson, playing an important role in educating the students in business techniques and salesmanship.

This move, heartily recommended by both the Department of Education and North Central Association evaluation teams, is intended to provide students with the experience to enter a related occupation. Students who would benefit most from this class would be those with an interest in business and sales. Primarily, actual work experience in the store would be the basis for grading.

PETOSKEY'S GOVERNMENTAL PROCEDURES QUESTIONED

An Analysis

Suzanne Scally & Mike Pemberton

"We have nothing whatsoever to hide," commented Petoskey Mayor Joe Kilborn.

"I'd prefer not to make a comment at this time," says Petoskey city manager Steve Hofner.

The question that nobody in the city government seems to want to answer was raised at the city council meeting January 5, 1981. It concerns the suspension of city police force member Lisa Piehl. Piehl was suspended for 30 days without pay late last year, and the charges brought against her were never made public.

Hofner also said that he cannot fire a police officer, but he can suspend one. It takes the city council's vote to fire a member of the force. What Mayor Kilborn had said was true; he had not suspended the officer, but he and the council had not seen fit to fire her either.

The officer's guilt or innocence is not the real issue. Rather, it is the special privileges provided for public officials which should be questioned. Even if the city council has "nothing whatsoever to hide", citizens of Petoskey are entitled to answers concerning the enforcement of their own laws.

Closed Campus Enforced

Julie Sieradski

"Any student who is observed in the parking lot or leaving campus without permission or authorization from a teacher or from the high school office during the school day, especially during lunch, will be suspended from school until a parent-teacher conference."

"Many things can happen in a half hour," Mr. Slater said, explaining that while the majority will act responsibly, there are a few marginal-behavior students who could go either way. Any accidents or destructive behavior could pose serious problems for the school system.

Two years ago, a student was involved in an accident during his lunch hour. There were no serious injuries, but his FUTURE SHOCK?

By Dan Carpenter

Petoskey High School's curriculum has a new addition this year, a computer class. Taught by Mr. Prickett and Mr. Batchelor, the class's main purpose is to give students a work knowledge of computer programming and data processing.

There are presently 25 students taking this class and next semester, between 15 and 20 students have enrolled. Prerequisites of study include one year of Algebra I and one year of Geometry. Although presently the class is mathematics-oriented, plans are being made to broaden the applications of the

HOSTAGES RETURN

Jess Graham

On January 20, 1981, the fifty-two American hostages who had been held in Iran were released. After spending 444 days in captivity, they boarded their jet to freedom. They arrived at the Wiesbaden Airforce Base in West Germany Wednesday morning. There they spent five days adjusting to their first taste of freedom in over a year.

Crowds of tearfully-happy friends and relatives greeted the former hostages with a profusion of yellow ribbons, welcoming their return to the United States on January 26. At the West Point Military Base they spent a day and a half reacquainting themselves with their loved ones in a private reunion.

Tuesday, January 28, the ex-hostages and their relatives were received on the south lawn of the White House by President Reagan. The reception was followed by a speech in which President Reagan commented "Turn the page and look ahead and do so knowing that for all who serve their country, whether in foreign service, the military, or as a private citizen, freedom is indivisible."

Citizens Combat Local Problem

Karin Uhlich

For the past few months, a local "Substance Abuse Committee" has been meeting at Petoskey's Emmanuel Episcopal Church. The group of concerned parents and citizens is attempting to effectively deal with the growing drug problem facing their community and their families.

Up to now the committee has focused on substance abuse (marijuana, alcohol, cocaine, etc.) among pre-teens and teenagers. One of the group's subcommittees has looked into a local business which allegedly sells drug paraphernalia. Several school officials have also attended the meetings to inform parents of various

John Lennon— the End of an Era

Dan Carpenter

On the evening of December 8, 1980, an era of rock and roll history came to a crushing halt. John Lennon, ex-Beatle and current solo artist, was brutally murdered by a crazed gunman on the street in front of his posh Manhattan apartment.

A man, who had reportedly been loitering in the area of Lennon's residence for several days, approached the singer from behind and called his name. Lennon turned and five shots rang out in the darkness. Moments later, one of the pioneers of rock music as it is known today was dead.

Financial Aid: take it or leave it?

Financial aid: the very words stir hope in the heart of any college-bound high school student. Financial aid, in its various forms, has enabled many students to receive a college education that otherwise would have been unattainable. No one denies that financial aid has been a godsend to many students.

Yet the system has problems. National and state funds are dwindling. Cutbacks are being made left and right. Maybe it's time to take a look at the system. Who should receive financial aid? Are so-called "give-away" programs right? Do they really help the student in the long run?

In the first place, many students and their parents take unfair advantage of financial aid. By living on his own (even though he may still have an income from home), a stu-

PETOSKEY PAYS PRICE OF EXPANSION

Murder and rape are products of the big city - something we in the Northern Michigan shake our heads over as we read about it in the paper. How thankful we can be that we live in our safe, snug, secure little hometown of Petoskey - BUT WAIT!

Very recently, a Petoskey girl was raped. No-it was not while she was visiting Detroit, but while she was in the Petoskey Kmart parking lot. Even more recently, a Petoskey man murdered his wife.

These upsetting events are hitting closer and closer to home. Maybe we should wake up to the fact that Petoskey is NOT the safe little hometown it once was. Murder and rape are not solely indigenous to big cities like New York and Detroit.

Do you lock your house when you go out? Do you lock your car? Are you careful not to walk alone at night?

Many of us have become sloppy about observing these simple, common-sense rules of safety. Many of us share the classic "It can't happen to me" attitude.

It can happen to you. It possibly WILL happen to you. Think about the consequences. You may not be able to totally prevent serious crime, but you can take some measures to lessen the chance of your becoming a victim. Petoskey is no longer a haven of blissful security.

Be aware. Do it. Your life may depend on it.

Seriously Folks...

Suzanne Scally

Contrary to popular opinion, the problem on most Americans' minds right now has nothing to do with the economy, the passage of E.R.A., or wondering where the parties are on Friday night. No, there is a matter of utmost importance and relevance in the back of everyone's head that could result in mass hysteria, vigilante attacks on neighborhood supermarkets, and millions of cases of protein deficiency. That's right - THE GREAT PEANUT BUTTER CRISIS!

OK. I know a lot of people are shaking their heads and asking themselves "Who cares? The shortage of peanut butter won't have any effect on me. JOE AVERAGE, will it?" But if you think about it, the effects of this crisis could be devastat-

ANGLE AND PERSPECTIVE

Dan Carpenter

As I sit in my desk, pen clutched in an icy death grip, I try to cultivate thought. Even though my brain has frozen to the point to near non-thought, I can still move my wrist enough to scrawl out this survival message ... I'M FREEZING MY BUNS OFF!!! All joking aside, when the water in all of the toilets freezes and teachers are forced to wear Eddie Bauer Arctic Parkas to class, things have gone too far.

Julie Sieradski

Every student has been absent at one time or another during his high school career. Every student has gone through the immense hassle and red tape of getting and keeping track of a small green rectangle of paper commonly known as an "excused absence pass". Consider the trials and tribulations of the average student returning to school after being absent the previous day.

He walks in to his first hour class. As his teacher demands a pass, a look of dismay floods his face. "Pass? I forgot to get it. Do you want me to do that row?"

Having received his teacher's permission, he proceeds to the attendance office. There he shifts his weight from one foot to the other as one of the secretaries riffles through a huge pile of passes. "It's not there? She didn't call? Well, she said she was gonna call. Can I use the phone?" He dials. "Mom? I need a pass. You forgot to call." He hands over the phone and waits, wondering just what his mother is telling the attendance lady.

EDITORIAL POLICY

The PHS Highlight News is edited and published monthly by journalism students of Petoskey High School. Its purpose is to serve not only the student body, but the faculty, administration and entire school community as well.

The first function of the newspaper is to stimulate thought and interest within the PHS community, regarding significant events and issues. Editorials reflect the collective thinking of the entire editorial board. Other controversial articles are the work of individuals on the Highlight News staff.

The second function of the Highlight News is to provide its readers with feature and follow-up information regarding school activities and functions. These feature articles are intended to promote student organizations and stimulate participation.

Thirdly, the Highlight serves as a public forum for its readers. Members of the school community are encouraged to respond to any material printed, or to comment on any matters of concern through signed letters or articles.

Finally, the PHS Highlight News is designed to entertain its readers with humorous, interesting and informative material concerning school-related matters.

Readers should note the students on the Highlight are entirely responsible for the contents of this publication. The staff therefore reserves the right to secure legal counsel under libel laws.

FAMILY COMMUNICATION

Karin Uhlich

During the past few months, a relatively small group of community parents has organized a "Substance Abuse Committee." Their major concern—the widespread use of alcohol and other drugs by young people.

Because we are the focus of this group's meetings, it might be wise for us to consider their proposed activities. Up to now, they have discussed various ideas and alternatives including: improvement of family communication, closing the community head shop, identifying and prosecuting dealers, imposing unified curfews, and strengthening law enforcement.

But what about communication? Overall it's the most difficult option. After all, parents have a lot to learn—no more "as long as you live in my house" commandments (which encourage us to lie about our "wrongful" behavior), no more double standards (which allow parents to excuse their social drinking) and no more memories of "when I was your age" (which are totally irrelevant).

And, like our parents, we have a lot to learn—no more "I haven't been drinking" lies

DRAFT REGISTRATION

Karin Uhlich

The recent start of draft registration has become a serious issue which we young adults must evaluate. This coming January, the Selective Service plans to register men born in 1962. After January 5, men (and perhaps women) will be required to register as they turn 18. It is therefore important for each of us to be aware of our options and responsibilities concerning this legislation.

For individuals strongly opposed to serving in the military, there is an alternative to breaking the established draft registration law. The Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors (CCCO), our nation's largest draft counseling agency, offers a free Conscientious card which simply states, Although numerous young Americans do oppose the draft, many have failed to consider some important aspects of the issue. At the present time, all three branches of the U.S. Armed Forces are having trouble recruiting volunteers.

At the same time, the Soviet Union is steadily engaging in a buildup of its military forces. This, along with the unrest in the Middle East, has posed serious threats to the security of the United States.

It is therefore essential for us to somehow begin to reestablish and maintain a stronger national defense. In order to achieve this, our government has taken steps toward reinstating the draft.

One of the major points which opponents of this legislation stress is that the draft severely limits the freedom of young Americans. What these objectors fail to realize is that, by refusing to help rebuild a national defense, we will endanger the very freedom which our country represents - the very freedom which we value so highly.

for one last time

It was 8:00 in the morning at the McDonald's in Howell, Michigan, where one-hundred-forty eight seniors were kicking up their heels, and getting rowdy. Finally, after eight hours in the four buses traveling from Petoskey to Cedar Point, seniors jumped out and stretched and waited in anticipation for the day.

Cedar Point had it all; it appeals to everyone. Not only does it attract the daredevils who get off on the thriller rides, but also those who enjoy strolling the trinket-filled midway.

The most popular rides included the Gemini, (whose front car held a "special" attraction for Angie Foster & Kathi Roe; the Corkscrew (for which Sue Rogers waited in line for twenty minutes for the fifty-seven second thriller) and "Shoot the Rapids" (a refreshing experience for a day boiling with excitement).

Although weary, smiles were seen on the faces of every senior who boarded the buses heading back home. The adventure was best summed up by Lorie Dolan who said "It was the best senior trip ever!"

with a little help

For thirteen years the class of 1981 awaited their final achievement. It was an end to exams and books for some, but for others it was a whole new beginning. Graduation day approached, tassels were turned and a new era begun.

The traditional ceremony of graduation began by a farewell speech by Mr. Hewitt. As each senior crossed the stage, Mr. Doctor shook hands, while Mrs. Brown and Dr. Ronan presented diplomas. Parents sat teary-eyed proud of their sons' and daughters' achievements. Class President Mike Pemberton led the turning of the tassels, and thereby officially concluded graduation.

In retrospect, the years seemed to have flown by. The experience and moments of triumph and trials reminded and made lasting impressions. These molded each senior into a unique individual, on the threshold of tomorrow.

UPPER RIGHT: The seriousness of moving on to a totally new experience in life is seen by the expressions of seniors listening to Mr. Hewitt's address to the 1981 graduating class. In a moment, they will cross the stage and transgress from adolescence to adulthood.
RIGHT: After intense anticipation, the time of receiving diplomas arrives. Some seniors, like Ken McCardel, clearly express their joy in achieving this major goal.

editors' notes

I have really enjoyed being a part of the journalism programs for the past three years. But, being editor of the yearbook this year has been the most beneficial as I've learned greatly by being in a position of responsibility.

Most of the people in yearbook class this year didn't have much enthusiasm, but each one put forth time and effort to get jobs done and deadlines met. Thanks to all of you for your time. I wish you good luck in what ever you do.

I would also like to extend my sincere thanks to Mrs. May. I have had her as a teacher from ninth through twelfth grade and have truly enjoyed being a student in her classes. She has taught me many things, not just academically, but also individually about myself. I would like to dedicate this book to her because of the tremendous improvement she has made on the newspaper and yearbook classes since she took on the responsibilities two years ago. Here's to you Maria May, one super individual. Thanks a lot.

*Good Luck to everyone
Scott Okerlund
Editor-in-Chief*

I'd like to thank Mrs. May and all the 1981 journalism students for an inspiring and rewarding year. I feel I have gained character as well as knowledge during the early Saturday morning work sessions needed to complete deadlines. I would also like to thank the special people who helped me get through those difficult times when nothing seemed to go right.

Finally, I'd like to wish the entire student body the strength and desire to achieve their goals. Good Luck!

*Sincerely,
Jennifer Swenor
Co-Editor*

changes

develop uniqueness

Although the end of the year brought many sighs of relief (no more lengthy research papers to write; no more yearbook and newspaper deadlines; no more weekly quizzes and exams; and no more eight o'clock gym classes) it also brought feelings of nostalgia. At the time, school seemed like such a drag; now, there were thoughts that friends would never quite pass this way again.

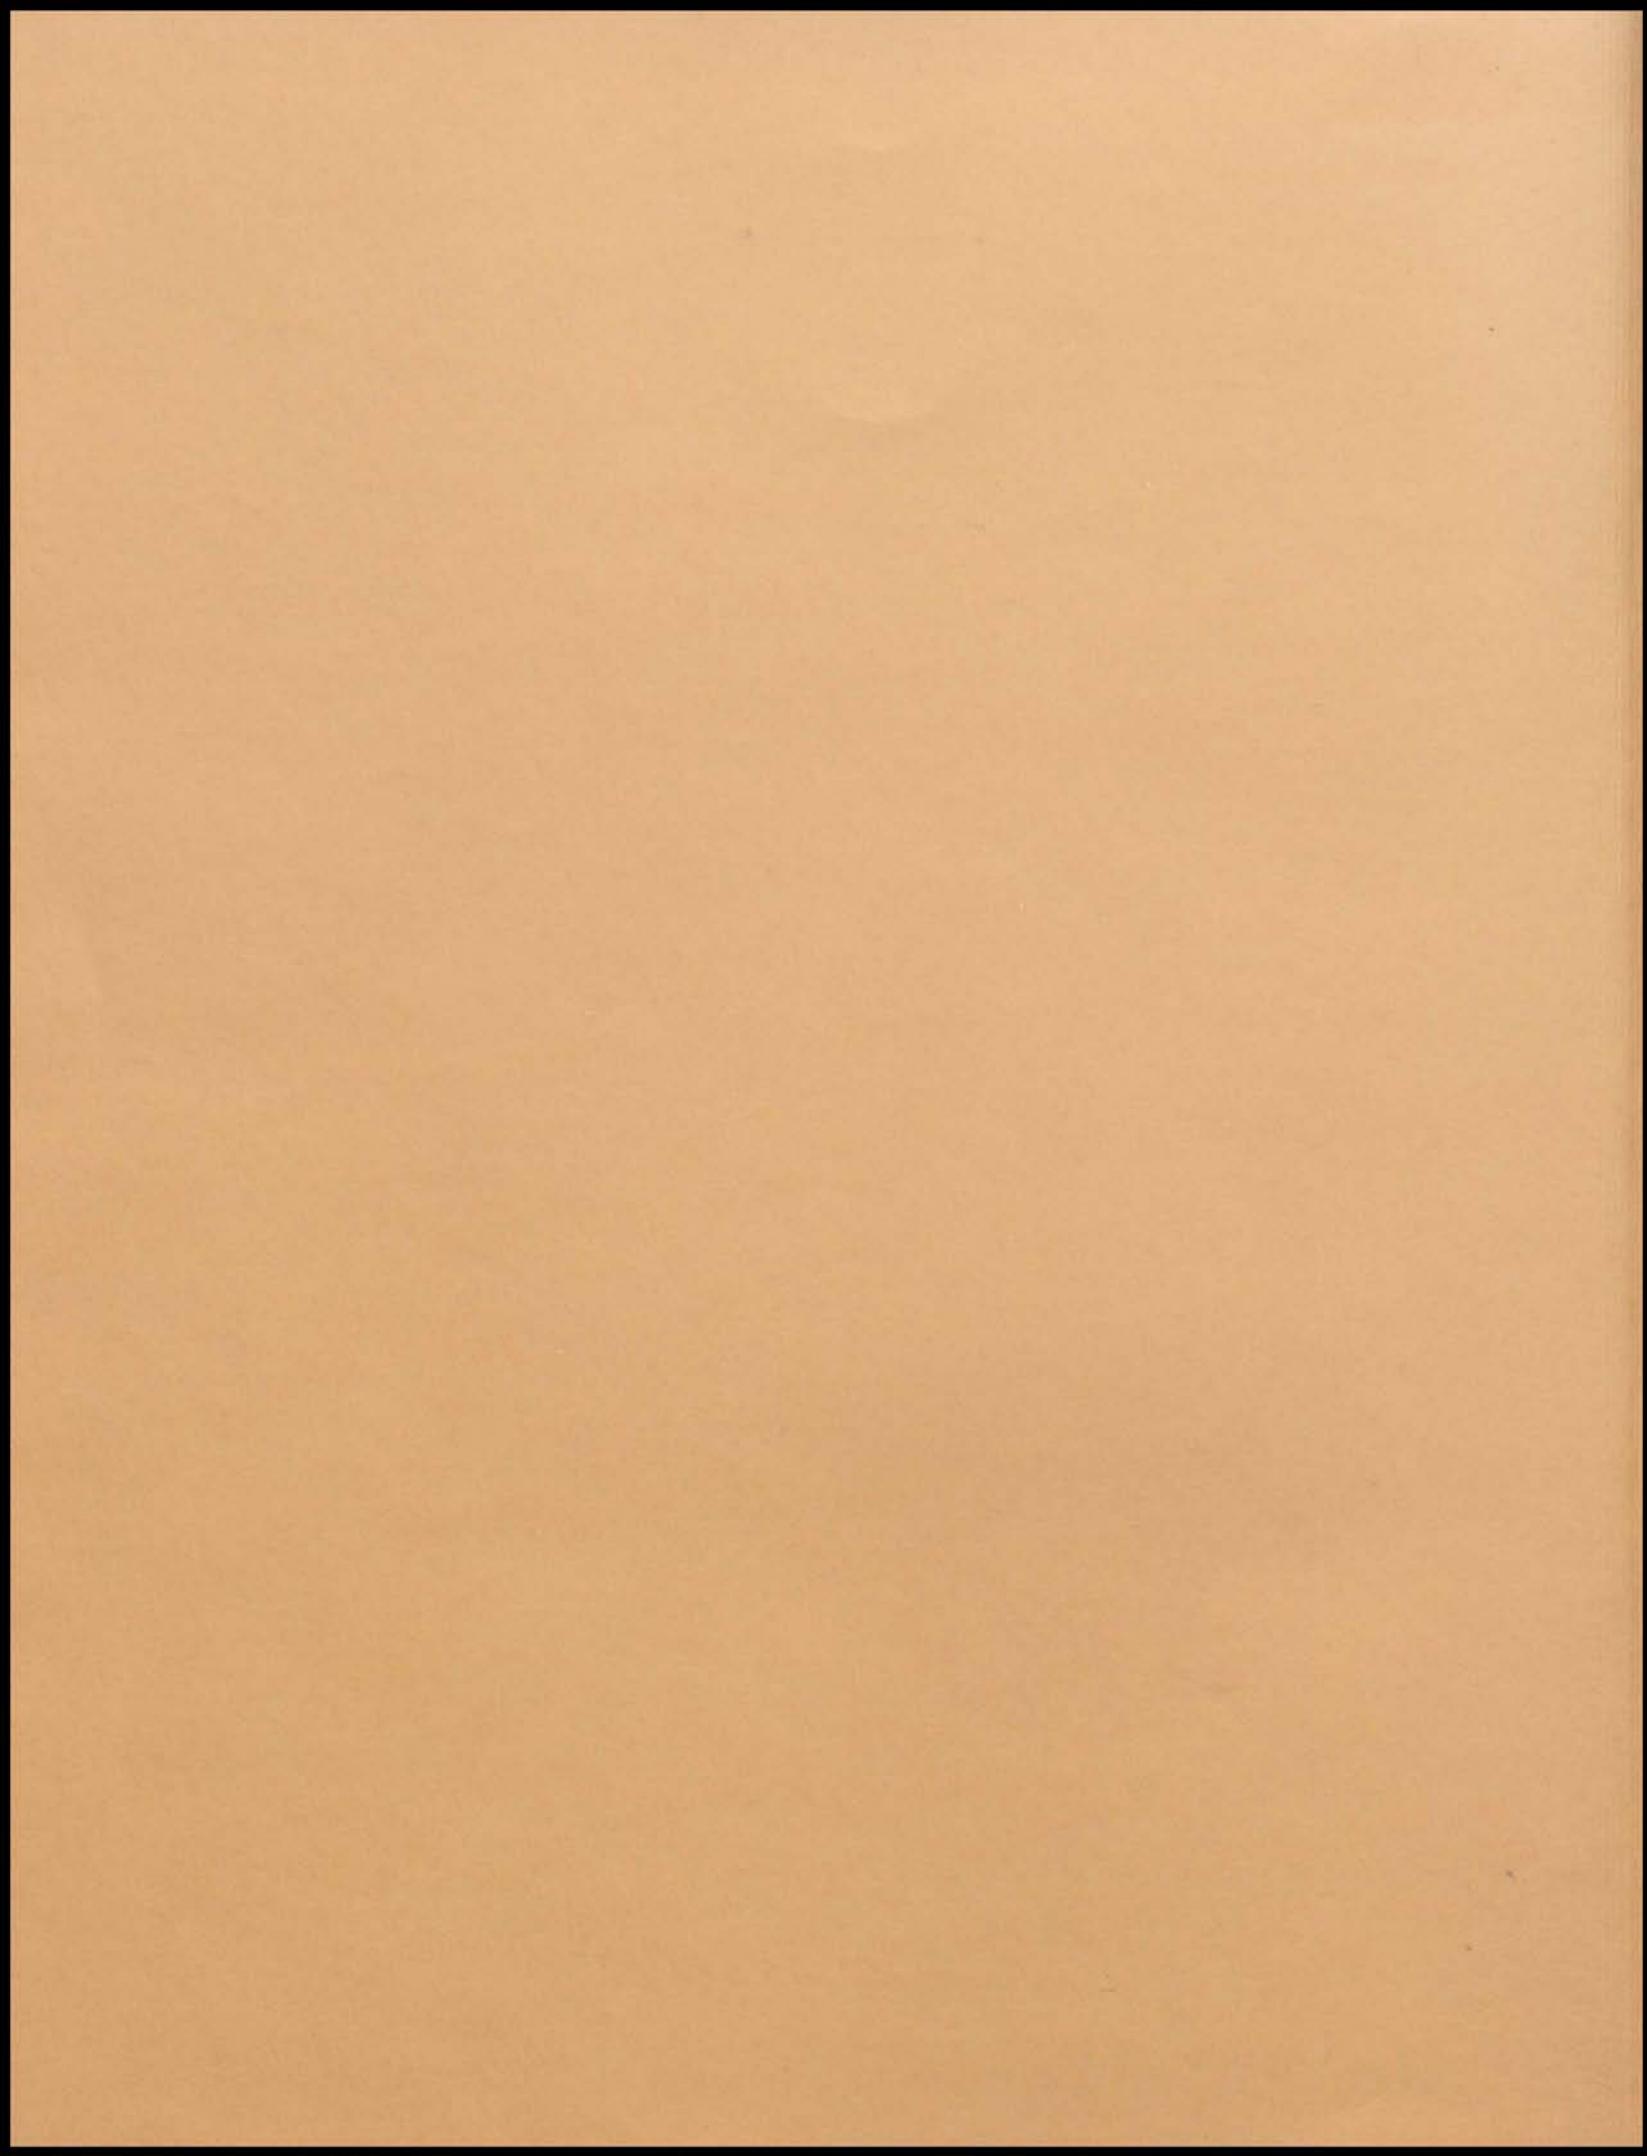

For many people, there would be a chance of returning and filling their remaining high school years with more memorable moments. But for others, the seniors, this era would end; they would both miss and be missed by friends.

Over these four short years, faces, personalities, and ideas developed into a completed image—each, a unique individual.

goodbye...

Welcome to tonight's game. We of the Petoskey Athletic Department are very proud of our teams and fans that support our programs. It is this support that makes it possible to expand our sports programs. Approximately half of our student body is involved on one of our 20 Petoskey teams. Our coaches, staff and athletes appreciate your support.

NORTHMEN NOTES

By Jerry Rosevear
Sports Editor
Petoskey News-Review

Tonight the Northmen host Grayling and on the line is leadership in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference.

Coach Paul VanWagoner's charges, 4-2 overall, are perfect in the M-HSC (4-0) while Grayling is right behind at 5-1.

A Grayling win plus a victory by Cheboygan (4-1) over St. Ignace tonight would send the loop into a virtual three-way deadlock.

This past Tuesday the Northmen saw their four game win streak snapped as unbeaten and Class A ranked Traverse City took a 75-63 victory. Grayling last played a week ago and whipped Rogers City with no problem.

Grayling's only defeat thus far was a one-pointer (62-61) to Cheboygan on the road. The Vikings have defeated Boyne City, St. Ignace, Charlevoix, Gaylord and St. Ignace to build their impressive mark.

On the league side Petoskey has beaten St. Ignace, Boyne City, Rogers City and Cheboygan.

The Northmen continue to boast a balanced scoring attack that has Steve Hewitt leading the way with a 12.5 average. Also in double figures are Jim Wareck, 11.2 and Mike Juday 10.5.

Grayling lost eight seniors from last year's fine 18-4 team but still return a number of experienced vets.

Key returnees are Jon Junttila, Bill Roach and Scott Hale while Brad Tranary, Tracy Fagen and Ted Methner also add scoring punch.

Elsewhere tonight Charlevoix is at Boyne City while Gaylord is at Rogers City in the battle of two winless league teams.

Jeff St. Louis of St. Ignace is far out in front of the scoring race with a 27.4 average which is a record pace in the M-HSC.

Boyne City's Brian Vroman is second with a 19.8 average, Roach third (17.0), followed by Ron Sides of Gaylord (15.0) and Cheboygan's Todd Precord (15.0).

Several teams will be in non-league action Tuesday night while next Friday, in league games, Charlevoix comes to Petoskey, Grayling visits Boyne City, Cheboygan goes to Rogers City and Gaylord to St. Ignace.

The Northmen are idle this coming Tuesday.

NORTHMEN SIDEBARS:

—Petoskey's Freshmen cagers, coached by Charlie Wilson, are 4-0 headed into a game Monday against Kalkaska at the Senior High gym.

—Northmen wrestlers will be at the Pine River Invitational tomorrow while the girls volleyball team takes part in the Charlevoix tournament.

—Next competition for Northmen skiers is Wednesday at Boyne Mt. against Gaylord and host Boyne City.

The 1968-69 school year was the first year of competition for the newly organized Michigan-Huron Shores Conference. Charter members were Petoskey, Alpena Catholic, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Gaylord, Boyne City, Rogers City, St. Ignace and Traverse City St. Francis. In 1971 Alpena Catholic and Traverse City St. Francis dropped from the Conference and Grayling was added. The league is highly regarded throughout the state for the well-balanced programs and high level of competition.

High School activities programs will attract more than ten million participants this year. Nearly 50% of the student body of most schools will be involved in some phase of the interscholastic activities program. In virtually all of these schools, the interscholastic activities program will require school board subsidy of less than 1% of the total school budget. 50% of the students at one percent of the school budget.

The American College Testing Service recently completed a study which compared the value of four factors in predicting student success. The factors were:

- | | |
|--------------------------------|---|
| (1) High grades in high school | (3) High grades on the ACT |
| (2) High grades in college | (4) Achievement in extracurricular activities |

Three of the four factors were found to have no predictive value. The only factor which could be used to predict success in later life was achievement in extracurricular activities.

Educational investigators have conducted studies which demonstrated that students involved in interscholastic programs:

|--|--|
| (1) Find increased educational opportunities available to them as a result of their participation, | (3) Have better attendance records, and |
| (2) Have higher grade point averages than those who do not participate in activities. | (4) Fewer discipline problems than non-participants. |

Athletics and other extracurricular activities are a real-life competency test. Students learn to react in artificial stress situations to better handle real-life situations as adults. There are no other activities that prepare students as well as these.

This program is an Athletic Booster Club project. It is only one of the many things the club has done to support Petoskey High School sports.

Some of the achievements of the Booster Club have been:

1. Helped purchase new lights and scoreboard at the football stadium.
2. New wrestling mat.
3. Pole vault pit at the stadium for track.
4. Runway for the long jump and high jump pits for track.
5. Uniforms for the baseball team.
6. Pitching machine for baseball team.

7. Batting cage for baseball.
8. Timer for the ski team.
9. Dinners for Huron Shores champs – boys and girls teams.
10. Warm-up jackets for girls' basketball team.
11. Basketball scoreboard.

These many projects and others that may not have been mentioned have come from you, our signature supporters, and advertisers. For this we thank you!

Anyone is welcome to attend Booster Club meetings, which are usually held on Monday night at 8:00 p.m. in the High School building.
