PDL to Launch New Brand in Early 2022

The library board and staff approved a strategic plan a few years ago that started us on a path of expanding our user base and reaching more people in our community. One stop on the path has been revamping our branding. From the beginning to where we are now, this re-branding journey has been fascinating experience. All staff members contributed by completing a brand personality questionnaire and SWOT (strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, threats) Analysis. With that information we developed our brand archetype, or brand personality, including who we are and how we want to be seen by the community we serve. Petoskey District Library’s primary archetype is Everyman: we pursue connection, value a sense of belonging, and are humble, friendly, authentic, and down-to-earth. Our secondary archetype is the Sage: we explore spirituality, seek truth and education, and we are understanding, knowledgeable and guiding. With our brand personality complete, we were able to use it to create our new logo, tagline, color palette, graphic elements, and photo styles.

The Petoskey District Library holds an important place as the center of learning, discovery and connection in Petoskey and the surrounding areas. As we seek to maintain and expand our role as the epicenter of the community and build on our solid reputation in the community, it is important that we position ourselves with a consistent, recognizable persona across all modes of our communication channels and to all of our patrons. It is with this in mind that we are launching our new brand including a new logo, new color scheme and an updated look.

Bibliobag: A library delivery service

A new service for PDL cardholders who are either temporarily or permanently home bound. Get most library items mailed to your home at no cost. To find out more information, including eligibility call 231.758.3121 or visit www.petoskeylibrary.org/bibliobag

24/7 Lockers

Can’t pick up your library items during regular library hours? Choose to pick up your library items from our 24/7 entry lockers. Lockers are in the indoor entryway found at our east entrance off Mitchell Street. The purchase of the 24/7 lockers was made possible by a grant from the Petoskey—Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation. For more information about using a locker, please call or visit our website.

Pandora’s Box Film Screening & Conversation

For generations, people who menstruate have been shamed, ostracized, and silenced. We hope to spark conversation about period poverty, and inspire attendees to help end period poverty close to home by supporting Northmen Den through PDL’s product drive. During the entire month of December, we are collecting donations of maxi pads, tampons, and other hygiene products to give to those in need. Donations will be dispersed to area schools through help from Northmen Den and Zonta Club of Petoskey.

Pandora’s Box unmask the global pandemic of menstrual inequity and period poverty. From Maasai villages, to Mumbai and on to London, we meet young women who are forced to stay at home from school, or even drop out, merely because they don’t have access to menstrual supplies. We meet formerly incarcerated women in the U.S. prison system who talk about their struggles to menstruate safely while deprived of basic human hygiene.

I learned a lesson a few months ago.

In the last few months I have spent time in classes like “Transactional Customer Service” and “LEAP: Libraries Engage Appreciatively for Positive Change,” and reading books like Dare to Lead and Change Your Questions, Change Your Life. The theme I continually encounter is the importance of conversing and listening in order to move forward in this “confontational era.” I call it this because over the past year, some of my letters to the public have created quite a stir. This prompted me to begin thinking about why and how we ended up where we are, in this confrontational place.

Finding common ground and common beliefs is what connects people to one another and creates small bonds. These bonds help keep the civil discourse moving. It seems as if lately, finding commonality is difficult, in part, because a confrontational attitude appears the minute there is a perceived disagreement, and that creates a barrier for people to have conversations. (And yes, I’m talking about myself here.) Here lies the problem, without the conversation, the commonality will never be found, and a vicious circle of confrontation and negativity begins.

I learned a lesson a few months ago that strengthened my resolve to continue on the path of conversations.

MONDAYS • 3:30–5:00PM

Find your favorite characters in a book, or maybe in person again sometime soon!

Bang, bang, bang, went the drums.

The takeaway of this conversation is that finding that common ground is critical. Once two people can agree on at least one thing, it makes it easier to hear them as a human being and not just the “enemy.” Now we did not agree on some items, but at least for me, I learned ways that I can be more understanding of my language and verbiage and to make sure that I think about what my words mean and how they may inadvertently hurt other people.

While some conversations are difficult, it is worth the time spent to learn and understand in a deeper way more of the residents of our area. It is the library’s mission to nurture people’s minds, keep them inspired through discovery and be able to connect with everyone. We do that by providing factual and entertaining material and programs for the community. The public library truly is the great equalizer and we are here for the residents of our area. The Petoskey District Library truly is Your Place.

Here lies the problem, without the commonality we are, in this confrontational place. What I found out is that when someone was upset about something that I had written, I called them back because I wanted to listen, converse, and connect, to see where they were coming from. What I found out is that our commonality is the library and library services. They fully support the mission of a public library to support all people. That was our common ground. I was able to learn their perception of what I said, and how I said it. I understood where they were coming from, and I can now be more thoughtful with my words going forward.

Are you one of the hundreds of customers who visit the Friends’ Bookstore every year? Do you stop in monthly or weekly to see if new titles have been added to the shelves? Is the annual Big Summer Sale marked on your calendar? If the answer is yes, you have contributed to the huge success of Petoskey’s only used bookstore. Over the past ten years, you have helped generate more than $110,000 in sales, which has gone to support new library materials, resources, and events and programming. A Big THANK YOU for your support! Another thanks to the generous community members who continue to donate their gently read books that replenish the selection. If you haven’t yet visited the bookstore, please stop in any time the library is open. It is in the library’s lower level and has hundreds of books to choose from, priced 25¢–$3.

The Friends would like to offer a warm welcome to Cindy Zipp, the newest member to the Friends’ Board!

THANK YOU TO ALL LIBRARY VENDORS
OF THE FRIENDS OF PETOSKEY PUBLIC LIBRARY

USED BOOK SALES RAISED
$110,000+
OVER 10 YEARS TO SUPPORT
LIBRARY MATERIALS, RESOURCES, EVENTS AND PROGRAMMING

Are you one of the hundreds of customers who visit the Friends’ Bookstore every year? Do you stop in monthly or weekly to see if new titles have been added to the shelves? Is the annual Big Summer Sale marked on your calendar? If the answer is yes, you have contributed to the huge success of Petoskey’s only used bookstore. Over the past ten years, you have helped generate more than $110,000 in sales, which has gone to support new library materials, resources, and events and programming. A BIG THANK YOU for your support! Another thanks to the generous community members who continue to donate their gently read books that replenish the selection. If you haven’t yet visited the bookstore, please stop in any time the library is open. It is in the library’s lower level and has hundreds of books to choose from, priced 25¢–$3.

The Friends would like to offer a warm welcome to Cindy Zipp, the newest member to the Friends’ Board!

BiblioBag: a library delivery service

A new service for PDL cardholders who are either temporarily or permanently home bound. Get most library items mailed to your home at no cost. To find about more information, including eligibility call 231.758.3121 or visit www.petoskeylibrary.org/bibliobag

24/7 Lockers

Can’t pick up your library items during regular library hours? Choose to pick up your library items from our 24/7 entry lockers. Lockers are in the indoor entryway found at our east entrance off Mitchell Street. The purchase of the 24/7 lockers was made possible by a grant from the Petoskey-Harbor Springs Area Community Foundation. For more information about using a locker, please call or visit our website.

Pandora’s Box Film Screening & Conversation

For generations, people who menstruate have been shamed, ostracized, and silenced. We hope to spark conversation about period poverty, and inspire attendees to help end period poverty close to home by supporting Northmen Den through PDL’s product drive. During the entire month of December, we are collecting donations of maxi pads, tampons, and other hygiene products to give to those in need. Donations will be dispersed to area schools through help from Northmen Den and Zonta Club of Petoskey.

Pandora’s Box unmask the global pandemic of menstrual inequity and period poverty. From Maasai villages, to Mumbai and on to London, we meet young women who are forced to stay at home from school, or even drop out, merely because they don’t have access to menstrual supplies. We meet formerly incarcerated women in the U.S. prison system who talk about their struggles to menstruate safely while deprived of basic human hygiene.
