Employee Use:

Employees who engage in social networking for personal use must do so on their own time. If an employee is speaking about a Library related issue on his or her personal social networking site, the employee must identify that he or she is speaking as an individual and not on behalf of PDL. Employees may be subject to discipline if their remarks are determined to be inappropriate by PDL, as allowed by law.

The Library recognizes that the First Amendment protects a public employee's right, in some circumstances. However, when a public employee makes a statement on a social media site, the employee may not be speaking about a matter protected by the First Amendment. In some cases it may be difficult to distinguish between protected and unprotected speech, so each situation must be evaluated on a case by case basis.

Employees may participate in social media sites while on work time if they have an authorized business need and it is approved by the director, in advance. Employees must be aware that information they display or comments they make on library social media sites may be viewed by other users as representing official library sponsored information or comments.

Violations of this policy:

Postings and Comments which the Library in its sole discretion, deems unpermitted under this policy, may be removed in whole or in part by the Library or its agents immediately upon discovery by the Library (or its agent) without prior notice. The Library reserves the right to terminate accounts, ban or block users who have posted in violation of this policy on more than one occasion.

Reporting Violations:

Users may report violations of any Library policies by emailing:
